

Young Sweethearts Located in Virginia After 10-Day Search

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP) — A blonde and beautiful New Jersey high school girl and her teen-aged boy friend, missing since June 11, were found Sunday registered as man and wife in a Petersburg hotel.

Hours later, after a tearful farewell, Helen Jones, 16, of Kearny, N.J., and David Horne, 17, of East Orange, were taken in tow by their outraged parents and headed for home.

When found by police before dawn Sunday, the young couple had 20 cents between them. It was all that was left of $100 which they said they took with them when they ran away 11 days ago.

"We love each other," they told authorities. But they said they hadn't been able to get married, as planned, because of their youth. They had been at the hotel 10 days.

Still Jobless

Since their arrival, Horne had been unable to find employment. Miss Jones had been working for two days at a local bus terminal but had not been paid.

A picture of the girl on the front page of a New York newspaper led to the apprehension of the youngsters at 3:15 a.m. by Police Capt. W. H. Stewart, who took them to the detention home and notified their parents.

Parents of the two indicated strongly they will disapprove of the marriage of the young couple.

Miss Jones' father, Francis Jones, an adviser for an Explorer Scout unit of which Horne is a member, was livid with rage when he faced the boy at the detention home.

"If you ever put yourself in town — Kearney — again, I will not be responsible for what I do," he told Horne.

Jones and his wife then took their daughter and left by car for Kearny — but not before the girl gave young Horne a final embrace and a kiss and whispered something — she wouldn't say what — into his ear. Both wept when they parted.

Mother Arrives

Ten minutes after the Joneses left town, Horne's mother, Mrs. W. H. Price of East Orange, arrived to take custody of the runaway boy. She and the Joneses did not meet.

Horne told newsmen he and the Jones girl left Kearny June 11, took a train from Newark to Philadelphia, then rode a bus from Philadelphia to Richmond and another from Richmond to Petersburg.

He said they chose Petersburg because his stepfather, Capt. W. H. Price, an Army officer, now stationed in the Caribbean area, had been stationed at Ft. Lee, Va., near here, in 1955. During the spring of that year, Horne said, he had attended Prince George High School here.

Horne said he and the Jones girl, a high school junior at Kearny, had been going together a little over a year and had met three years ago.

Since their disappearance they had been objects of a 13-state police search.

No member of the clergy officiated at the services.

Moses described Swopes as "a skeptic with unspeakable faith in the ultimate wisdom of the democratic process."

Another long-time friend, financier Bernard Baruch, said, "More than I can say, I shall miss the independent mind, fighting spirit and colorful personality of my devoted friend and confidant, Herbert Bayard Swopes."

Among those who attended the services were David Sarnoff, James A. Farley, Mrs. Averell Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conniff, Judge and Mrs. Irving R. Kaufman, Mrs. Irving Berlin, Mr. and Mrs. Toots Shor, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rodgers.

After the ceremonies, members of the family accompanied the body to Fresh Pond Crematorium in Middle Village, N.Y.

AF's Spy in Sky Reported Due in 1958

WASHINGTON (AP) — The magazine Aviation Week said Sunday the initial Pied Piper reconnaissance satellite—the first Air Force spy in the sky — will be ready for launching late this year.

I said the satellite, weighing perhaps 1,200 pounds, will be fired in a southerly direction from Cook Air Force Base, Calif., in an attempt to establish a polar orbit. It added that a Thor intermediate range ballistic missile will be used for the first attempt, although an Atlas intercontinental range missile will be the booster for later tries.

The satellite will be a cone with a camera in its nose and the tip of the cone will point constantly down toward the earth.

Small clam shell doors at the tip will open to give the camera a broad view of the earth's atmosphere and terrain. The altitude of orbit will vary with successive tries, up to 400 miles.

The Air Force has classified its reconnaissance satellite projects secret. It had no comment on the magazine's reports.

38,000 Hear Billy Graham Close Crusade in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham, speaking at Seals Baseball Stadium to some 38,000 persons, ended his San Francisco crusade Sunday with a plea against backsliding.

"Do not go back to your old ways of living or yield to old temptations and old idolatries," he told those who had made "decisions for Christ" during the seven weeks of sermons.

The crowd was one of the largest ever assembled in the ballpark which has seats for 25,000 if the top baseball field is used. It topped Graham's best attendance in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace by some 12,000.

About 1,400 persons filled the space between first and third base when Graham asked for decisions. He spoke from a platform at second base.

