McBeth Memorial Race to Close Season at Holly-Bowl Tonight

The Capital Auto Racing Association, joined by drivers and cars from other race groups in the state, converge at Hollywood Bowl tonight for the Les McBeth Memorial card, the last of the 1957 season here.

All proceeds other than the government tax will be given to Mrs. Les McBeth and her four wee children, who survive the late race pilot who died as a result of burns suffered in a Portland track crackup early in August. McBeth was a veteran and popular member of the widely known CARA which is joining with other associations and the Valley Sports organization in arranging the benefit show. The Bowl and all facilities will be donated tonight also.

Time trials for the stock hard tops card will start at the usual 7:30 o'clock with the Trophy dash, heat races and main events to follow. Members of the CARA who are famous for their spectacular hard tops presentations have pledged to go all out to make the benefit show the most rousing of the season.

President Red Westman of the CARA has assured that between 40 and 50 cars will participate in the program. The only prizes they'll get will be trophies that are to go to the winners of the various events.

LATE LES McBETH
Benefit for his family

Individuals the pilots to watch will be Dave Cooke of Salem, who has already won the 1957 Oregon stock hard tops driving title; Stan Diers of Canby, the 1956 titlist; Ray Hiebert of Dallas who copped the marbles in 1955; Fay Ladd of Gervais; Jack Duncan of St. Paul; Jack Provost of Valley Junction and Westman himself. They have been the standouts in the season's regular events.

Tickets for the benefit show are available today at Meier & Frank's, Stevens & Son Jewelers, Jayson Men's Wear, Olson Florists, Pacific Auto Supply and C&K Lumber Yard. They'll also be available at the Bowl gates tonight.

red to get the final out. Tom Brewer was the loser.

Williams gained two points for a .379 batting average while Yankee Mickey Mantle, the runnerup, was 1-for-2, gaining one point for a .366 mark.

In the NL bat race, Cardinal Stan Musial was 2-for-4, gaining a point for .343. Willie Mays of the New York Giants, rained out at Pittsburgh, is second at .338.

Roger Maris and Dick Brown, who had tripled and singled for Cleveland's first run, led off the ninth with singles against Dick Donovan, who had homered in the seventh for a 2-1 lead. A walk and Al Smith's fly tied it and Bobby Avila's single scored the winner. Donovan now is 14-4, while Don Mossi, giving up Chicago's other run on Earl Battey's second-inning homer, won it for an 11-9 mark.

Connie Johnson and Billy O'Dell blanked the Senators on six hits with O'Dell relieving in the ninth to save Johnson's 14th victory. Bob Nieman's bad hop single and Al Pilarcik's double beat Truman Clevenger in the eighth.

Robinson Tells Press About Bribe Attempts

By MURRAY ROSE

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y. (Sept. 20 (AP)—Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson today disclosed that he had reported bribe offers of hundreds of thousands of dollars from gamblers and hoodlums but had never reported them because he didn't want to cause a lot of trouble.

Asked when the offers to throw fights were made, Robinson said all through my career.

In New York, Julius Helfand, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, said tonight that a public hearing would be held to investigate the charges and that Robinson will be called as a witness to testify under oath.

The date of the hearing will be set at a commission meeting Monday morning. Robinson defends his crown against Carmen Basilio the same night.

The champ introduced the subject of bribes himself in the midst of a long speech to newsmen before his final boxing workout.

The bombshell overshadowed Robinson's bristling, three round boxing drill in which he flattened sparmate Lee Williams with a whistling right to the jaw.

In his 90-minute presa conference with a roomful of newsmen, Sugar Ray touched all the bases. When money was mentioned, a subject that comes up often at his interviews, Robinson brought up the bribes.

OCE Faces Seattle '11'

OREGON COLLEGE, Monmouth, Sept. 20 (Special)—The 1957 Oregon College Wolves make their initial appearance of the grid season here Saturday night, facing the big and experienced Seattle Ramblers at eight o'clock.

Because of the background of the Seattle visitors—their personnel is made up of former collegiate players—they have been established as heavy favorites to win. The Ramblers have already played two games, defeating a Canadian team 42-0 in one, and the strong Humboldt Staters of California 13-0 in the other.

The Ramblers list such ex-collegians as Paul Mitchell, Idaho State; Jerry Esser, Phil Sprang and Nat Davis, Washington; Dale Lamb, Iowa; Harlow Stevens, USC; Frank Bly and Ed Johnson, WSC; O. L. Mitchell, Whitworth; Bill Castrow, Olympic; Dick Sharp, Wichita; Harv and Sandy Decartaret, CPS. The team is coached by Don Sprinkle, former CPS and U of Oregon man who is now in his tenth year as mentor and is sponsored by numerous Seattle business firms.

Coach Bill McArthur will start a lineup made up of a pony backfield including freshman Jim Bowles (155) and seniors Larry Buss (150), Wyman Gerhart (130) and Don Lumgair (165); seniors Barry Adams and Wayne Osborne at tackles, senior Marv Stone and soph Tod Sloan at ends, junior Jim Atkins and soph Ed Dougherty at guards, junior Les Brewer at center.

