Sun Life of Canada Pays $34 Million in Policyholder Dividends; U. S. Sales Up

Company sells total $917 million new life insurance in '57; $7¼ billion life insurance now in force; $155 million paid to policy holders in 1957.

Higher policyholder dividend payments and a new sales record for the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada are among the highlights of the year announced by George W. Bourke, president, in his review of the company's business for 1957. During 1958, Sun Life will pay out $34 million in dividends to policyholders, an increase of $2½ million over the amount paid out in 1957. New life insurance sold in 1957 amounted to $917 million, largest amount ever sold by any Canadian company in one year and an increase of $63 million over the old record set just a year ago. A substantial proportion of the new business originated in the United States, where Sun Life has 36% of its insurance in force. Included in the new business total was $243 million of group life insurance. Sun Life's insurance in force now exceeds $7,740,000,000, more than twice the amount in force ten years ago. Life insurance and annuity business combined is now the equivalent of $10,180,000,000 of life insurance.

BENEFIT PAYMENTS

The report also reveals that $155 million in benefits was paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1957. Of the total $49 million was paid to beneficiaries of deceased policyholders, representing a substantial contribution to family welfare. Living policyholders and annuitants received $106 million. Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries since the first Sun Life policy was issued in 1871 have now reached $3,226,000,000.

Mr. Bourke referred to the current level of death rates in the United States and Canada. Almost 60% of Sun Life death claims incurred during 1957 were due to disorders of the heart and circulatory systems. The proportion of claims due to cancer—19% of the total—represented the second major cause of death. There is an obvious need for extensive medical research and the Sun Life is continuing to make contributions for this important study, he said.

"I believe that the better informed people become as to the benefits of life insurance," Mr. Bourke said, "the more insurance they will buy and the more they will insist on programs carefully designed to cover their fundamental insurance needs. These needs are still so far from full satisfaction that we can look forward with every confidence to the continued growth and prosperity of our business."

A copy of Sun Life's complete 1957 Annual Report, including the President's review of the year, is being sent to each policyholder, or may be obtained from Stuart Johnson, 1110 North Winter, Salem, Oregon.

Early Day Valentine Bore True Sentiment of Sender

Statesman News Service
LEBANON, Feb. 12 — Mrs. John Thoma of Lebanon has among her keepsakes a valentine she received 53 years ago as a girl in Stayton. Then Agatha Kerber, daughter of the John Kerbers, the valentine was given to her on Feb. 14, 1865, by a cousin, the late Ed Mielke.

Although somewhat faded, the small missive retains its distinctness and frill. Unlike those given today, this valentine of more than 50 years shows a boy and girl standing in front of a background of spring flowers. With a slight touch of the hand the valentine opens out allowing it to stand up. Large penny valentines were also popular in those days.

Mrs. Thoma recalls in earlier years, as at present, sentimental valentines were also exchanged among friends, and not solely among classmates. Persons of more artistic nature often made their own and she remembers her first valentine was made by one of her teachers when the Kerber family lived at Perham, Minn.

Not so pretty were many other valentines, Mrs. Thoma explains. "If one held a grudge, likely as not in those days the spite was taken out on Valentine's Day. If a person received a real ugly one, with an uncomplimentary verse, he knew someone was trying to get even with him. As a result many quarrels resulted from this type of valentine."

In later years, the custom of exchanging has been extended to gifts, and has made St. Valentine's Day even more of a sentimental occasion, Mrs. Thoma related.
