

Ground Broken for Camp Adair Project

Business News Service
ALEXANDRIA, June 12 — Ground-breaking ceremonies opened at the new SAGE project at Camp Adair yesterday. The first crew of the Ross B. Hammond Company of Portland began construction today of the complicated defense air warning system.

329-Year-Old Bill Paid by Knight's Kin

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—Joseph M. White Jr. came over from Baltimore, Md., to check on his British ancestor—and got stuck with a little bill amounting to $5,000 that's been kicking around unpaid for the last 329 years.

The Rev. George Oakley, vicar of St. Mary's parish church in London's Willesden section, told today how he finally settled the account, a little matter of a christening and burial that have been on the church books since 1628.

Milk Production Down This Year

PORTLAND, June 12 (AP)—Oregon produced 151 million pounds of milk in May, a drop of 2 per cent from production in a comparable period of 1956, the state Department of Agriculture said today.

was held at the Camp Adair site with about 30 persons taking part, including the Hammond company, the Air Force, Western Electric Company of New York, and various engineers. Work was outlined on the project that is expected to take 18 months to build. Arthur W. Watson, resident engineer for Western Electric, will be the SAGE project supervisor.

Western Electric is the prime contractor for all SAGE installations. SAGE is the military term for "Semi-Automatic Ground Environment."

Bullioners of the Hammond company began clearing the ground today for the two major buildings in the project. One of the buildings will be a 270 by 150 foot plant housing the vast array of electronic equipment, and the other major building will be used as a powerhouse.

Cost of the SAGE project is expected to reach the $7 million mark. He said White showed up and announced himself as a direct descendant on his mother's side of Sir William Roberts, a knight of note in Willesden's parts some three centuries ago.

Cancer Kills Ziegfeld Girl Peggy Joyce

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Peggy Joyce, dazzling beauty Ziegfeld girl whose beauty was her source of millionaire husband, died today of throat cancer.

The famed glamour girl of the 1930s was married six times—five times to men of wealth and once to a count. She claimed to have been engaged 30 times.

At her bedside during her fatal illness was her sixth husband, Andrew C. Meyer, a retired banker of New York and Woodbury, Conn. She died in Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases, which she had entered June 1.

Her other husbands, in order, were: Sherburne Philbrick Hopkins, wealthy New York and Washington, D.C., society figure; Stanley Joyce of Chicago, a multimillionaire lumberman; Count Gustav Morner, the only one of her husbands who would not be considered wealthy; Anthony Easton of Palm Springs, Calif.; an English-born manufacturing engineer.

Court Authorizes Kidney Transfer Between Twins

BOSTON, June 12 (AP)—The Massachusetts Supreme Court today gave legal approval to the request of Leonard Masden, 19, of Shepherdville, Ky., that he be allowed to donate a good kidney to his seriously ill twin brother, Leon.

The court decision, handed down by Justice Edward A. Cousinich Jr., quoted a psychiatrist as saying Leon would die unless the operation is performed. The jurist added that a "grave emotional impact on Leonard would result and this would be further aggravated by the realization that it was within his power to have saved the life of his brother" if the operation had been performed.

Oil Industry Probe Asked

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Antitrust probes working for the Senate called the oil industry "a kind of sacred white cow" today and urged the Justice Department to investigate the control of oil prices by major companies.

The re-recommendation came from the staff of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee in an analysis and evidence gathered during the subcommittee's investigation of the American oilfield to Europe during the Suez crisis last fall.

State Grange Picks Eugene For '58 Meet

BEND, June 12 (AP)—Next year's Oregon State Grange convention will be held at Eugene.

Delegates attending today's session here accepted Eugene's bid in preference to invitations from Baker, La Grande and Grants Pass.

Some 35 resolutions are to be acted on before the five-day session ends Friday afternoon. Among those it already has acted on:

Opposed a federal aid program for the beef industry; rejected a proposal to endorse grain control in the John Day area proposed by Grant County Grange; decided to ask the state Fair Board and director of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition to allocate funds for county exhibits at those shows; recommended a pooling arrangement for better equipment use in forest fire prevention.

Newcomers Make Up Half Billy Graham's Audience

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—More than half of the thousands who showed up tonight to hear Billy Graham in New York City today were newcomers to his crusade.

A special train from Nashville brought about 600 of the Tennesseans to New York today to attend the crusade for the next three nights. Among them was Gov. Frank G. Clement and his family.

Repeatedly throughout the crusade the present in the audience from the first time have been asked to raise their hands. Officials said that consistently more than half of the audience in the category of newcomers.

A crowd of 17,000 was in Madison Square Garden tonight, bringing total attendance to 518,000. Of those, 347,362 of them tonight have stepped forward at Graham's plea to "surrender your life to Christ."

Graham told the audience that the crusade "definitely will close July 12." Previously the date, extended three weeks beyond the original time planned for closing, had been tentatively postponed by newsmen after the sermon Graham said he had other plans for continuing activity in the area after the July 21 date. He did not elaborate.

Boivin Sees Income Tax Rise Threat

KLAMATH FALLS, June 12 (AP)—State Sen. Harry Boivin, Klamath Falls Democrat, said yesterday a 65 per cent state income tax increase is a possibility for 1960.

He told a civic luncheon here the 40 million dollar surplus will be used up in two years. He predicted a 55 million dollar increase in the state budget.

"If the only source of revenue remains the state income tax, it will mean a 65 per cent increase," he said. "If I were doing it," he continued, "the 1959 session would present a double budget. The first one would be based on the near starvation budget of 1952. The other, or the second budget, would be based on the application of a three per cent sales tax with property tax off-sets."

"Then the people could make a choice. They could either let the second budget stand, based on the sales tax, or refer the sales tax and the departments would revert to the 1953 budget."

"Under the sales tax plan, he said, married couples earning about $5,000 a year would be virtually exempt from income tax payments.

Schrunk Urges All-Out War on Dope Addiction

PORTLAND, June 12 (AP)—Mayor Terry Schrunk Tuesday urged an all-out war on dope addiction.

The mayor sent a letter to Dist. Atty. Gen. Smith proposing a hard-core crackdown on both users and sellers of narcotics. He noted there is some belief all enforcement programs "should be aimed at the elimination and distribution of narcotic drugs and that the user should be ignored."

"I disagree with this theory in part," Schrunk said. "I believe in a strong and continuous program of eliminating the user from the street wherever possible."

Dope addicts cost Portland "a tremendous amount every year," he said, because they often become involved in safe burglaries, holdups, and prostitution.
