

Spanish Dancers Provide Lively Evening at Concert

By MAXINE BUREN

It was a lively and exciting evening for those who attended the performance of Rosario and Antonio and their company of Spanish dancers at the Salem high school auditorium Monday night.

Stamping of feet, playing of castanets and often the sound of voices, played an almost equal part in the performance as the dancing itself.

Several distinct types of dance were obvious. The first two dances were classic, quite different from the steps and rhythms of the gypsy dances later in the evening. A bolero of the 18th Century Andalusian school appeared to be an interpretation of classic ballet.

Clever Castinets
Handling the castinets was important. Often the dancer seemed to converse with the instrument, which was handled with much more refinement and grace than by a less adept performer. The castinets were especially well used in the folk dance of Toledo. Singing was a feature of the comic "Peanut Vendor" one of the most popular numbers.

Interpretations of an Andalusian Gypsy dance "Por Alegrias" were given by both Mr. Antonio and Miss Rosario.

Selections from two ballets, "El Amo Brujo" by (including the familiar Fire Dance, most often heard as a piano solo) and "The Three Cornered Hat" were especially beautiful.

Quite different were these artists than the average Spanish dancer. Their dancing was smoother, yet more dazzling. While costumes were striking, their beauty was more in the style and clever use of subtle color rather than in brilliance.

Besides the two young dancers, Rosario and Antonio, their company included the Misses Iberia, Ruiz and Lopez, dancers, G. Antonio, guitarist and Silvio Masciarelli, musical director, accompanist and soloist.

Fog Proves Hazard for State Drivers

Fog in parts of western Oregon provided the chief new hazard to motorists Monday as temperatures rose slightly in eastern and central Oregon and road conditions throughout the state improved generally. R. H. Baldock, state highway engineer, reported.

One-way traffic continues on the South Santiam highway in the vicinity of upper Soda because of slides. Other road conditions: Government Camp — Partly overcast. Total snow 51 inches. Packed snow and ice throughout entire section. Sanding operations in progress.

Klamath Falls—Roads sanded. Temperature 5 above at Sun mountain, 8 above at Quartz mountain, 8 above at Keno and 10 above at Klamath Falls.

Roseburg—Fog.

Astoria—Frost and roads sanded. Columbia River highway closed at east city limits of Astoria with detour through Tongue Point naval base. One-way traffic at B milepost 42.4 near Manzanita on Nehalem secondary highway. Also one-way traffic east of Astoria.

The Dalles—Clear.

LaGrande — Clear and roads dry.

Bend—Clear. Detour 10 miles west of Mitchell where bridge is washed out.

Salem's New Legion Post Delays Ballot

Salem's new American Legion post, No. 136, adopted by-laws modeled after standard Legion regulations, without a dissenting vote Monday night, but postponed to January 22 the election of officers. Installation is planned for January 28, with Capitol post and the department of Oregon assisting.

Nominations will be reopened before the election. Named for places on the ballot last night were: For commander, Paul Harrison, Don Goode, Parker Gies, Jim McHone; first vice commander, Clifton Mudd and Garold Simpson; second vice commander, Ralph Nohlgren and Homer Smith; adjutant, Herbert Stiff, Jr., and Eric Allen, Jr.; finance officer, Peter H. Geiser and George Newman; historian, George Causey and Oscar Donaldson; chaplain, Roy Ferris and Vance MacDowell; quartermaster, Clinton Standish, Ted Ullakko and Wilbert Collette; judge advocate, Kenneth Sherman, Ray Rhoden and Steve Anderson; service officer, Tyrone Gillespie and Joe Devers; sergeant-at-arms, Delbert Gwynn, Milan Boniface and Harold Alder.

James Massey, Coburn Grabenhorst, Sid Boise, Jim McHone and Jack Sullivan were nominated for the five executive committee posts.

The committee on a tentative permanent name is to report at the next meeting of the post, which now has 102 paid-up members.

Salem Soldier Views Blast

MANILA, Tuesday, Jan. 15—(AP) Explosion of liquid oxygen and pyrotechnic equipment aboard a huge arm ybarge threw the crowded Manila harbor and waterfront area into brightly-lit confusion last night but apparently caused no loss of life or damage to other vessels. The cause was not determined.

