

Olives-pineapple veal cutlets, mashed yams and buttered cauliflower make a menu that's mostly cooked in a skillet. Stuffed green olives give the meat and fruit combination a welcome piquancy.

Skillet Dish Takes Fruit With Meat

New to skillet dish for these cold winter evenings is a combination of veal cutlets, pimento-stuffed green olive slices and pineapple chunks. The use of green olives is a delicious way to accent meat and fruit specialties, and you'll like the added attractiveness of the bright olive color. Try olives too, with flank steak in the stuffed flank steak recipe.

WAIT AWHILE

You probably know that roast beef should stand about 30 minutes before carving. But did you know that it's a good idea to give baked ham the same waiting treatment?

Here's something pretty luscious: coffee topping on rice pudding. The date rice pudding, made with egg yolks has a topping of meringue that's given a flavor of coffee (using the instant kind for speed) and almonds. It's really a company dessert.

Coffee in Meringue on Rice Dish

For an extra special treat, sprinkle sliced almonds on the coffee-flavored meringue topping to this tasty rice pudding. It is made of warm cooked rice, eggs, milk, brown sugar and dates. Serve it following a fine balanced meal of barbecued lamb ribs, squash, minted pear salad and buttermilk biscuits.

Combine Olives With Cheese

Cheese and Olive Puff is so good you'll be serving it often. Rippe olives give a stick-to-the-ribs quality and make this version a more substantial soufflé than any other you've ever made. Rippe olives give distinctive flavor that accent this puffy golden baked entrée. Carry a whiff of meat here, but plenty of sharp rippe olives satisfy.

- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

OLD FASHIONED

Pennsylvania Dutch favorite: Noodles cooked with dillweed. Use one-quarter teaspoon of saffron to four cups (1/2 pound) medium-wide noodles; add the saffron just after the noodles are turned into the boiling salted water.

Freeze S'wiches (Rhubarb Makes Bread Pudding For Convenience)

A batch of frozen sandwiches can come in handy says a University of Wisconsin food specialist.

Most sandwiches, properly packaged, freeze and store well for two or three weeks. And they can be frozen already put together if you like, just as fillings and spreads.

The food instructor said fillings especially good for freezing are: Jamcheese meats, sliced roast beef, pork ham, chicken turkey or an other left-over meats.

Diced beef, tuna, salmon, sliced cheese, cheese spreads, hard cooked egg yolks and peanut butter can be frozen separately—or combined with mayonnaise, creamed chives, softened butter, sliced or chopped olives or pickles to make a spread.

However, raw lettuce, celery and tomatoes should never be frozen, hard-cooked egg whites get tough and fruit juices soak into the bread.

To make the sandwiches, spread the bread generously with butter or margarine to keep the fillings from soaking in. Wrap each sandwich in moisture-vapor proof paper.

- #### RHUBARB BREAD PUDDING

Warm. Meanwhile, scald milk. Stir in 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt until dissolved. Pour over bread cubes. Cool to lukewarm. Blend in slightly beaten egg yolks. Stir in rhubarb mixture. Turn into buttered 2-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) about 30 minutes. Add cream of tartar and salt to egg whites. Beat until foamy. Add remaining sugar gradually and continue beating until stiff peaks are formed. Remove casserole from oven. Spread meringue evenly over rhubarb mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) 5 to 10 minutes longer. Serve pudding either warm or chilled. Makes 8 servings.
