

Film Premiered on Life, Work Of 'Jungle Doctor' Schweitzer

By MARK BARRON
NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—A documentary film on the works and life of the famous "Jungle doctor" had its world premier in "Albert Schweitzer" at Broadway's Guild Theater today.

Produced in color by Jerome Hill and Erica Anderson, it is a dynamic, extraordinarily moving story in which Dr. Schweitzer plays himself. Five years in the making, the producers made six extended trips to film the events around the hospital which the world-renowned physician has long operated in the hospital-village in Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa.

Childhood Village
They also brought Dr. Schweitzer back to his childhood village of Gumbach, France, to make part of the film.

Dr. Schweitzer, regarded as one of the world's greatest living men, has won world fame as a physician, missionary, philosopher, theologian, biographer and organist.

The son of an evangelical pastor, he was born in 1875, was a preacher in Strasbourg's Church of St. Nicholas at the age of 24 and he devoted himself to preaching, teaching and music until he was 30. It was then he decided to study medicine and to further his plans for his "reverence for life" concept of philosophy.

Fundamental Principle
"Reverence for life affords my fundamental principle of morality, namely, that good consists in maintaining, assisting and enhancing life," he explains in the film. "Destroying, harming or hindering life is evil."

Mechanic Takes Plane, Crashes

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 (AP)—An airline mechanic took a two-engine training plane from an Idlewild Airport hanger without authority Saturday, took off and flew it 200 feet into the air, then crashed to his death.

Pan American World Airways tentatively identified the crash victim as Allen Adler, 20, of Brooklyn, a mechanic's helper who had been with the company about a year.

The Pan American assistant operations manager, Willis Putnam, said the plane was a DC3.

Mercy Death Law Asked in New Jersey

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 20 (AP)—A law allowing painless mercy deaths for persons suffering incurable diseases has been asked from the New Jersey Legislature.

A petition, circulated among state legislators here, calls for the legalization of euthanasia. It bears the names of 166 N.J. doctors.

Some of the doctors, however, expressed surprise that they were supposed to have signed the petition.

Early last year, a petition similar to the present one was sent to members of the New York Legislature over the names of 1,776 N.Y. doctors. Copies were mailed to members of the N.J. Medical Society who were asked to indicate either their support of the petition or their disapproval.

Members of the Board of Trustees of the N.J. Medical Society said the petition represents the private views of doctors. The board will issue a formal statement here Monday, giving its official views.

It is expected the board will go on record against euthanasia legislation according to board members.

Yemen to Retain Treaty With British

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 20 (AP)—The government of Yemen has decided against cancelling its treaties with Britain, the Yemenite minister to Egypt, Abu Rahman Abu Taleb, said today.

He said that because "Britain has violated the treaties by attacking Yemen's territory" Yemen had the right to abrogate the 1934 and 1950 treaties fixing the border between Yemen and the Aden protectorate.

"But we do not choose to do so," the minister told newsmen. "Yemen holds to her rights contained in these two agreements and requests that Britain respect them as well as the United Nations Charter."

Abu Taleb charged that British forces have penetrated 35 miles inside Yemenite territory. British officials deny their forces have crossed the frontier, saying they have been sent against Yemenite tribesmen invading the Aden protectorate.

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP)—Opera singer Endre Muller, a refugee from Hungary, told on arrival here how he knew it was time to get out of Budapest. When a Russian official called him mister instead of comrade, he said, "I knew things were bad for me. I escaped at once."
