'Marriage' Without Clergy Leaves Scar

Dear Ann Landers:

I was married without a priest, and I feel a little bit of a "scar" on my heart. I was married in a hotel room, and I feel that I should have had a priest to bless the union. I feel that I should have had a priest to bless the union. I feel that I should have had a priest to bless the union.

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: If a man pays a woman's rent for six and a half years, allows her to open up charge accounts in the city's leading stores under the name of "Mrs. ———", takes her on lovely trips, introduces her around as "his better half" AND if that woman divorced a fairly decent husband because this man asked her to give up her son in the bargain, cut herself off permanently from family and old friends, passed up opportunities to meet and perhaps marry several interesting and well-to-do men and stayed faithfully by the side of her sweetheart, showering him with love, devotion and tender care... what are HER rights in court if the heel suddenly decides for no reason whatsoever, to call it quits?

Please help me, Ann. The storm clouds are gathering and I want to throw the book at him—MILLIE

I'm no lawyer, Millie, so I'm unable to advise you on your "rights." But at this point, you should be more concerned with your "woogs."

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q I have been invited to a bridal shower but because of a previous commitment, am unable to attend. Should I send a gift to the shower?

A Yes, this is the proper thing to do.

Q Is it necessary to write anything on the card that accompanies a wedding gift?

A No. The card with your name on it is sufficient, as good wishes and congratulations are offered at the reception.

Q Is it proper for parents to include their children in introductions?

A Certainly. And they should teach their children at an early age how to make friendly acknowledgments to these introductions.
