Tim Tam Still Resting at Pimlico

BALTIMORE (AP)—Silky Sullivan headed back to his native California Tuesday with press clippings and fan mail but not much else to show for his attempts in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness. There was a big crowd with welcoming signs when the copper-colored colt of Rom Ross and Phil Klipstein arrived here to prepare for last Saturday's running of the $100,000 Preakness. Tuesday, the departure was quiet.

Durelle in Video Fight

2-1 Choice to Beat Ballarin

MONTREAL (AP)—Yvon Durelle, Canadian and British Empire light heavyweight champion, Tuesday was a 2-1 favorite to beat France's Germain Ballarin in a 10-round bout at the Montreal Forum Wednesday night.

The fight will be telecast (ABC, 6 p.m., PST) coast to coast in the United States over the regular Wednesday night network.

It will be the second "live" boxing show to be beamed into the U.S. from another country. The first was lightweight champion Joe Brown's one-round conquest of Cuba's Orlando Echevarria in Havana, Feb. 28.

This is a comeback effort for the husky, 28-year-old Durelle. The fighting fisherman from Bala Ste. Ann., N.B., was stopped in the seventh round by Tony Anthony in New York last March 14. That defeat was costly. Durelle had compiled an unbeaten streak of 12 and was in line for a shot at light heavyweight champion Archie Moore.

An aggressive but awkward fighter, Durelle has a 72-19-3 record including 37 knockouts.

Ballarin, who sports a flourishing mustache, is making his second campaign in North America. He came to the U.S. a year ago and split in two bouts. He defeated Bob Provlizal and lost to middleweight contender Rory Calhoun.

The 28-year-old Frenchman's record is 45-8-6, including 24 knockouts.

The fight will be scored by rounds.

Bob Feller to Hurl In Exhibition Tilt

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Feller, former Cleveland pitching great now turned radio announcer, will return to baseball Monday for a three-inning stretch for the Army in an exhibition game with the San Francisco Giants at West Point, N.Y.

Feller, who broadcasts the "Game of the Day" on a radio network (Mutual) plans to work the first three innings and then retire to the broadcasting booth. Whenever possible, Feller has been pitching batting practice in major league ball parks during the season.

BULL SET TO PITCH
MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves said Bob Buhl was examined Tuesday by Dr. Bruce Brewer and that the sore arm that sidelined him during the Cincinnati series last week now has cleared.

Illinois Teacher On UO Summer Journalism Staff

A visiting faculty member on Oregon University's school of journalism staff this summer will be Donald E. Brown, associate professor of journalism at the University of Illinois.

Brown will teach courses in reporting and in supervision of school publications during the summer quarter, June 25-Aug. 15.

Courses in principles of advertising and publicity and public relations will be taught during the summer session by Max Wales, associate professor of journalism. Available for graduate courses in journalism, including research, thesis, reading and conference, will be Charles T. Duncan, dean of the school.

Other regular members of the journalism school faculty, who will not be teaching but who will be at the school for consultation, include James W. Frost, assistant professor of journalism and manager of the Oregon Broadcasters Assn.; Roy Paul Nelson, assistant professor and executive director of the Oregon Scholastic Press; and Carl C. Webb, assistant professor of journalism and manager of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Assn.

PCL Attendance Way Down From '57

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Attendance is slumping badly in the revised Pacific Coast League this season, the Oregon Journal reported Tuesday after compiling attendance figures from box scores.

After five weeks of play attendance is down 27 per cent from last year, when San Francisco, Los Angeles and Hollywood were in the league, the newspaper said.

Spokane, Phoenix and Salt Lake City replaced those teams, but the slump cannot be blamed entirely on the new cities, the Journal said, adding: "Spokane, Phoenix and Salt Lake City have drawn 121,776 fans; compared to 199,668 for a comparable period of 1957 in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Hollywood. Most other teams in the league also have suffered a gate loss."

