Two Salem Senator players obligingly autograph balls for a quartet of teenage fans. Left to right are Barbara Todd, Judy Long, Glen Lukenbill, infielder, Vern "Poppy" Kindfather, pitcher, Shannon Dyer and Jeanne Scales. The girls attend a majority of the games and root for their "favorite" players. (All candid by Kennell-Ellis Studio).

Arriving at Waters Field for a Sunday double header are, left to right, Miss Marcia Neuharth, Miss Esther Wiege and Miss Minnie Neuharth. Checking their season passes is Pete Bigler, ticket taker. The three are ardent baseball fans and attend every home game of the Salem Senators.

Senators' wives share victories and defeats with their husbands. Accompanied by their children they try to attend as many of the games as possible, especially the Sunday double headers. Pictured above in the players' wives' box are, front row, left to right, Mrs. Carl Gunnarson, wife of the business manager, Carl and Eric Gunnarson; Billy Brenner. In back, left to right, are Mrs. Andy George and Eric, Mrs. Bill Brenner, wife of the Senators manager, fighting with Douglas, Mrs. Lee Walker holding son Lee and standing beside her is Susan and Mrs. Robert Doretto.

Enthusiastic rooters for the Salem Senators are Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Zosel, at the right, who attend nearly every game. In back are Jessica Burns of Walnut Creek, Calif., who has been visiting the Zosels, and Dirk Schoun. Mr. Zosel is vice-president of the Salem Senators.

Enjoying a cool drink during a Sunday double-header at WaterField are Dan and Linda Phillips, who accompanied their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Phillips, to the game. Jim Gillaspie is the concession boy serving the drinks.
