Business Outlook

Recession Length Worry to Country

By WALTER BREEDE JR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—How long will the recession last?

That question was uppermost in the minds of businessmen, wage earners and houswives this week as most key indicators still pointed lower.

Public officials thought about it, too.

Top administration leaders continued to talk confidently of a probable pickup around the middle of the year.

Administration critics were not so sure. Congress Democrats, predicting a long slump, introduced bills to boost state unemployment payments and create a new WPA.

Businessmen betting on an early upturn cited these hopeful factors:

Total personal income of Americans, they said, will be higher this year than last in spite of factory layoffs and loss of overtime.

Business inventories are shrinking and will have to be rebuilt. For some months now, businessmen have been living off their inventories instead of ordering large quantities of supplies and goods. This has contributed substantially to the business downturn.

Consumers Balky

Consumers, who have been balky of late, are expected to start buying again in the not too distant future. They will want and need new washing machines, autos and clothes.

Industrial production in some lines is lagging behind demand. The next two months may see an upturn in steel and textiles.

A fast-growing U.S. population will require continued building of schools, roads, utilities and houses in the years to come.

The speculative excesses on Wall Stree that marked the 1929 crash are conspicuously absent.

Prominent among the optimists this week was Carrol M. Shanks, president of Prudential Insurance Co., the nation's largest life insurance firm.

"We're pretty close to the end of the downgrade," said Shanks. "The real upturn may not come before the middle of the year but I believe it will be sooner."

Overshadowing all rosy forecasts was one harsh fact that no amount of statistical research could alter. For the time being, at least, the mighty American consumer had lost the urge to splurge.

Store Sales Down

Latest figures on retail trade for January told the story. Department stores sales slipped below the year-ago pace. Sales of Sears, Roebuck & Co., biggest of the nation's retail giants, were nearly 4¼ per cent below the level of January 1957. Business was off in the auto showrooms, despite millions spent by the auto manufacturers on gaudier chrome, longer and lower bodies, higher horsepower, dual headlights and other costly gimmicks.

Auto production last month was the smallest for any January since 1954 and down 23½ per cent from a year ago.

The steel industry sputtered along at less than 54 per cent of capacity this week. Republic Steel Corp., shut down most of its Massillon, Ohio, plant. The American Iron and Steel Institute disclosed it has reduced its 1958 capital spending budget to one billion dollars from last years 1¾ billion.

There were reports of further cutbacks in the aircraft industry. Boeing Airplane Co., said employment at its big Wichita, Kans., plant will be trimmed to around 22,500 by next Christmas. The plant had 34,500 on its payroll last October; current employment is about 28,500.

Tax Cut Clamor

It was against this background that some businessmen and congressional leaders joined in a mighty clamor for a cut in income taxes.

President Eisenhower indicated the administration is studying the possibility of a tax reduction as a business spur — but only as a last resort.

Treasury Secretary Anderson said taxes should not be cut unless business gets much worse. Said he: "The present condition of the economy does not warrant such action now. We continue to believe that growth in our economic system will reassert itself."

One of the strongest spots in the business picture this week was new construction.

The Commerce and Labor Departments reported that total outlays for new construction in January came to nearly 3 1-3 billion dollars — a new high for that month. Public spending on roads and other government projects was up 6 per cent from a year ago; private spending for public utilities, churches, hospitals and office buildings smashed all prior records.

Ousted Pupil Plans Worry To New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—The problem of what to do with 644 or more trouble-making pupils ousted from public schools confronted city officials today.

No one had come up with a solution that would keep them from remaining idle at home or roaming the streets, but state and city officials were hoping for an answer next week.

The mass suspensions yesterday stirred a chorus of protests from parent and other organizations, accompanied by a demand for a legislative investigation of the city school system.

The pupils were suspended yesterday in a Board of Education crackdown on juvenile delinquency. The 644 total was incomplete, as some schools had not reported their figures. There was no breakdown of the figures by race or sex.

The action followed a series of rapes, knifings and other disorders involving white and Negro students on or near school property. The principal of a school where a rape occurred committed suicide after testifying before a grand jury.

A statement by the United Parents Assn., was typical of the protests over the suspension. It said:

"Sending idle delinquents into the streets cannot be considered an answer. This could create a more serious problem."

Labor Demands Action To Curb Economy Lag

By NORMAN WALKER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders said today that with one-fourth of America's productive capacity standing idle, the government should cut taxes and increase spending to spur the lagging economy.

The labor leaders recommended boosting the present $600 income tax exemption by $100 to leave the little man with more pocket money and "quickly stimulate mass purchasing power and sales."

Expressing concern that spreading unemployment may soon reach the five million mark, the AFL-CIO chiefs called an emergency economic conference in Washington March 11-13 to arouse the government and Conyress.

