

Seen and Heard....

By Jerome English

TEA HOSTESSES... on Wednesday Mrs. Robert L. Elstrom and Mrs. Gardner Knapp entertained at tea at the Elstrom's attractive home... Mrs. Elstrom wore a black silk afternoon frock with red aash at the side and Mrs. Knapp was in black with a blue inset on the bodice... both had pretty corsages of pink and white camellias... This was the last in a series of mid-winter parties the hostesses have arranged the past week... On the tea table was a low crystal bowl filled with red roses and white tapers.

A TELEPHONE CALL from Emil Sick of Seattle this week to his Salem friends telling that his eldest daughter, Patricia, was married in New York to a Seattle man on Wednesday... There for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minton who left Salem in the fall for the east coast... Robert is now studying journalism at Columbia university and Helen is now employed in the office of Time magazine.

FOR A BRIDE-ELECT... Mrs. Harold Shogren and Mrs. Manfred Olson were tea hostesses last Saturday for Jean McElhinny, who will change her name to Mrs. Norman Nelson on February 3... A sign of spring... with bouquets of roses, iris, acacia, pink and white camellias. Little Karen Johnson, carrying a darling nosegay, opened the door... Three junior high school girls in long dresses who assisted... Sue McElhinny, Betty Cooley and Catherine Siegmund...

Receiving before the fireplace... Jean in black crepe with roses pinned at the neckline of her gown... her mother, Mrs. Charles S. McElhinny, in black velvet and a corsage of red roses... Mrs. Shogren in a deep purple velvet gown and Mrs. Olson wearing aloha blue crepe...

Sighted... Mother and daughters together... Mrs. Daniel J. McLellan and young Mrs. McLellan, Jr... the latter in black wool and a high crowned black felt hat enhanced with gold... she and her small son, Daniel, III, expect to leave this weekend for Madras to join Mr. McLellan, who has already secured a house... Mrs. Ray A. Yocom, with her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Carlin... Mrs. M. P. Duffy with her two attractive daughters, Florence and Doris, the latter now Mrs. Stuart McElhinny... Joining them for tea was Mrs. William McElhinny (Marjorie Hill) wearing a tricky black hat with white feather extending down the side... Mrs. G. Frederick Chambers and Mrs. Douglas Chambers, wearing clever hats... the former's of red net and multi-colored feathers on the crown... and the latter wore a perky grey felt sailor.

Chatting over the tea cups... Mrs. Ralph Nohlgren who had just had a visit with Mrs. John Kelly and her two small children, who were enroute south to Shoenaker, Calif., to join John, who is there with the navy... Jean Fries over from McMinnville, is enjoying her society editor's job on the paper there... Mrs. Ivan Hunt, here for a visit from California, greeting old friends... Mrs. A. C. Haag in black and wearing a good-looking black hat enhanced with wide black satin ribbon band and pink roses on the high crown... A chic twosome... Marjorie Tye in a beige suit with brown hat trimmed in gold and petite, blonde Helen Taylor in a black tulle with open crown... Mrs. Earl Cooley looked smart in a black suit with furs and black hat with veiling.

NEW ADDRESSES... Mr. and Mrs. Victor H. Collins and daughter, Marilyn, have moved to their newly purchased home on South 12th street... They have been at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reinholdt. Capt. and Mrs. William A. Sisson and son, Billy, moved last