The first flash of flames and explosion came at 9:45 p.m., followed in quick succession by others as the oxygen tanks let go. Witnesses, including Pfc. Archie D. Geddes of Salem, Ore., military policeman aboard another vessel, thought at first a nearby tanker had exploded.

Survivors include her husband, Edgar Brock; a son, Robert, and a daughter, Florence, all of Oregon City; five sisters and her parents. Another sister, Mary Kruger Randall, preceded her in death.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Belcrest Memorial park, the Rev. Harold Lyman officiating.

DR. COBERTH SUCCEUMBS
THE DALLES, Jan. 14—(AP)—Death of Dr. Thompson Coberth, 57, 1943-44 president of the Oregon State Medical society and former state board of health member, was reported today.

Flood Victim's Body Recovered, 2 Missing
EUGENE, Jan. 14—(AP)—Recovery of the body of 8-year-old John Porter Mitchell, who drowned with his parents and a sister in the recent Willamette flood, was reported by Coroner Phil Bartholomew.

John Mitchell, Portland, and four-year-old Brenda still are missing. His wife's body was recovered earlier.

Too Late to Classify
ELDERLY gentleman left his cane at Statesman office Monday.

Wanted

Jean Peters (above), 19, is aboard a train en route to her home in Columbus, O., but a movie studio wants her to turn around. She went to Hollywood for a screen test after winning a beauty contest sponsored by several Columbus newspapers and when she heard no more about it, figured she had failed. But 20th Century-Fox officials who finally saw the test, now want to give her a contract and are trying to locate her. (AP Wire-photo)

Youths Use Salem Car in Robberies

A car stolen from Salem was recovered in Portland after a chase by Portland police. One of the tires had been punctured by police bullets in a wild chase that resulted in the arrest of two juveniles who were said to have admitted using the car in a series of robberies on the Oregon coast, Salem police were informed. The youths gave their homes as Waldport and Lebanon.

Echo Brock Dies At Oregon City

Echo Kruger Brock, late resident of 845 Gaines st., died at an Oregon City hospital Monday. Mrs. Brock, who was reared in Salem, attended Salem schools and was a member of the Christian church here, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kruger, 1415 N. 4th st.

Survivors include her husband, Edgar Brock; a son, Robert, and a daughter, Florence, all of Oregon City; five sisters and her parents. Another sister, Mary Kruger Randall, preceded her in death.

Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at Belcrest Memorial park, the Rev. Harold Lyman officiating.

DR. COBERTH SUCCEUMBS
THE DALLES, Jan. 14—(AP)—Death of Dr. Thompson Coberth, 57, 1943-44 president of the Oregon State Medical society and former state board of health member, was reported today.

Reorganization Of PEP Nearer Completion

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14—(AP) Proceedings in the reorganization of Portland Electric Power company, begun in 1942, came a step nearer completion today as the securities and exchange commission gave its conditional approval to the trustees' second alternative amended plan which calls for dissolution of the company.

In all, five plans were proposed by the independent trustees, Thomas W. Delzell and R. L. Clark, and by Guaranty Trust company of New York, indenture trustee.

In approving the plan, the SEC placed a valuation of $31,000,000 on the common stock of Portland General Electric company, major subsidiary; $6,500,000 on Portland Traction company, another subsidiary, and $1,000,000 on the company's interurban railway properties, shops and carhouses.

Under the plan, PGE would pay a $725,000 dividend to Peppo and receive certain assets from Peppo valued at $195,000, including certain real estate owned by Casadero Real Estate company, a subsidiary.

The SEC ruled that before the company submits the plan to a district court for approval it is to be amended to reserve the right to the trustees to apply to the court and commission for approval of the sale of the common stock of PGE or traction.

Under the plan, PGE would pay a $725,000 dividend to Peppo and receive certain assets from Peppo valued at $195,000, including certain real estate owned by Casadero Real Estate company, a subsidiary.

The SEC ruled that before the company submits the plan to a district court for approval it is to be amended to reserve the right to the trustees to apply to the court and commission for approval of the sale of the common stock of PGE or traction.

