Extension of 1-Way Street Plan Delayed

Extension of Salem's downtown one-way street grid across newly remodeled 12th Street, previously scheduled for next Tuesday, will be postponed one week for installation of railroad crossing gates, City Engineer Harold Davis said Tuesday.

The one-way street changes, originally planned to go into effect with the crossing gates, were set for next week because of delays in delivery of the railroad equipment. But the gates, held up by a steel strike this summer, arrived in Portland Monday, Davis said, and Southern Pacific Co. representatives have advised that they will be ready for operation in two weeks.

The gates, traffic signals and one-way streets, then, are to go in operation 11 a.m. Nov. 27, Davis said. The traffic signals are to be synchronized with the crossing gates.

One-way traffic restrictions are to be extended east to 13th Street on Court, Chemeketa, Center and Marion streets, and northbound traffic only will be the rule on Capitol Street from Court Street north and on 13th Street from Center Street to Marion Street.

Crossing gates are to be installed at the 12th Street crossings on State, Court, Chemeketa, Center and Marion streets. Traffic lights are planned on 12th Street at State, Court, Center and Marion streets and at the intersection of Capitol and Union streets.

Trio Admits 'Bombardier' Act on Car

Three Keizer boys admitted Tuesday they were the "bombardier" who dropped a hatful of dirt from the Chemawa overpass onto a passing car, shattering the windshield and injuring one of the occupants.

Marion County Deputy Sheriff E. E. Clark Jr. said the trio was ordered to appear in juvenile court today with their parents for the incident which occurred last Saturday on the Baldock Freeway.

Clark said the boys, two of them 12 and one 13 years old, told him they were on their five-mile Boy Scout hike and had been dropping rocks on cars. They said they found a plastic rain hat under the overpass and filled it full of dirt.

It was this missile which smashed the windshield of a car operated by Bernard Mainwaring, Salem, Mr. Mainwaring was injured by flying glass.

Mrs. Reed, 78, Succumbs

Mrs. Ruth Leavitt Reed, a Salem resident almost 14 years, died Tuesday in an old people's home at the age of 78.

A Willamette University graduate who had lived at Jefferson and Molalla as a child, she went on to receive a degree from the University of Washington and teach 10 years before she and McClellan Reed were married in Portland March 25, 1912. Reed died about 15 years ago.

Mrs. Reed was active in the educational missionary program of the Methodist Episcopal Church and served for 10 years, about 1930-40, as state president of the Oregon Women's Home Missionary Society.

Born Feb. 9, 1878, at Fenimore, Wis., she lived with her parents about three years at Jefferson and 15 years at Molalla before moving to Portland.

She leaves a brother, Charles Leavitt, Portland.

Services will be 1:30 p.m. Friday in W. T. Rigdon's chapel. Interment will be at Riverview Cemetery, Portland.

Vet Department Pays $1,544,903 in County Taxes

The State Veterans Department has paid $1,544,903 in property taxes to the counties, the department said Tuesday. The taxes are for the 1956-57 fiscal year.

Average tax paid was $135. The Marion County share was $112,185; Polk County, $17,077.

The taxes are on the property being acquired by 11,407 veterans under the state farm and home loan program for veterans.

The veterans include their taxes in their monthly mortgage payments, and the department then forwards them to the counties.

Death Takes Mrs. Stewart

Mrs. Clara Stewart, widow of a former state legislator from Wheeler and Benton counties, died Tuesday in a Salem nursing home at the age of 90.

Mrs. Stewart's husband, the late James S. Stewart, was a Fossil newspaper publisher prior to moving to Corvallis in 1918 and later was employed by the State Land Board for a number of years.

Mrs. Stewart was a Salem resident for about 15 years before moving to Canton, Ohio, after the death of her husband in 1934. She returned to Salem in 1947. She was born June 15, 1866, near Grants Pass, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Knox, who had immigrated from Missouri by ox cart in 1852.

She was a member of Rebekahs and Methodist Church in Salem.

She leaves two sons, Ivan and William Halbert Stewart, both in Salem, and six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services will be 1:30 p.m. Friday in Clough - Barrick chapel. Burial will be in Belcrest Memorial Park.

Road Traffic Gains

Traffic on Oregon highways has increased three per cent over last year, the State Highway Commission reported Tuesday. Traffic at some points on major highways has increased 10 per cent.

Fringe Areas Urged to Fight Moles, Gophers

Moles and gophers don't stop working just because it's wet and rainy, Oris Rudd, Marion County's suburban extension agent, said Tuesday, as he urged "fringe areas" residents and farmers to continue the fight against these pests.

With the pressure of farm and garden work slackening off now, this is an excellent time to set a few traps and distribute some bait for these pests, Rudd believes.