Gary Moose Mellinger at center and Bob Gates at halfback, both freshmen from South Salem High, will see plenty of action.

OSC, Oregon Rated to Win

Corvallis 90 miles south of Portland. The team will come to Portland by bus tomorrow afternoon.

Neither team is eligible for the Rose Bowl, Oregon State because it appeared there last New Years Day and Southern California because it is under conference discipline for recruiting activities.

It will be the fans first look at the new offense new coach Don Clark has installed at Southern California. Reportedly it is T-formation, but with the plays run off in high speed sequence. Is this Clark is handicapped by the loss of all seniors—ruled ineligible as part of the conference penalties—and by the loss through injury of regular ends Bob Voiles and Hilliard Hill.

Coach Tommy Prothro of Oregon State again using a single wing offense said he expects this years team to be even stronger than last years. His squad is in top shape lacking only reserve tackle Ed Rogers, who has an injured knee.

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 20 (AP)—The word is new when California opens its 1957 football season tomorrow at Memorial Stadium against Southern Methodist.

Pete Elliott, the Cal coach is new. So is Bill Meek of SMU. The California offense will be new—a split T featuring probably more running than in the past. The Texans from Dallas also operate out of the split T.

Both coaches also use the substitute team system attempting as much as possible to change players by entire elevens than by single men. They contend you can get better performance with that method.

Alsea Rolls Over Valsetz in BLMP

VALSETZ, Sept. 20 (Special)—Dennis Tichenor scored five touchdowns and drop-kicked three extra points, the latter good for two points each, for a total of 36 points as Alsea whipped Valsetz 54-36 in BLMP six man football this afternoon.

Mike Haines scored the other three Alsea touchdowns, the long one good for 62 yards.

Mike Egli and Bob Oliver each scored twice for Valsetz. Egli ran 57 and 52 yards and Oliver 63 and 71 yards. Dennis Douthit drop-kicked the extra points.

No Decision On Dodgers

Rockefeller Ups Offer to 3 Million

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Multi-millionaire Nelson Rockefeller today upped his offer to $3,000,000 to buy land for a new stadium for the Brooklyn Dodgers but was promptly rebuffed by Brook president Walter O'Malley.

Originally, Rockefeller—who is trying desperately to keep the Dodgers in New York—had offered $2,000,000 for the land on the downtown, Brooklyn, site which O'Malley wants for his team.

Rockefeller, and O'Malley met with Mayor Robert Wagner. The result of the meeting was Rockefeller's offer and a note of gloom on the part of city officials who had hoped to keep the Dodgers from moving to Los Angeles.

At one time during a pre-meeting photography session, Rockefeller joshingly said to O'Malley:

"It was nice knowing you."

Later, at a press conference, Rockefeller was asked if this meant the end of the Dodgers in Brooklyn.

"I think that is for Mr. O'Malley and Mr. Patterson (Arthur "Red" Patterson, O'Malley's public relations man) to answer," said Rockefeller.

He then was asked if he were disappointed in the result of the conference.

"If it means the Dodgers are not going to stay, I am disappointed," he replied.

O'Malley did not even stay for the entire meeting.

An hour before the meeting broke up, O'Malley left. He brushed past reporters who asked if he were returning.

"No. I've got a date," he snapped. That was all he would say.

After the meeting, Wagner issued a typewritten statement saying:

"At the conference this afternoon, I reported on the meeting I had with my colleagues on the Board of Estimate. After discussion, Mr. Rockefeller made a new proposal, in which he expressed a willingness to pay up to three million dollars for the land. Mr. O'Malley indicated that any proposal involving three million dollars priced the Dodgers out. I shall, of course, report back to the Board of Estimate."

City comptroller Lawrence Gerosa termed the plan a "giveaway of taxpayers' money."

Rockefeller countered with the statement that his plan would "keep the Dodgers in Brooklyn, rehabilitate a substandard neighborhood and benefit the large interests of the city as a whole."

Meanwhile, Los Angeles rushed ahead with plans to sign the Dodgers. The city council defeated a four-man minority of the 15-member body which was opposed to the city's proposal to O'Malley. City officials were hammering the proposal into legal shape and once it is finished it will be sent to Brooklyn for O'Malley's decision.

Grid Wars Open Big

Name Teams Face Tough Opponents

It's been a good many years since the big boys of college football have sneaked in a couple of easy breather games to open the season.

Today (Sat.) however, the 1957 season opens with a bang, and the national championship just might be unveiled, plus a couple of major conference titles. For instance:

1. Oklahoma, national champ for the last two seasons, throws a 40-game winning streak on the line at Pittsburgh against the dangerous Pitt Panthers.

2. Oregon State, defending Pacific Coast Conference champion, meets Southern California, the 1956 runnerup, in a night game at Portland, Ore.

