

At Oregon Dancing On Weekend Calendar

By LINDA STEELE
Statesman Correspondent

EUGENE—The crowded activity schedule seems to be loosening up as serious studying begins for finals. To keep from studying too hard, though, many dances and social events are planned for this weekend! Larry Newsome will be attending the Theta Chi fireside, and Mike McClain and Dick Baxter are going to the Phi Kappa Psi fireside. Ken Savage and Phil Goulet will be at the Chi Psi winter term dance. Congratulations to Marilyn Reaney, who will be a guest of honor as one of the six finalists for queen of Delta Tau Delta. She will attend their formal coronation dance this weekend.

Several coeds seem to be exchanging campuses, for dates this weekend. Rosemary Rhoten and Karlene Quistad will be Ron Tuer's guests at the Psi Sigma Kappa dance at Oregon State. Also attending a dance at the OSC chapter of Phi Kappa Tau will be Carol Hoffman and Linda Steele, guests of Salem Statesmen Gene Camman and Bob Bennett.

Winner in Oratory

There are still Salem students who find time to attend scholastic meetings and obtain honors along with their busy schedules. In a recent speech tournament between the University of Oregon and the College of Puget Sound at Tacoma, Leland Smith won first places both in men's oratory and men's impromptu speaking.

In conjunction with special activities for language majors, Nancy Denton attended a play presented in the University Theatre entirely in the original German. Linda Steele has been cast in a major supporting role in the University Theatre's forthcoming production of "The Way of the World."

More house elections have been announced. Connie Hammond is the corresponding secretary for Delta Gamma and Joan Kleinke will be the new Delta Zeta chapter president.

Benefit Dinner At Quinaby

QUINABY—The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Quinaby will hold a ham dinner Saturday evening, February 22 from 6 until 8 o'clock at the Royal Neighbors hall in Quinaby.

The proceeds from the dinner will be used to help sponsor a high school student for the annual Odd Fellows United Nations Pilgrimage this summer.

Harmony Rebekah Lodge will hold a meeting on February 24.

How to Get More
Out of Life

• We ride to work. The kids ride to school. Yet "a boy that doesn't move deteriorates." Can't you afford just ten minutes a day for these simple exercises? You are not too young, too old, too full of aches, too fat, too thin, too anything to have fun keeping fit! Read "How to Get More Out of Life" in March Reader's Digest. Get your copy today.

Navy Family Leaves for Japan

Commander and Mrs. Raymond W. Lamka and children, Rodrick and Martha, who left this week for Yokohama, Japan, where the navy officer will be on the staff of Vice Admiral Goode, commander of naval forces in Japan. The Lamkas, who have been stationed in San Diego, came north to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lamka and Mrs. Evangeline Black, before sailing for the Orient aboard the USNS Barrett.

Auxiliaries to Hold Joint Installation

A good neighbor policy was being followed by members of Auxiliary 118, Veterans of World War I by their visit to Sweet Home Monday night. Visiting the San Juan 202 Auxiliary were Mrs. John Jardine, junior vice-president, department of Oregon; Mrs. Harry Swinby, Mrs. Roy Hill, Mrs. William Strohmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Emery. Also present from Albany 175 were Mrs. Bobby Hooker and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Bennett.

Plans were completed for the joint installation of the newly elected officers of auxiliaries of Albany 175, Benton 201, Santiam 202 and Linn 890 at Albany on Tuesday, Feb. 25 at the Veterans Memorial Building. The color guard and conductresses from Salem 113 will assist Mrs. Harlan Barnes, department of Oregon Auxiliary president, in the service. A covered fish dinner at 6:30 p.m. will precede the ceremony. On Wednesday, February 26, at 6:30 p.m. at the V.F.W. hall the Barracks 113 will be host at a dinner for members of the Auxiliary. Roy Hagedorn will be chef, with Frank Young in charge of the tables and decorations.

New Officers Elected

SHERIDAN—Newly elected officers of Sheri-Mina Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft are: Rose Blanchard, guardian neighbor; Marvel Frack, past guardian neighbor; Garland Huddleston, advisor; Faye Syron, magician; Catherine Huddleston, attendant; Henrietta Banyard, flag bearer; Gladys Yocom, captain of guards; Ann Call, musician; Essell Ritner, correspondent; Lohree Horwill, clerk; John Fancher, banker; Ernest Frack, outer sentinel; Arthur Banyard, inner sentinel; Bernice Cody, senior guardian; and Essell Ritner, Pearl Hyder and Henrietta Banyard, managers. Open installation ceremonies will be held in April. William Suttin, field organizer from headquarters will visit the circle at their next social meeting.

NORTH HOWELL—Evan Beals of the North Howell district celebrated his 81st birthday Sunday with a dinner given in his honor at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dunn. Four generations of sons were present for the occasion; father, Evan Beals; son, John Beals; grandsons, Leroy Beals; and great-grandson, Larry Beals.

Dear Ann Landers Wife, 4 Daughters Sink Father in Debt

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I have a beautiful wife and four lovely daughters. They think money comes out of a pump.

I'm in debt up to my ears trying to keep them dressed in the style to which they have no right to become accustomed.

I admit I swell with pride when I see "my girls" looking like a million bucks, but I'm afraid if they don't quit charging things I'm going to owe at least that much.

I've never written a column before in my life, but I decided to get this letter off today, while I have a 3c stamp. Although I've related this in a light vein, it's a dark serious problem. Can you help?—LAUGHING WITH TEARS IN MY EYES

Dear Laughing: The guy who has the toughest time keeping up with the Joneses is Mr. Jones.

Yes, there is something you can do about this. Call a family conference (if you can "get the girls" out of the stores) and review the whole miserable picture. List the debts and show them in black (or should I say in red?) and write that they can't continue to indulge their champagne appetites on your beer income.

Close the charge accounts and have it understood that nobody buys a stitch until you get out of the woods.

You don't say how old the daughters are, but if they're old enough to earn a little money, why don't they?

Dear Ann: I'm a big fool and I know it, but I need some advice on what to do about the mess I'm in.

Two years ago I started going with a man who was very good to me. I had a child by a previous marriage and he treated the boy like his own. The boarding house where he lived was sold and he had to move. Since we were planning to be married anyway, I thought it would be all right if he moved in with my wife and me. That was my big mistake. We still aren't married and whenever I bring up the subject he says things are fine the way they are. I can't kick him out because the boy calls him "Daddy" and thinks we are married. Please tell me what to do. I'm going crazy.—SUNK

You need more than advice. You need the courage to take the advice, and here it is: Tell your room mate to pack and leave and not come back until he has the smell of orange blossoms in his hair. This light-house-keeping set-up is immoral.

You'll never get a Mrs. in front of your name if you don't put it to him cold—and demonstrate that you mean business. Your son need never know the story, regardless of how it turns out. But to live the rest of your days like this because you feel trapped, would be a foolish mistake.

CONFIDENTIALLY: HEARTSICK: Give her a copy of "The Life of Helen Keller" and ask her to read it to her daughter. This book should give strength and hope to any handicapped person.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.)