"This time of year, some strychnine treated potato or carrot sticks might appear very appetizing to Mr. Gopher and cut next spring's gopher population considerable," Rudd said. He suggested Thallium treated angle worms as the tit-bit probably most attractive to the mole.

Keep Away From Birds
"Whether you're using worms for moles or vegetables for gophers, the important thing is to get the bait into the runway in such a way as to make it look natural to the rodents, and safely away from pets and birds," the county agent cautioned.

Moles are continually traveling back and forth through their sub-way system, looking for insects and worms which have dropped in, Rudd continued. In baiting moles, the gardener must capitalize on this fact. Seal the hole through which you drop the bait into the runway. Being extra sensitive to light and air, moles will avoid areas where light and air are getting in.

Set Traps Right
The out-of-sight mole trap is very effective if it is properly set, proper setting means, chiefly, carefully concealing the trap. It should be set so that the jaws straddle the runway, but not protrude into it. Moles are used to having their runways caved in by animals such as mice, so are not suspicious of a plugged runway.

When baiting gophers it is also important to seal the hole again after putting in the bait, according to Rudd. The gopher has no particular aversion to light and air, but likes to keep his runway closed for protection from snakes, other rodents, cats and dogs. Because of this whenever the gopher detects a breach in his runway, he begins to gather some soil and proceeds to move it along ahead of him toward the breach. In this way he will almost always bury bait placed near an open hole.

To trap the gopher you can capitalize on this habit by opening a hole into his runway and placing two traps, one each way from the opening. The cinch trap lends itself very well to catching gophers by this method.

School Reporter North High Annual Overhauled

North's yearbook staff, edited by Jackie Posvar, is working on an annual that will be different from the past.

The staff is planning to include more photos and illustrations in the yearbook.

North Salem High's girls' trio, the "Harmonettes," will sing at a Salem Lions club luncheon next week. Helen Manke, Margaret Bolt and Darlene Goodman comprise the trio and are accompanied by Sue Budd.

Permit Let North High Music Wing

A $99,000 building permit to add a music wing to North High School was issued Tuesday by the City Engineer's office to the Salem School District.

Contractor Robert D. Morrow said the project calls for construction of a two-story high addition to the gymnasium wing at the high school to contain band and orchestra practice rooms and a little theater.

Funds for the addition were included in a $2,900,000 bond issue approved by voters last February.

Permits were also issued yesterday to the tenant at 350 Bellevue St. to alter a one story dwelling for $200, and The Crockett Co. to erect outdoor advertising signs at 2350 S. Commercial St. and 2440 E. State St. at a cost of $100 each.

Death Claims G. W. Shaffner

Grant Wesley Shaffner, 1290 Fir St., died Tuesday morning at his home, apparently of a heart attack. He was 64.

A Metropolitan Life Insurance company agent for 20 years, he had been retired for several years because of a heart ailment.

He had been a Salem resident since 1922. Born Aug. 10, 1892, at Pierre, S.D., he was a 1916 graduate of University of Oregon and a veteran of World War I. He was a member of Elks for 35 years, joining in The Dalles and transferring to the Salem lodge.

He and Juanita Ferri were married in Portland about 35 years ago.

Besides his widow, he leaves two brothers, Donald W. and Arthur R. Shaffner, and three sisters, Mrs. Florence Hart, Mrs. Bertha Wells and Miss Grace Shaffner, all of Eugene.

Services will be 10 a.m. Saturday in W. T. Rigdon's chapel, with ritualistic services by Salem Elks Lodge 336. Burial will be in Westlawn Cemetery, Eugene. The Rev. Gerald Emerson will officiate.

Cahill Behind Oregon Prison Walls 2nd Time

Otto Cahill, Delake, under one year penitentiary sentence for misappropriating $750 belonging to the Tait-Nelscott-Delake Water District, entered the institution for the second time here Tuesday.

He previously entered the prison last June but was released a few days later when the State Supreme Court stayed execution of his sentence pending disposition of his appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Cahill was delivered at the prison Tuesday by B. Richard Anderson, his attorney from Newport, and was accompanied by Mrs. Cahill.

Convicted in Polk County
He was convicted in the Polk County Circuit Court on a charge of venue from Lincoln County. In addition to the penitentiary sentence, he was fined $1,500.

The State Supreme Court, in an opinion sometime ago, affirmed the Polk County Circuit Court conviction.

Cahill, at the trial in the lower court, contended he was innocent and that he had returned the money to the treasurer of the water district. An alleged receipt for the money introduced in evidence at the lower court trial was branded a forgery.

Made Charges
He first became prominent in Lincoln County two years ago when he charged that vice and corruption were rampant in that area.

Only indictment returned by the grand jury was against Cahill on the misappropriation charge. He will be subject to release on parole at the end of seven months provided such a recommendation is made by the State Parole Board.
