Civil Service Study Board Formed by Ike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — President Eisenhower today set up a five-member committee to study ways of improving the Civil Service System in top grade government jobs.

Acting on a recommendation by the Hoover Commission that steps be taken to establish a "senior civil service," the President told the committee to concentrate on posts paying $12,000 to $16,000.

In an executive order, he appointed the following committee members and asked them to report by Nov. 1:

Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University and former Office of Defense Mobilization director; Frederick J. Lawton, Civil Service commissioner and budget director under President Truman; Carter L. Burgess, president of Trans World Airlines and former assistant secretary of defense; Robert Ramspeck, vice president of Eastern Airlines and formerly Civil Service commissioner.

New Commander Of Portland Air Base Takes Over

PORTLAND, Aug. 12 (AP) — The Portland Air Base had a new commander today.

Lt. Col. Younger A. Pitts, from Colorado Springs, Colo., arrived here Friday, but did not formally take over until today. He succeeds Col. George F. Ceuleers, who left July 24 to become commander at Hamilton Air Force Base, near San Francisco.

Pitts, a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, has been a fighter pilot through most of his Air Force career.

Man, Machine Last

PARIS, Ont., Aug. 12 (AP) — Back in 1908 Harry O'Neal bought a binder for $125 to cut grain. He's 86 now and the old-style binder is 49 years. Both O'Neal and the binder are still going strong.

son chairman, and Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg College and former assistant director of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Three-Day Marriage License Wait Goes Into Effect in Oregon Aug. 21

If you've planned an August wedding and list picking up your marriage license as one of those last-minute items, better reconsider.

After Aug. 20, next Tuesday, a three-day waiting period will be on the Oregon statutes and you may find you're too late to pick up that important document and keep your date with the preacher.

Actually, the new law will mean a delay of five days, county clerk Henry Mattson points out. The day registration is made will not be counted and three full days must elapse before the license can be issued after application, he said.

Medical certificates required by the State Board of Health will not have to be returned at the time of initial application, Mattson said. However, they will have to be filed in the intervening time or at the time the license is issued.

Under the new law, enacted by the recent Legislature, the waiting period may be waived by the probate judge who is Judge Val Sloper in Marion County Circuit Court.

Hounds Fail To Find Lost Woman, 95

JULIAETTA, Idaho (AP) — Bloodhounds, plus ground and aerial searches, failed Monday to find any trace of a little 95-year-old woman missing in the primitive area near this north Idaho community.

Mrs. Rose H. Jewett of Juliaetta had gone berry picking with her daughter and son-in-law and was last seen at 5 p.m. Sunday. She is five feet tall and weighs only 85 pounds.

The three went into the primitive area north of Elk River Thursday for a camping-berry picking trip. Mrs. Jewett remained at the campsite while her daughter, Mrs. George Johnson, went picking berries with her husband.

They found her asleep when they returned early Sunday but she was gone when they came back later.

Bloodhounds from Grangeville and a helicopter from Elk City teamed with a volunteer ground search party of about 20 persons in the hunt for the little old lady. They found no trace of the woman as the search passed the first day mark.

Searchers said the bloodhounds easily picked up the scent of Mrs. Jewett where she was last seen but lost it quickly along the campsite perimeter.

Beck Jury Hears Beer Distributor

TACOMA, Aug. 12 (AP) — The Federal Grand Jury here looking into Teamster President Dave Beck's post-1950 income taxes today heard testimony from a beer distributor and his bookkeeper.

Testifying before the jury meeting in secret sessions were Irving K. Levint of Seattle, president of the K and L Enterprises, a beer distributing agency, and Levine's bookkeeper, Mrs. Ulrikke Hering.

Beck bought into Levine's distributorship after the Anheuser-Busch Co. of St. Louis sought to re-enter the West Coast beer market with its Budweiser brand.

Levine had told a Senate Racke Committee earlier that Dave Beck was regarded as having "connections" with the brewing company.

