Although Anthony's debut last week against Jack Lipscomb was (Lantern-jawed Jack lost a front chopper when Tony whopped him on the kisser during the third fall), most customers are content to believe the rugged returnee won't stand a chance against the dynamic and punishing Lynam. Ross, naturally, claims he'll out-dynamite the Redmond fireball hands down. Vowing he can take all the punishing drop kicks, flying tackles, upside-down toe holds, etc., the former 41st divisioner can dish out, Ross figures his "back-

Make-or-Break Tilt Listed for Haukmen

Messin' around time at an end s of right now if they are to make a noticeable dent in the No-Name league derby, Salem high's Viking courtsters take to the home floor tonight to chase with Corcallis high's Spartans in what could be rightfully called a basketball biggie of the SHS season. First whistle is at eight o'clock, following a 6:45 skirmish between Bee squads of both schools.

Coach Al Cox' ganglers, a lofty lot tabbed as the team to beat in the beginning, has been hooping along to date just that impressively. The Spartans have lost but once since the season began and hold league wins over both Bend and Albany.

And lofty is right. Starting with 6-foot 5-inch Bob Perin at center, Cox can toss a giantish crew against Harold Hauk's rapidly improving hustlers. Mike Locey and Joe Weatherbee, who have been seeing plenty of Spartan hooping from up close, tower 6-1. So does Bob Edwards, regulars, level off at 6-0 even. Guard Keith Osborn, the diminutive department personified, uses his 5-10 at guard.

Salem's tallie will be personified in Center Rod Province and his 6-31/2. Bunny Mason, another center, can go almost that high and Forwards Al Bellinger, Carlos Houck, Kenny Alberts and Jack Fitzmaurice can do around six feet even. But other than those, it's strictly pee-wee for Salem in comparison with the visitors.

Wilkins, Hamilton, Berg Team for Win

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 7 .- (AP)-The University of Oregon edged out Idaho 46 to 45 tonight in a last minute flurry of scoring as the Webfoots opened northern division, Pacific coast conference cage play here before 4,800 fans.

Both teams battled score for score through most of the game. The Vandals took an 8 to 2 lead in the first eight minutes, but the Webfoots tied it 19 all at the halftime. With Regulars Dick Wilkins and Bob Hamilton off the court ,the Webfoot scoring laurels went to Roy Seeborg and Stan Williamson, both back from service after 1943 playing for the Ducks.

Most of the drama was packed into the final minutes when the Ducks, battling from behind, twice cut down three point Idaho leads to come within a point of knotting the score. The final came in the last two minutes when Wilkins and then Hamilton, put on the floor to save the game, did fust that. Wilkins hit a long one to cut the Idaho lead to 43-42. Jack Phoenix again scored for Idaho to make it 45-42 but Hamilton retaliated with a long shot to make it 45-44. Then Reedy Berg stole a Vandal ball to race
