

One Will Be Chosen Carnival Queen . . .

Statesman's HOME
Panorama
 Women . . . Music . . . Fashions . . . Features
 (Sec. III) Statesman, Salem, Ore., Sun., Dec. 2, 1956

Providing medieval music for the English drama, "The Second Shepherds Play" presented at the annual Christmas Musicales of the Salem Branch, American University Women on Dec. 9, will be (in front, left to right,) Bill Shannon, tuba, son, trombone, and Bob Ellis, baritone. The trumpet players are Larry Kimble, Fiske. The young instrumentalists are students at the Willamette University Music.

Members of the cast for the medieval English drama, "The Second Shepherds Play" include, left to right, Ranny deWeese, Allan Stevens and Lee Golden, the shepherd, David Perry, kneeling, who plays the comic role of Mak; and Donna Stone, who plays the role of the Virgin Mary. Murco Ringnald is directing the play for the AAUW Christmas Musicales on Dec. 9 at the First Methodist Church at 3 p. m. (Kennell-Ellis Photos).

Making an extended visit in the capital are Mrs. Edgar Framm and children, Catherine, Barbara and Hedi, above, who with Mr. Framm, are guests at the home of her parents, Justice and Mrs. Hall Lusk. The Framms recently returned to the states from Dusseldorf, Germany, where they have been the past three years. Mr. Framm is with the Bank of America. (Kennell-Ellis Studio).

Newcomers in the capital are Mrs. Ted Carlson and daughters, Vicki and Joni at the right, who moved here the past year from Corvallis. Mr. Carlson is on the staff of KSLM. The family is now settled in a home on Evergreen Avenue. (Kennell-Ellis Studio).

From New York have come Mrs. Raymond A. Schneider and children, Karen, Kristen, David and Thad. They make their home in Salem. Dr. Schneider is associated with Dr. Thad Moreland. The Schneiders have a home on North Summer Street. (Kennell-Ellis Studio).