Home Construction To Be Underway by Mar. 1 in Portland

PORTLAND, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Home builders should have enough materials to get construction generally underway in this area by March 1, Mayor Riley said today on return from a housing conference at Washington.

Although such materials as lumber, clay products, and electrical fixtures are scarce, top priorities for home construction should make a sufficient supply available, he reported.

In Washington he conferred with housing officials and heads of municipal associations.

Gurske Blames Carelessness For 500 Lives

Caution and thought might have saved 500 lives in Oregon last year, and surely would have saved 400, Paul Gurske, chairman of the state industrial accident commission, told the Salem Lions club Thursday noon.

There were 42,000 accidents reported to his commission last year, a reduction of 14,000 from 1943's record. One hundred eighteen fatal industrial accidents were recorded, with logging and log hauling heading the list, followed by sawmilling. Shipbuilding had 15 per cent less fatal accidents than the logging industry, largely because of safety precautions, he declared.

The commission paid out $5,326,200 for largely preventable accidents last year, he said, but industrialists did not lead in the number of preventable accidents. There were 345 fatalities among 4000 automobile accidents reported, and $27,156 was paid out of the fund for care of indigents injured in such accidents.

Gurske told of lives lost in logging operations because the orders of the commission had been flouted, and of other loss of life because simple precautions were not followed.

The Salem Lions club is sponsoring an educational program for motorists and pedestrians, urging caution.

Motorist Gives Policeman Ticket

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 17.—(AP)—The Rev. Walter Kerr, stopped by a traffic policeman, identified himself as pastor of the Central Methodist church.

"I'm a Methodist myself," said the policeman, "but not a member of the Austin church."

Kerr then handed the officer a ticket — an application for transfer of his membership to Kerr's church. The policeman signed. Then he tore up the traffic ticket he had been writing.

Meat Principals Confer Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, seeking to settle the meat strike, conferred jointly and separately with the disputants today and asked them to return for further meetings tomorrow morning.

The conferences, which federal officials had hoped earlier might produce an agreement in the two-day-old strike, developed instead into "exploratory sessions."

Both AFL and CIO representatives reported after that nothing new had developed and that Schwellenbach appeared to be seeking information.

French Begin Prosecution With Death Penalty Plea for Nazis

By JOSEPH DYNAN
NUERNBERG, Germany, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A wartime French resistance chieftain today charged 22 top nazis with torture, lootings and persecution and demanded the "supreme penalty" for them as an essential first step in re-educating Germany.

It was the first time that the prosecution had called directly for death sentences for the nazis on trial before the international military tribunal. The demand was voiced by a former minister of justice of France, Francois de Menthon, 46-year-old philosophy professor at Nancy, who began France's case against the nazis.

Courtroom Packed
The courtroom was packed and tense. The defendants plainly felt the full impact of the death penalty demand. With long, sad faces, they sat limply, listening in silence and looking straight at the prosecutor, Reichsmarschal Goering suffering a head cold, appeared in court bundled up in a polka-dot scarf.

Must Be Shown
De Menthon asserted that the Germans must be shown that organized brutality as embodied in national socialism and its doctrines is the "crime of crimes" leading only to "material and moral perdition."

The wounded war veteran said that the German people for many years have been "intoxicated by nazism" and that their re-education is indispensable.

He declared the "initial condemnation of Nazi Germany by your high tribunal" would be the first lesson for the Germans.

Willamette Prof Discusses Teen Agers at Club

Adolescents of today are products of today's culture, Dr. Lawrence Riggs, professor of education at Willamette university, maintained as he addressed the Hollywood Lions club at its Wednesday noon meeting.

Because there are not sufficient jobs for all of the young, the old and the middle-aged, boys and girls are kept in school longer than they were only a comparatively short time ago, a practice which has given rise, he said, to the saying that "Life begins at 3:30."

The urge of the individual for a status, a feeling of permanency, a feeling of being needed, has been a determining factor in the mental maladjustment of many young persons, he declared. Needed and responsive to calls from industry during the war, many are now being pushed into the background, he pointed out.

Schools are readjusting their curricula to turn out, not just scholars but well rounded individuals, he declared, urging that communities face their responsibility in planning for human conservation.

Carlton Co-op Creamery Shareholders to Meet

McMINNVILLE, Ore., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Nearly 1500 are expected to attend the annual meeting of shareholders of the Farmers' Co-operative Creamery at Carlton here Jan. 30.

Officials said the plant, third largest creamery in Oregon, handled 46 per cent more butterfat in 1945 than in 1944.

About $241,166 worth of certificates of participation in the co-operative's capital reserve will be distributed and four directors and a nominating committee elected.

CIO Electric Chief Agrees to Morse's Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A senator who strayed from the subject of a committee hearing today obtained a union offer to arbitrate in the three-day-old strike of 200,000 electrical workers.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.), himself a former labor department arbitrator and former public member of the war labor board, seized the opportunity as the senator labor committee was hearing Albert J. Fitzgerald, president of the CIO United Electrical Workers union. Fitzgerald was testifying in opposition to the president's fact-finding bill.

In reply to questions from Morse, the union chief said he is willing for the electrical wage dispute to be arbitrated from scratch, and without regard to any settlements which may be made in steel and other industries. The union seeks a $2 a day wage increase.

There was no immediate reply to the arbitration proposal from the three companies — General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors electrical division, which make most of the nation's electrical appliances.
