Giants to Shift Ball Club to Bay Area

The New York Giants officially voted today to move their National League baseball franchise to San Francisco.

The decision, which came as no great surprise following nearfour months of increasingly strong indications that the Gi ants would quit New York, was innounced by club president brace Stoneham, Stoneham, wrive westward, said the club's board of directors voted 8-1 for the switch during a 212 hour meeting.

Stoneham said the Giants move to the west coast was completely independent of any decithe Brooklyn Dodgers might make to move to Los Angeles Both the Giants and Dodgers were given the goahead to move by the National League last May. A move by one club was not contingent

TRENT, Italy, Aug. 19 (AP) -Five French mountain climbers, caught in shorts and blouses by a snowstorm high on Sassolungo Peak, fought their way down to their base camp tonight. Seven other climbers trapped in this Alpine area were believed dead.

The French, including a woman, reached the Valtini shelter on the Sella Pass whence they had tackled the 10.400-foot peak near Bolzano yesterday. They were reported thoroughly chilled but otherwise all right.

A rescue party of 11 guides had tried unsuccessfully to find them. The guides turned back after getting half way up the mountain, reporting they had encountered snow up to their armpits.