Oklahoma will be the favorite over Pittsburgh, although coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners have lost 18 lettermen through graduation.

Oregon State appears to have too many returning veterans for the inexperienced Trojans. Duke has been called the team to watch in the Atlantic Coast Conference, but South Carolina upset the Blue Devils 7-0 in their conference opener last fall and they say the gamecocks could do it again. At North Carolina, Jim Tatum is supposed to be a year away with a solid title contender, but still is favored over N.C. State.

The television game of the day is Maryland, on the comeback, and Texas A & M, at 4 p.m., EST, NBC.

Smashing Win

Viks Crack Albany '11'

quist, John Socolofsky, Graves and Jim McCaffery. Three plays carried to the Albany 18 from where Graves raced around end to score.

Exactly three minutes later the sizzling Salems had another. Graves again launched things with another spectacular punt return, this one good for 47 yards to the Albany 14. McCaffery piled into pay dirt four plays later for a 19-6 margin.

The Viks set up their punt returns beautifully. Linemen made their initial charge but rather than try to block the Bulldog kick, they turned, joined members of the Viks' backfield and set up sideline "alleys" (a la Marshfield) for the swift Barnes to mobile through. The blocking on the unsuspecting Bulldogs was hard and vicious.

North Salem was off again shortly after, when Mike Kelley pounced on an Albany fumble on the enemy 36. Mike Kelley fired a pass to big Claude Layton on the Bulldog 3, which set it up for McCaffery to storm over right tackle for the third TD of the period, with 1:29 left. Wallace booted the point and the score was 26-6.

Still another Vik score hit the board before the halftime buzzer. Albany made the mistake of punting to Barnes, who reversed to Graves. He then picked up his "alley", jugged and zagged through the bewildered Bulldogs and raced 80 yards to the end zone.

The Viks understandably let down in the third period which was a scoreless deadlock even though Albany filled the air with Wilson's passes. Finally one of Wilson's heaves went awry, as the fleet-footed Graves plucked it off on the Bulldog 22 and ripped unmolestedly into the end zone. Wallace's conversion finished Salem's scoring for the night. But what a night!

Albany dominated play in the final canto as Fox inserted many reserves. Even so North Salem managed one fruitless drive of 87 yards.

The Bulldogs final TD came in the fourth period, with Terry Bayne scoring after Wilson had moved his team up the field with an accurate passing attack. Wilson made good on the final conversion try.

But by this time the North Salem rooting section wasn't much concerned with things afield. They were chanting, "Here We Come, South Salem, Here We Come!"

|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Albany | 0 | 0 | 0 | 7 | 7 |
| North Salem | 7 | 20 | 7 | 6 | 40 |

Albany scoring touchdowns: Seare (1 plunge); Bayne (1 plunge). Conversions: Wilson.

North Salem scoring touchdowns: Graves 3 (18 run, 23 pass interception, 80 runback of punt); McCaffery 3 (3 plunge, 3 plunge). Conversions: Wallace 3.

Officials: Al Lighter, John Kolb, Marv Goodman.

| South Salem | 0 | 0 | 0 | 6 | 6 |
| Milwaukie | 7 | 7 | 0 | 0 | 14 |

South Salem scoring: None. Milwaukie scoring: Touchdowns by Hart (62 run), Craig (8 pass from Albright).

Saxons Lose To Milkaukie

Teddie Brewster kicked the extra point for 7-0.

The Southsiders got the first of their two threats started early in the second period, going 53 yards only to fall heart-breaking inches short on a fourth down rush. A 24-yard stint by Gary Dallman, after taking a lateral from Keith Burres was the big gainer. Dallman was pulled down on the Milwaukie eight, but alternate slams at the line by Jerry Goertzen and Ron Harp failed to get the needed distance.

Later in the period, an exchange of punts set the Mustangs up on their own 20. Then quarterback Gary Albright unlimbered his throwing arm.

After an incompletion, he hit Hart with a 34-varder. His next toss was to end Dave Bottemiller. Defender Dallman, batting the ball toward the sidelines, deflected it into the lunging arms of Bottemiller. Bottemiller stepped out of bounds on the 10, after a 36 yard gain.

Hart then bulled for two yards. Albright followed up with another pass which found end Larry Craig all alone in the end zone.

Brewster thumped the point to make it 14-0.

A 31-yard return of the ensuing kick-off on a nifty bit of running Goertzen provided the Saxons with their other first half threat. eH was pulled down on the Milwaukie 35.

A pass interference penalty gave the Saxons the ball on the MilHi 20. Burres then hit Dallman with a pass for nine yards, another fell short and a third flip to Johnson netted seven. The halftime horn stopped the Saxons on the two.

Penalties hurt the offensive thrusts of both clubs. South Salem was charged with 75 yards, including four 15-yarders and the Mustangs had 82 yards stepped off against them, including six 15-yarders, two of which went for less than the maximum distance because they backed Milwaukie to the one-yard line.