Anna O'Brien, Pioneer, Dies After Illness

Anna O'Brien, Oregon pioneer, died Monday at her home, 490 N. Capitol st., after an illness of six months.

Daughter of John and Johanna O'Brien, she was born in Lee county, Iowa, Oct. 11, 1856, and with her parents came to Oregon in 1872. After a period of residence near Woodburn, the family moved into Polk county and for many years operated the Balm Grove farm five miles north of Independence, coming to Salem in 1902, where Miss O'Brien had since made her home.

Miss O'Brien was a member of the Catholic church, St. Joseph's parish. Survivors include a brother, Charles O'Brien, Salem; nieces, Kathleen O'Brien, Woodburn, and Mrs. W. C. Davis, Ontario, Ore. Recitation of the rosary is scheduled at 8 o'clock tonight in the chapel of the W. T. Rigdon company. Services will be held at 9 a. m. Wednesday in St. Joseph's church, with interment at St. Barbara's cemetery.

Former Salem Minister Succumbs
PORTLAND, Jan. 14—(AP)—Last rites for the Rev. J. H. Taylor, 85, retired Free Methodist minister who had served pastorates in Salem, Newberg, Woodburn and Portland, will be held here Tuesday.

He died Saturday. Before retiring in 1937 he spent 20 years in India as a missionary.

DIES OF GUN WOUNDS
James Ryan, 61, route 1, Aurora, died Monday afternoon in a Newberg hospital from wounds state police said were apparently self-inflicted with a .22 rifle.

Chamber Names New Assistant To Manager

Glenn W. Prather, during the war with the office of defense transportation at Butte, Mont., Monday was introduced as new assistant manager of the Salem Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Paul Carr, who resigned earlier this winter to take a public relations position with Day Hay and Associates.

Prior to the war, Prather was with two large transportation concerns in Montana. He has had merchandising and industrial experience, is former president of both Rotary and the chamber of commerce at Missoula, Mont., and was active in Advertising clubs of America.

Mrs. Prather is the mother of Richard M. Hill of Salem Steel & Supply company of Salem.

UNO Delegates Scan Meager London Menus

LONDON, Jan. 14—(AP)—Members of the staffs of 51 United Nations who dine at two cafeterias at Church house receive a fare rationed strictly on Britain's austerity basis, but there is no grumbling.

For the delegates themselves, austerity rations are no real problem, since most of them are billeted in London's largest hotels and have a reasonable choice of viands, although the portions are modest.

But for the staffs who choose to take their meals in Church house, the menus, unlike those they enjoyed in San Francisco, are devoid of luxury items. The supply of staples dwindled sharply by the end of last week when the cafeterias were invaded beyond expectation by those who remained on the spot for committee meetings in connection with the opening of the United Nations general assembly.

In the beginning the menus boasted meat pie or fish, the usual English boiled potato, Brussels sprouts or cabbage and a steamed pudding for the final course. British meals are limited to three courses.

Ernest J. Haydon, who remembers having served bounteous meals in Portland, Ore., is major domo of the two Church house cafeterias. He is grieved by his inability to provide in the same manner for his international clientele, explaining that "We get no special concessions whatever, and when our supplies are gone they have had it—and that's that."

FARMERS TO SEE FILM
LIBERTY, Jan. 14—(Special)—Motion pictures of the Alcan highway will be shown at the Liberty Farmers union Tuesday night, January 15. W. C. Nibler, county agent, will speak and delegates to the state convention at Hillsboro will be elected.

JOHN WAYNE TO WED
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14—(AP)—John Wayne, film leading man, will be married Thursday morning to Esperanza Bauer, described by his studio as a Spanish-French actress and dancer, a spokesman announced today.

McKay Foresees Bright Future For Salem Area

Dark as skies may seem above industrially-restless America, this country's people will come through in time of stress, and Douglas McKay, former mayor of Salem and three times state senator, declared Monday as he addressed Salem Chamber of Commerce.

McKay spoke of the future the United States might claim if her people would cooperate in peacetime as they did in wartime, but emphasized especially the bright future he foresees for the Pacific coast in general and Salem in particular.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Portland Butter Allotments Cut

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 14—(AP)—Delay in delivery of Oregon's share of a government release of 80,000,000 pounds of butter was blamed today as cause of a 50 per cent slash of already scant butter allotments to retailers this week.