'More Penny-Pinching'

They said that despite growing economic danger signals "emphasis on penny-pinching and budget-balancing is still a major policy" of President Eisenhower's administration and that his recent budget proposals were inadequate.

"This is no time for drifting," the AFL-CIO Executive Council said in a statement. "It is true that bank credit has belatedly been loosened and a slight increase in government outlays for national defense and civilian public works is planned.

Immediate Action

"In spite of President Eisenhower's reassurances this alone is not stimulus enough. Instead of vainly waiting to see if the situation gets worse in three months or six, vigorous steps must be taken now. Immediate action to end this wasteful and unnecessary business slump is essential."

The labor leaders called for a 10-billion-dollar annual boost in defense expenditures over the next two years, federal aid to economically distressed areas, school construction and other aid programs, and a boost in the dollar minimum wage to $1.25 an hour.

They pledged "vigorous collective bargaining" in 1958 to raise wages and worker income.

Counsel for FCC Probe Cries Smear

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Bernard Schwartz, counsel for a House subcommittee investigating the Federal Communications Commission, charged today that threats and "smears" have been used in an effort to sidetrack the inquiry.

Schwartz said the chairman of the special subcommittee, Rep. Moulder (D-Mo) told him several times last month that Moulder "was being threatened — threatened in an attempt to coerce him into abandoning this investigation."

The subcommittee counsel's statements were prompted by inquiries about a published report dealing with his own expenses in connection with the investigation.

The Tulsa, Okla., Tribune said today in a dispatch from Washington that Schwartz received $400 in expense money for four weekends in New York, the Tribune said part of the money was earmarked for hotel expenses, although it said he had his own apartment in New York.

One of the allegations made by the subcommitteee against some FCC members is that they collected expense money from the government and also from industry in connection with trips to trade conventions and ceremonies.

"These so-called 'charges' are the sheerest nonsense. The powerful interests who are afraid of what we are uncovering will stop at nothing to stop this investigation."

Schwartz said he received $400.73 for trips to New York last August on committee business. However, he said his expenses actually totaled $1,000 and that he paid the difference out of his own pocket.

Sales, Profits For Safeway At New High

PORTLAND, Feb. 8 — Safeway Stores in a preliminary unaudited statement issued by George M. Mangan, Portland division manager, reported sales and profits for 1957 at new all-time highs. For 1957 the company's consolidated sales amounted to $2,117,000,000, an increase of 6.4 percent over the previous year. Net profit for 1957, after provision for all income taxes, amounted to $30,906,876 as compared to $25,406,310 in 1956—an increase of 21.65 percent.

Safeway's net profit for 1957 after preferred dividends of $1,391,567 amounted to $2.48 per share, compared to $2.14 in 1956.

Uninsured Drivers Finding It Tough in Canadian Provinces

TORONTO, Feb. 8 (AP) — Faced with a rising toll from traffic accidents, most Canadian provinces are making it harder for uninsured drivers to use the roads.

Saskatchewan has the only compulsory automobile insurance plan, operated by the provincial government. The Canadian Press, in a nationwide survey, found support in almost every one of the other nine provinces for the idea but said spread beyond Saskatchewan does not appear imminent.

All the other provinces except Quebec require insurance or other proof of financial responsibility from drivers who have accidents. They also have unsatisfied-judgment funds to pay damages assessed in court against drivers without resources. Quebec has no fund and no insurance requirement for private motorists, but suspends a driver's license until he pays accident damages assessed against him.

Sickness Keeps Norblad in Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP)—Rep. Norblad (R-Ore) Friday said illness will prevent him from attending two Republican Lincoln Day dinners next Wednesday in Portland.

Norblad said he is suffering from influenza.

The two fund-raising dinners will be addressed by Secretary of Interior Seaton.

Salem Salesmen Qualify for Trip To San Diego

Two Salem insurance men have qualified for the Tower Club and trips to the San Diego convention Feb. 10-14 of the Northern Life Insurance Co., for sales leadership, J. C. Long, the firm's state supervisor said.

The two, J. S. Lochead and C. H. Dean, of the Salem branch office, competed with some 200 others in Oregon and from 600 to 700 nationally.

Over 50 representatives from Oregon will attend the education-recreation convention Feb. 10 to 14.

Embassies Created

JERUSALEM, Feb. 8 (AP) — The Israeli and Swiss governments are raising their mutual legations to embassy level.

Portland Junior Symphony to Give Premiere of Work

PORTLAND, Feb. 8 (AP) — A composition by the American contemporary composer David Diamond will be given its world premiere at the Portland Junior Symphony mid-winter concert Feb. 15.

The work, entitled "The World of Paul Klee," will be conducted by Jacob Avshlomov.