Top Clown To Appear At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Ore.—John Lindsey, the Vinita, Okla., rodeo clown who will display his comedy and daring at the 23rd annual St. Paul rodeo, is a "clown's clown"—a real artist whose antics are appreciated and studied by the other clowns.

A typical tribute to the talents of Lindsey comes from Wes Curtis, a veteran clown who has appeared here several times in past years. Says Curtis in a recent magazine article:

"If I ever produce a rodeo and Lindsey is 90 years old, I'll push him across the arena in a wheelchair and he'll do something funny."

Lindsey—known as the Emmet Kelley of the rodeo circuit—and his trained bull, Iron Ore, will perform at all of the shows here. The rodeo will open at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 3. The opener will be followed by a 1:30 matinee and 8 o'clock night show on Friday, July 4, and the finale at 1:30 Saturday.

Others Due Also

Lindsey will share the clowning with Sherman Crane and Joaquin Sanchez. Crane has appeared here many times before but Sanchez will be making his local debut. All of them are excellent horsemen and bull fighters as well as clowns.

"There is every reason to believe this will be the finest rodeo in this history of St. Paul," said John McKillip, president of the St. Paul Rodeo association. "We have entries from the finest cowboys in America, and the specialty performers promise entertainment for the young and old."

In addition to the clowns, the special performers include Jay Siler and his trained Australian shepherd dogs and Bill Buschhorn and his horse, "Sir Roger," reportedly one of the most spectacular horse acts currently showing.

Dag Confers With Nasser On Lebanon

CAIRO (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold — here for talks with United Arab Republic leaders on the Lebanon crisis—conferred with President Nasser Sunday night a few hours after his arrival.

Hammarskjold talked to Nasser after meeting 70 minutes with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

The announced purpose of Hammarskjold's visit was to discuss U.N. matters, but there was no doubt Lebanon would be the main topic.

Informed sources said U.A.R. officials would warn Hammarskjold, who has been visiting Lebanon, of the danger of foreign interference in the current crisis. They reportedly will request U.A.R. insistence that the Lebanese crisis is purely internal. Lebanon has accused the U.A.R. of meddling in the situation.

Hammarskjold arrived smiling and cheerful after a two-hour visit to Egypt's U.N.-guarded Gaza Strip. He left Beirut, Lebanon, Saturday and stopped off at Amman and Jerusalem for talks with Jordanian and Israeli officials on troubles at Mt. Scopus in Jerusalem.

Hammarskjold declined any comment on the Lebanese crisis. He returns to troubled Beirut Tuesday and is scheduled to return to New York on Wednesday.

Ready for Title Defense

ALBANY, Ore.—Malcolm Harper, Cheshire, Ore., sprints up side of a 100-foot spar pole in winning world championship in speed climbing at last year's Albany Timber Carnival. He will be back to defend his title July 2-3-4 in the 14th annual Timber Carnival.

New 'Bull of Wood' Event Set for Timber Carnival

ALBANY, Ore.—A "two fisted" new event has been added to the 1958 Timber Carnival and should have great appeal for those who like their entertainment in the form of a brawl.

Ron Richards, Timber Carnival President, announced the new "bull of the wood" contest in which loggers will wear boxing gloves and attempt to knock each other from a big log. "Someone might get knocked silly, but it should be a great crowd pleaser," Richards said.

Two men will fight at a time, with an elimination bracket set up by drawing names from a hat. The contest will run July 2-3-4 during which world champions are crowned in various logging events.

Logging Camp Sport

The bull-of-the-woods contest gets its name from an old form of sport in logging camps. Years ago the bull was determined by the man who withstood all challengers by battling them on a log. No boxing gloves were used then, however, and the sport got somewhat bloody at times.

"We may have a 150-pounder matched against a 250-pounder," Richards said, "but most of these guys are rugged enough not to mind being overmatched."

Water Cost Increases At Dayton

DAYTON—Dayton City Council has increased water rates for all users $1.00 per month effective with water used beginning July 1. The increase will first be noticed on the August 1 statements.

Users within the city limits will now obtain 600 cubic feet of water per month for $2.75. Those living outside the city limits and using city water will be charged $3.75 for the same amount.

Charges for water over 600 cubic feet per month will not be increased. They are ten cents for every additional 100 cubic feet of city users and twelve cents for every additional 100 cubic feet out of city limits users.

Councilmen gave as reasons for the increase increased costs in operation of the system and need for replacing several old water lines. They noted that water costs in Dayton had not been raised in many years.

Dayton water supply comes from springs, reservoirs and well on Red Hill north of town and from another well in town. The wells are operated with electric pumps.