A dairy industry spokesman who declined to be named said only a few thousand pounds of the federal supplies held under wartime freeze had been received. He noted without comment that there was talk of a 16 cent butter price increase, and said that a five cent price boost had preceded a previous federal allocation of butter to civilians. "The government took the five cent profit," he said.

address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

Between 1936 and 1944, Oregon bank deposits showed a larger percentage of gains than did those of either Washington or California, he declared.

Listing briefly this area's industries, McKay pointed out that Salem is second city on the Pacific coast in the food packing industry. He emphasized the Willamette valley project as an encouragement for agriculture and industry alike.

Greatest need in Salem today is housing, he maintained, telling of able men who have failed to stay here because they could not find living accommodations for their families. The city's building trades council estimates that 3000 new houses are needed here, he declared. Of Marion county's 8,500 men in the service, 5000 have already returned, but the others will need housing, he declared. This was McKay's first Salem address since his discharge from the army as a major. At Camp Adair, where he was stationed during a large portion of the war, he said, he found many soldiers who would like to return here if they could find suitable opportunity economically.

ELSINORE
LAST TIMES TODAY
Irene Alexander Charles
DUNNE KNOX COBURN
OVER 21
— CO-FEATURE —
The Fighting Groundsman
Wed. BOGIE and Van
ON ONE PROGRAM
NUMPNEY
Bogart
DOES ALL OUT FOR ANN
Sheridan
"IT ALL CAME TRUE"
2 GIANT STAR SHOWS!
VAN JOHNSON
FAYE EMERSON
"Born for Trouble"

HOLLYWOOD Today!
OPEN 6:45
"A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" with Dorothy McGuire,
James Dunn, Joan Blondell,
Foggy Ann Garner
and
"Crime by Night" with Jane Wyman and Jerome Cowan

CAPITOL
LAST TIMES TODAY
Jose Lurhi
Frank Sinatra
Kathryn Grayson
Gene Kelly in
"Anchors Aweigh"
— CO-FEATURE —
"Candlelight in Algeria"
STARTS WEDNESDAY
THE AIR CORPS OUT ON MANEUVERS!
Robert Cummings
Don DeFore
"You Came Along"
with Lizabeth Scott
— CO-FEATURE —
Action
...as you like it!
"Wagon Wheels"
Westwood
"Wild Bill Elliott"
Bobby Blake
Alice Fleming

"AMERICA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL AUTOMOBILE"
THE NEW 1946 LINCOLN

The 1946 Lincoln is equipped with push-button type door openers, both inside and out. Elimination of the conventional door handle improves appearance and is an added safety feature.
NOW ON DISPLAY
VALLEY MOTOR CO.
375 Center - Salem

ENDS TODAY! (TUES.)
LARAINE DAY
"THOSE ENDEARING YOUNG CHARMS"
— DON AMECHE —
"HEAVEN CAN WAIT"
STATE
— OPENS 6:45 P. M. —
TOMORROW!
MADCAP MUSICAL
"Music in Manhattan"
ANNE SHIRLEY DENNIS DAY PHILIP TERRY
FUN-PACKED CO-HIT!
Gracie Fields Monty Woolley
"Holy Matrimony"

ENDS TODAY! (TUES.)
MARJORIE MAIN
"GENTLE ANNIE"
— GENE AUTRY —
"RANCHO GRANDE"
LIBERTY
— OPENS 6:45 P. M. —
TOMORROW!
A Thousand and One Thrills! See the Giant King Cobra! The Kiss of Death!
"DANGEROUS JOURNEY"
Narrated by Conrad Nagel
THRILL CO-HIT!
"Border Bandits"
Chapter 6
"MONSTER AND THE APE"

MAN ALIVE
PAT O'BRIEN
ADOLPHE MENJOU
ELLEN DREW
CO-FEATURE!
Charlie Chan's Most Thrilling Mystery!
Shanghai COBRA
with SIDNEY TOLER
Benson Fong
Joan Barclay
NEWS! Gen. Marshall in China . . . U. S. Troops in Tokyo! . . . Bathing Beauties in Miami! . . . Thrills of Winter Sports!