Sacred Heart Juniors Win Honor

By LOUISE SCHROEDER

The junior class of Sacred Heart Academy won the good sportsmanship banner for the basketball season. The awarding of this banner is based on points earned by the classes in regard to the team, cheerleaders, and class attendance. Runners-up for the banner were sophomore, second place; senior, third; and freshman, fourth.

The best of the all-star cheerleaders were: Louise Schroeder, junior; Beverly Polensky and Joan Korn, sophomores.

The tournament cup was presented to the captain of the junior team, Joan Gray.

Winners of the annual stamp drive have been announced. Top winner was Anne Fickert, sophomore. High sellers in each room were: Jo Anne Rak, senior, Margie O'Connor, junior, Judy Neilson, sophomore, and Marge Wilson, freshman.

Honorable mention went to Carol Flicker and Janice Ebner, seniors; Clovaley Rohr, Dorothy Tharlson, Marilyn Ripp, Sue Van, Mary Alice Weissbeck, and Louise Schroeder, juniors; Marie Stienner, Donna Strauch, Donna Hubbs, Naida Woelk, and Shirley Weissbeck, freshmen; and Roberta Schlaugter, and Marguerite Schmidt, sophomores.

The Sacred Heart Banner was awarded to the room with the highest number of points, the junior B. Other classes, in order, were: freshmen A, sophomore B, senior, freshman B, junior A and the sophomore A.

Two Sisters of the Holy Names, Sister Margaret of Saint Dominic, visiting diocesan supervisor, spoke to the students last week.

Mother Mary Mark, the provincial of the Holy Names for the province of Oregon, will pay a visit to the school on Thursday. In connection with Saint Patrick's Day, the class officers gave a party for the students on Friday. As a result of a drawing, Mary Jo O'Brien and Jo Ann Weigel were awarded miniature elf-like statues. Naida Woelk showed the students how to "kiss the Barney Stone," and Audrey Carey, Mary Davison, and Linda Coleman were selected to dance the Irish Jig. The basketball teams and all who took part in the tournament, were given a party Tuesday night.

South High Braces for Remainder of School

By KAREN HARRIS

The remaining 10 weeks of school was met this week with new courage as South Salem High School students returned from nine days of spring vacation. Seniors attended an assembly Tuesday presented by Randall Crawford on "Our Latin American Neighbors of Mexico," a living story of the many "Mexicos," the Aztec, the Toltec, the Maya and others.

The colored slides and oration traced Mexico's story of family life, religious life, community activities, history and heritage and their enjoyments.

Commercial Club, a club made up of girls who take business courses or typing at South, will sponsor a noon dance Thursday, entitled, "What's in a Package?"

Five boxes containing various articles, including the main prize of two theatre passes, will be auctioned off at the dance by senior Dale Bunsie.

Poster Committee members Pat Coe, Helen Dodge and Gloria Swartz, Sharon Sauer and Glenda Fox will be in charge of music and microphones. Collecting money will be Nancy Ladd and Helen Dodge. Nancy Ladd will be in charge of the prizes and Judy Woods will make the announcements.

Money collected from the dance will be used for a coming benefit project and a banquet at the end of the year.
