Ballet Star Wins Reno Divorce

RENO, Nev., Jan. 17. (AP)—Vera Zorina, stage and screen ballet star, today divorced George Balanchine, New York ballet director, on grounds of mental cruelty. The decree was granted 15 minutes after she filed it. The couple, who have no children, were married Dec. 24, 1938, at Staten Island, New York. The court approved a sealed property agreement.

Maser Urges Tariff-Aided Industry Shift

CORVALLIS, Jan. 18. (AP)—The United States should lay a firm foundation for future international trade by shifting inefficient, tariff-bolstered industries to new lines of production, the marketing and distribution conference at States Island, New York. The court approved a sealed property agreement.

was told here today.

Dr. Clifford Maser, Oregon State college business and industries division head, said the United States faces little competition for the next few years because other countries are not in a position to compete. During that time, he said, the change-over should be made. Industries which are kept alive by restrictive import duties must be aided financially in making a change-over in order that the entire country may benefit, he declared. Unless the change is made, he said, there can be no real progress in the tariff field, and this country's international trade position cannot be fully realized.

OSC Totals Aid In Filling Jobs

CORVALLIS, Jan. 17. (AP)—Nearly a quarter-million farm jobs—a new record—were filled by Oregon State college's farm labor service last year, officials said today. The 206,576 placements were about 25,000 ahead of 1944. Marion county had the largest number of placements in seasonal crops. Most of the workers were women and children. Malheur county, which received German war prisoners and Mexican laborers, had the greatest number of men placed on jobs. Of the total, 201,631 were for seasonal work, while 4945 were placed in permanent jobs. Boys and girls accounted for 60,956 placements, women 27,086 and men 118,536.

How to save more with the bulk foods

Cold weather sharpens appetites and calls for hearty meals. Here are some favorite ideas for winter-time meals, using the inexpensive bulk foods—rice, lentils—and macaroni products.

SPLIT PEA OR LENTIL SOUP
It's nice to float sauteed slices of frankfurter on this soup and serve it with hot garlic French bread for a supper main dish. Place 2 cups washed split peas or lentils in a large kettle and add 2 quarts of water, 3 or 4 stalks of celery, 2 carrots, 1 medium-size onion, a bay leaf, and salt and pepper. If you have it, add the bone left from a roast, a few slices of salt pork or bits of bacon sauteed until brown, or a couple of tablespoons of meat dripping. Boil rapidly for 20 minutes and then simmer slowly about 2 hours, or until peas are soft and tender. Add more water if necessary. Serves 6 to 8.

DEVILED MACARONI OR NOODLES
To make an unusual accompaniment for meat loaf or pot roast, season about 3 cups steaming hot macaroni or noodles with 1 to 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, a dash or two of Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 cup grated sharp cheese, and butter or margarine. Sometimes a couple of tablespoons of chopped onion may be added.

HOW TO USE LEFT-OVER RICE
Rice is so easy to keep and so convenient to have on hand that it's a good idea to cook plenty extra. Just store it in a covered container in the refrigerator. Here are some favorite ways with leftover rice—

RICE CAKES—To each cup of cooked rice add 1 slightly beaten egg. Mix well. Drop by spoonfuls in hot shortening in a frying pan. Brown slowly, turning once. Serve hot, plain or with syrup.

RICE WAFFLES OR MUFFINS—Substitute cold, cooked rice for 1/2 the flour in your favorite waffle or muffin recipe. Bake as usual.

ADD cooked rice to soup, stuffing, or make it into rice pudding.
