Scientists Optimistic About Earth Satellite

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—The men who have the tricky job of launching an earth satellite say they are optimistic about the prospect of success on the first attempt—but they have their fingers crossed.

Despite the meticulous, step-by-step testing of each component, the artificial earth satellite system is so complex and unprecedented that scientists may not attain their goal when the button is pressed for the first full-scale try.

Tito Visit Decision Due Soon

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—Final decisions are due soon on whether President Tito of Yugoslavia should visit the United States in late April.

At the same time there are signs that the Eisenhower administration, under a policy of strengthening Tito's position as an independent Communist, will eventually resume sending military aid to Yugoslavia. The scheduled deliveries include a number of older-type jet fighter planes.

Higher-Cost Homes' Hurts U.S. Builders

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today the nation's home builders are "committing suicide" in aiming at the upper-income market.

The only way the industry can prosper, the Alabama said in an interview, is by producing homes within the reach of all, and particularly middle-income families.

Freezing Rain Grips Area in Middle West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Freezing rain and drizzle left a treacherous glaze over the Southern Plains into the Ohio Valley Sunday.

Glazing conditions which began in northern Texas Friday night spread across the lower Mississippi Valley into western Kentucky and Tennessee Saturday night. Fog covered most of the Southeast while rain or drizzle extended from the Texas coast into southwestern Virginia.

At least 13 deaths, seven in plane accidents, were attributed to the fog, rain and ice that has plagued northern Texas for nearly two days. Transportation schedules were short-circuited and highway departments warned motorists to stay off highways.

Temperatures early Sunday ranged from 9 degrees in the Panhandle to 66 at Brownsville in southern Texas. Thunderstorm activity occurred with the rain, but the Weather Bureau forecast warmer weather Sunday night and a possible end to the ice storm.

Baby Born in Bus

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Vassiliki Bakalis was riding an Agrinio Co. bus in south-central Greece when labor pains began. The conductor and a woman passenger delivered a baby girl. The child, the bus company announced, can ride free on any of its vehicles all her life.

Isle Has Drought

TOKYO, Jan. 27 (AP)—A Coast Guard ship has delivered 10 tons of water to Toshima Island—60 miles south of Tokyo, population 370. The island is having its worst drought in 18 years. Ten tons of water will last it six days.

perhaps sometimes late this year. The huge three-stage rocket designed to carry aloft the 20-inch metallic ball might not fire or it might not put the sphere into the precise orbit desired by the scientists. Also, any one of several seemingly minor but immensely important other errors might occur.

"No Embarrassment"
Scientists emphasize that any failures or faults in the first, or even the first several launches should not be viewed with embarrassment. If desired results aren't obtained, the first full-scale try will become just another in the progressive steps toward eventual success.

Navy and civilian scientists of Project Vanguard already have made a test firing of a rocket somewhat similar to that which will be used as the first-stage motor.

Months of Work
A report yesterday that the Air Force's first effort to launch a Thor Intermediate-Range Ballistic Missile went awry demonstrates the impossibility of guaranteeing success in an initial attempt. Months of work had gone into assembling and checking and rechecking the missile. But in the firing attempt last week the missile was reported to have crashed to the ground almost immediately upon becoming airborne. The Pentagon would neither confirm nor deny this report.

Other issues include a demand by scores of House members that the United States break relations with the Red satellite government of James Kadar in Hungary. The State Department is reported to be strongly opposed to a break on the ground that it would accomplish no positive result.

Relations between this country and Yugoslavia are among the questions on which Secretary of State Dulles and his aides may face new congressional battles once their present fight for Eisenhower's Middle East program is finished.

Escapee Caught After 22 Years, Returns to Jail

DES MOINES, Jan. 27 (AP)—George Dietrich, 53, who "had a good life" for 22 years before his identity as a Wisconsin prison fugitive caught up with him, prepared today to return to prison.

Harvey Priem, a guard from the Wisconsin prison at Waupun, arrived by train and planned to depart with Dietrich later today. Dietrich has waived extradition and says he is anxious to serve the remainder of his term and start life anew.

Dietrich had served nearly three years of a 15-year burglary term when he walked away from a Wisconsin prison farm in 1935. Since then he has worked as a farm hand and a mental hospital attendant in Minnesota and Iowa. He also remarried after his escape and his wife, Anna, says she will wait for him.

Dietrich was identified as a fugitive after his fingerprints were taken when he was fined $35 for reckless driving at Fort Dodge, Iowa, earlier this month. Dietrich faces possible additional prosecution in Wisconsin for escaping custody.