From the opening of the season through May 18 the total was 450,896 last year and 312,236 this year. The per-game average was 3,921 last year and 2,788 this season. The figures listed for each team:

Portland	1558	1957
Seattle	34,096	61,083
Sacramento	31,817	33,383
Vancouver	24,979	27,382
San Diego	24,598	32,231
Spokane	42,382	47,027
Phoenix	46,785	46,182
Salt Lake City	30,909	30,893
San Francisco	62,549	62,549
Los Angeles	62,549	62,549
Hollywood	62,549	62,549

Irish Mile Nabbed by Ron Delany

Beats Ibbotson In Clonliffe Go

DUBLIN (AP)—Ireland's Ron Delany who attends Villanova College near Philadelphia gave 15,000 homefolks something to cheer about Tuesday night when he won the mile race in 4:07.5 at the Clonliffe Harriers' International Meet. Two English milers were second and third in the field of eight.

Brian Hewson was second in 4:08.0, and Derek Ibbotson came third in 4:08.5.

The crowd in the new Santry Stadium on the outskirts of Dublin went wild and many persons almost mobbed the 25-year-old Irishman who won the 1956 Olympic games 1500 meters championship at Melbourne.

"This victory gave me almost as much pleasure as when I won the Olympic title," Delany said. "I know how much it meant to Irish athletics that I won."

"I'm not disappointed in the time because as in so many of my races in the States I was only interested in winning. But this time it was even more important."

Delany was particularly happy to defeat Ibbotson, who ran the mile last July in London in 3:57.2. In that race Delany's time was 3:58.8. If a world record were ratified Ibbotson's mark when he recognized 33 other world marks in January.

England's International Cross Country champion, Stan Eidon, led at the start and was timed with laps of 61, 64 and 65 seconds. After three quarters, Ibbotson moved into the lead, followed by Delany and Hewson around the final bend.

When Delany turned on his big finish, the crowd was yelling with excitement. Hewson tried in vain to turn back the Irishman, and said after finishing runnerup that "he was too strong for me."

Immediately after the meet Delany rushed to catch a 2 a.m. plane back for the United States. He is scheduled to run in two races for Villanova on Thursday.

Landy Says Paced Mile Marks Should be Allowed

MELBOURNE (AP)—The International Amateur Athletic Federation will have to work out a proper definition of a paced mile, John Landy said Tuesday.

The Australian star, holder of the recognized world record for the distance and now retired, was interviewed at his family's farm, 120 miles south of Melbourne, and he posed the question: "Just what is the definition of a paced mile?"

The difficulty, which dates back to 1954 when Roger Bannister first cracked the four-minute barrier and has been periodically revived, popped up again when Herb Elliott was timed in 3:57.3 in the Coliseum Relays at Los Angeles last Friday. The best time to date, still unofficial, is Derek Ibbotson's 3:57.2.

"There will always be trouble over these miles until the federation lays down a definite rule," Landy added, "but how are they going to arrive at that definition. I don't know."

"Don't, please, for one minute think I'm casting any suspicious about Ibbotson's or Elliott's times to safeguard my own record."

"As far as I'm concerned I've finished with running and I'm the ex-world record holder. I think Derek's time should and will be recognized. This will make him faster than any other man, and any time between my 3:58 and his 3:57.2 will be out. And as for Herb's run last week, from what I could make out I thought he did most of the work—the real, hard work, at that."

"It seems that if anyone is in front at any time of the race apart from the actual winner it could be said he was paced. It is all right to say a runner should go all out from the start and remain in front, but how many can do it?"

"Herb Elliott is a great runner and will be even greater, but he could not run in front all the time. Any runner who has to do that would be just running himself into the ground."

"When Bannister made track history with his 3:59.4 clocking, he had two admitted pacers in Chris Brasher and Chris Chataway, and although the IAAF lifted ed an eyebrow at this situation there was nothing in the book against it.

The British AAA passed a pacing rule before the IAAF had a chance to act, and in 1954 the IAAF adopted the same rule, which stated that pacing was to be "considered" in passing on records. It also stated that runners who receive "apparently" unfair aid cannot make records.

In Elliott's case everyone concerned denied that Drew Dunlap, a Texas quarter miler, had been sent into the mile race as a pacemaker. Elliott said he didn't know Dunlap. In any event, with a field of 10, including three four-minute milers, it would seem pointless to send in a "rabbit."

Tex Winters to Stay at Kansas State

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Tex Winters, Kansas State College basketball coach, said Tuesday he had decided not to consider a coaching vacancy at the University of Iowa.

Winters said he was interested in the Iowa job but has decided to stay at K-State.

Winters' name was among those reported under consideration as a successor to the late Frank (Bucky) O'Connor, Iowa coach who was killed recently in an automobile accident.
