TOP O' THE TANK FERMENTATION GIVES Columbia Ale IT'S UNUSUAL, DISTINCTLY-DIFFERENT Texture Just as you can feel the fine texture of silk so can you taste the lighter, more-delicate "Top o' The Tank Texture" of Columbia Ale. Copyright 1945 by COLUMBIA BREWERIES Inc. Tacoma, Wash. If you are one of the many thousands who enjoy Columbia Ale, but have wondered how it got its delightfully different "texture," perhaps we can explain. A completely different method of fermentation is employed in the brewing of Columbia Ale. A highly-cultured, unusual-acting type of surface or "top" yeast, is used to activate the brew. Unlike other yeasts, this variety floats buoyantly at the top of the tank and the fermenting action is downward from the top, rather than upward from the bottom. This distinctly different method of fermentation results in the distinctly different "texture" of Columbia Ale, the lighter, smoother, more delicate "Top o' The Tank Texture" which so many enjoy but find difficult to explain. If you are not among the thousands who enjoy this unusual beverage try a bottle today. Sip it at your favorite tavern, or take a few bottles home. You'll find it delightful before, or with, dinner, on summer outings, or at bedtime. Your guests will enjoy it, too. All taverns, beverage stores and grocers carry it for your pleasure. ...with the TOP O' THE TANK Texture AVAILABLE AT YOUR FAVORITE TAVERN OR GROCER'S

NEW "All-Electric Home" RATE available to you if you have ELECTRIC COOKING and ELECTRIC HOT WATER

• You've always wanted to go "All-Electric." Now PGE makes it easier than ever before with a new low rate providing homes and farms with electricity literally "cheap enough to burn." The new low rate is designed to encourage the use of electricity for all purposes in the home and on the farm. PGE customers now using electricity for cooking and water heating will get this new rate upon application. Others will qualify and can apply as soon as they install both an electric range and water heater. Pennies are now too big to measure the cost of kilowatt-hours in PGE territory! The cost is down to mills. Under the new rate, range and water heater users will get 300 kilowatt-hours of electricity for a minimum charge of only $4.50 and another 700 for 6 mills per kilowatt-hour. Excess kilowatt hours beyond 1,000 per month cost 8 1/2 mills.

A customer with neither electric cooking nor water heating will pay only $2.94 additional for average use of both * The average home without electric cooking or water heating uses about 100 kwh a month at a cost of $3.00. The new "All-Electric" rate will apply after adding range and water heater, and the electric consumption will then be about 540 kwh, costing $5.94 a month, an increase of only $2.94 for both cooking and water heating.

Diversified Use Makes Lower Rates Possible Not only greater use of electricity, but more diversified use, makes lower rates possible. The "All-Electric" rate will encourage full home use of electricity by diversified appliances which, taken all together, provide a more even, "constant level" use of electric distribution facilities. This enables us to supply you with more electricity, at a lower rate. The new "All-Electric" rate gives advance savings to those who use electricity for three of the most important jobs in the home—lighting, cooking and water heating—and in addition speeds the trend toward lower and lower rates for all customers.

APPLICATION FOR THE NEW "ALL ELECTRIC HOME" RATE - PORTLAND GENERAL ELECTRIC CO. Portland, Oregon Gentlemen: Please enter my application for the new "All-Electric" rate. I use an electric range and electric water heater and I understand that I shall be billed a minimum of $4.50 each month for which I am entitled to use 300 kwh's of electricity. Name.....
