

Chrysler Charges Employee Sabotage

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Chrysler Corp. charged Friday that unidentified employees sabotaged two overhead cranes at its Dodge truck plant here by putting sugar in gasoline tanks and in hydraulic systems.

The company said this halted work in the export shipping department, idling 85 employees.

Chrysler was the second of the Big Three car makers to charge sabotage following expiration of labor contracts with the United Auto Workers three weeks ago.

General Motors Corp. charged Thursday that unidentified employees had damaged 58 car bodies at its Fisher body plant in Kansas City, Mo.

On Normal Schedule

The Fisher body plant operated Friday on a normal schedule. The UAW disclaimed any responsibility for the incidents.

Commenting on the Chrysler charge, Arthur Hughes, UAW administrative assistant, said "They will probably blame us for anything that happens now."

Ford Motor Co. reported its plants have been operating without incident.

UAW members are under instructions from union leaders to keep on working pending further contact negotiations and not to do anything that would provoke a strike or cause the companies to shut down their plants.

Meanwhile, the union is going

On Wednesday, Pope Pius appointed 62-year-old Cardinal Agagianian pro-prefect of the Vatican's Congregation for Propagation of the Faith, succeeding the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago.

The cardinal also retained his post as head of the Vatican Congregation for the Oriental Church, with nominal jurisdiction over Roman Catholics in the Soviet Union.

Quality Education Weighed At Citizen Council Meeting

TIMBERLINE LODGE, Ore. (AP)—Quality education was the theme of a half dozen speakers at Friday's session of the Western regional meeting of the National Citizens' Council for Better Schools. Federal aid was their most debated point.

Preceding group discussions, Herb Roberts of Evansville, Ind., a trustee of the national group, said one of the principal stumbling blocks in discussing federal aid to education is that the role of the federal government has never been defined.

Federal money is going into education steadily, he said, through the departments of Agriculture, Defense and others. But with no policy statement on either state

Balloting Indicates Wheat Quotas Will Be Continued

Marion and Polk County wheat farmers went along with the nation Friday in apparently approving the continuation of federal marketing quotas on the 1959 wheat crop.

Associated Press reported that returns from 25 states gave 54,666 for an 14,201 against the control program. It was a 38-state agriculture department referendum.

Oregon farmers gave a whopping endorsement of continued quotas. Arnold N. Boddker, administrative officer for the stabilization program, said the Oregon vote was 1,492 in favor and 218 against quotas on the 1959 wheat crop.

The favorable vote was 87.3 per cent. In Marion County, 118 votes were counted, with 112 in favor of the measure and 6 opposed to it. There were 299 voters eligible to cast a ballot.

Polk County voters registered 65 votes, 56 in favor and 9 against the measure. There were 255 eligible voters in the county.

According to Associated Press, returns indicated a favorable majority of 79.4 per cent. Approval of at least two-thirds of the growers voting is required.

The returns were largely in line with those cast in five previous referenda on wheat controls. De-

Federal Money for Expired Jobless State Pay Okehed

It is all right for the state to take money from the federal government to extend unemployment compensation payments to those whose state benefits have run out, Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton ruled Friday.

The opinion had been requested by Cecelia P. Galey, Unemployment Compensation Commission chairman, who said the commission was in doubt as to its authority to enter an agreement for federal money as provided in a recently enacted federal law.

Thornton emphasized that under the agreement the commission would act as agent of the U.S. in making payments to unemployed persons. The state would assume no liability for repayment of any such funds received from the federal government, he said.

Mother Says Slain Officer Started To Die When He Got Job on Force

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"How should I cry now when I have no tears to shed?" Mrs. Julia Montoniere's eyes were dry Friday as she sat in the living room of her home in suburban Alhambra. She had just received news that her son, police officer Thomas Scabbil, 24, had been shot and killed by an ex-convict he stopped for a routine identification check.

James Hooton, his leg shattered by one of Scabbil's bullets, was caught trying to crawl away and jailed. He said he fired in panic.

"How should I grieve for my son when my grief is spent?" asked Mrs. Montoniere holding the certificate of her son's police appointment.

Fast-Traveling Yanks Impress Thai Visitors

"America has so many paved roads and the people travel so fast," was the impression registered by three Bangkok, Thailand, labor officials Friday during a tour of State of Oregon Labor and Industrial Accident offices in Salem.

The three, Suthon Thanysajareon, Brapandh Menakongka and Prasert Reechareon, are in the United States for a year to study and observe American labor laws, techniques and procedures. Their stay is under the sponsorship of the United States Department of Labor.

While in Salem they are also visiting several local industrial plants. Their offices as chiefs in the labor division Department of Public Welfare in tiny Thailand is comparable to the positions of U.S. government bureau chiefs.

Thailand, about the size of Texas, is a country of 20,000,000 people. It has many labor unions but they have only been in existence for a few years. "We have not had a chance to have the trouble with our unions that you have had in America, one of the visitors commented. "Our unions are not very strong," another added.

The visitors, who are staying at Salem YMCA, have been in Salem the past week. They will leave Sunday.

The award is named for the president of the Grants Pass Courier Publishing Co. Conrad Frange, the Salem Statesman's comes the Dawn columnist, spoke on problems of newspaper column writing.

The 71st annual meeting of the ONPA will conclude Saturday. Gene Stoller and Edward Coman, publishers of the Woodburn Independent, will be given a certificate of merit from the Federal Civil Defense Administration Saturday night at the annual banquet.

The award is in recognition of an emergency newspaper published by the pair during 1957 national civil defense exercises. They used a farm tractor for power, hand-set type, and other unique improvised methods.

Fans Sit on Hands, Yell At Ricky Nelson Show

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The fans sat on their hands and hollered like mad at Ricky Nelson's sparsely attended rock-'n'-roll concert here Thursday night.

Just what they were hollering was interpreted differently by reviewers and Ricky's manager. The reviewers said the noise in the less than half-filled 2,400-seat hall consisted largely of boos, jeers and catcalls by a rowdy mob.

Manager Matury Foldare said it was a "wildly enthusiastic crowd of youngsters who just loved him—every second of it."

Reporters said the fans screamed and yelled through the first half hour of Nelson's appearance on stage as the teen-age Hollywood figure "quivered and shook his legs through 20 numbers."

"You couldn't hear a word Nelson said or sang. The kids screamed through every number. But at the end of each number the silence was almost eerie. There was no applause."

The newspapers quoted Nelson as telling Vancouver disc jockey Red Robinson he had "never seen such a rotten display in his life" and said he was anxious to get back to the United States.