Mrs. Dave Beck Sr., Dave Beck Jr. and Dr. Alexander Grinstein, Beck's physician, all later received stock in K and L Enterprises which included liquor distribution in Alaska.

Irrigation Canal Near Madras Takes Youngster's Life

MADRAS, Aug. 12 (AP) — An irrigation canal near his home at Little Agency Plains west of here today claimed the life of a 16-month-old boy, Mark Andrew Bollenbaugh.

The boy fell into the canal while playing with other youngsters. Mrs. George Johnson, went picking berries with her husband.

They found her asleep when they returned early Sunday but she was gone when they came back later.

Bloodhounds from Grangeville and a helicopter from Elk City teamed with a volunteer ground search party of about 20 persons in the hunt for the little old lady. They found no trace of the woman as the search passed the first day mark.

Searchers said the bloodhounds easily picked up the scent of Mrs. Jewett where she was last seen but lost it quickly along the campsite perimeter.

Drainage Ditch Snuffs Boy's Life

HERMISTON, Aug. 12 (AP) — A 3-year-old boy drowned in a drainage ditch three miles east of Stanfield today.

State police said Michael Dallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dallman, had been missing about an hour when a search party found his body. It had lodged against a trap gate in the ditch, and rescuers have developed.

Chile's President Victim of Flu

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 12 (AP) — President Carlos Ibanez del Campo, 79, is a victim of the epidemic of Asiatic flu which has afflicted about a million Chileans.

Foreign Minister Osvaldo Saint Marie told reporters after a visit that the President became ill last Friday.

Officials Take No Chances at Con's Hearing

When Dupree Poe, one of Oregon's most notorious convicts, appeared in Marion County Circuit Court Monday, officials weren't taking any chances on reenactment of last week's sensational break from the courthouse.

Poe presented his habeas corpus arguments to Circuit Judge Victor Oliver of Albany with his left wrist handcuffed to his belt. Both hands were handcuffed while he sat in the spectators gallery.

Until convicts Leonard Miller and Andrew Taylor made their separate flight for freedom from a similar courtroom scene last Monday, convicts had been unshackled when they approached the bench.

Poe was unsuccessful in at least his third attempt to gain freedom from Oregon State Penitentiary on a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Oliver dismissed the proceedings at the close of the hearing and returned Poe to the custody of Warden Clarence Gladden.

Poe, in a petition filed last March, had sought his freedom on the grounds he was not allowed to appear in the courtroom during his trial in 1932 when he was convicted and sentenced to life for slaying a Silverton policeman.

Judge Oliver was appointed by the Supreme Court to hear the petition after the convict had accused two Marion County circuit judges of prejudice and a third had voluntarily withdrawn from the hearing.

Tavern Nuisance Charges Dropped

BURNS, Aug. 12 (AP) — Abatement proceedings against two Burns taverns were dismissed in circuit court here today.

District Attorney Luther L. Jensen asked the dismissals "without prejudice," an action that would permit further proceedings if necessary in the future.

The abatement proceedings were against the Central Pastime and Tajana taverns. The complaints charged they were nuisances to the community.

DO IT YOURSELF
GEORGETOWN, S. C. (AP) — One motorist with a droll sense of humor got the other guy to "let him park" his dirty, sleek new automobile parked downtown here. Written on the side was brief message: "Wash me."

Learn from a telephone man

Some 14 years ago, Ruby Dunbar settled happily for a home that's really wired for sound. She lives with loudspeakers in five separate rooms. She copes with three TV sets. And rarely knows which picture goes with what loudspeaker. "With a telephone man like Walt," she says, "you can't tell where the job ends and the hobby starts. And me? Well, I like it. For lots of reasons." Ruby is happy about all the special training that has come with Walt's job. She likes the way he's been moved up to an important job. And along the way she's been able to count on the steady pay that's meant a secure life for her family.

Walt, now an engineer, is sold on the telephone business. He's proof that good training, regular promotions and steady pay attract good people. And only good people can give you the good telephone service you want.

Working together to serve you better...
