

15 Billions for Defense Asked By President

(Story Also on Page 1)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—(AP)—To discharge "the great responsibility" which has placed upon this country, President Truman today budgeted $15,000,000,000 for defense, occupation and war liquidation in fiscal 1947.

He noted that this "large sum" is "10 times our expenditures for defense before the war; it amounts to about 10 per cent of our expected national income."

He observed too, in his message to congress, that it emphasizes "the great scope" for economy which he said would be accomplished by combining the war and navy departments, as he has previously recommended.

2,000,000 Men Needed

The estimates called for a strength of 1,500,000 men in the army and 500,000 in the navy for this calendar year. These are the July 1 goals after demobilization.

"In case the campaign for volunteers does not produce that number," Mr. Truman wrote, "it will be necessary by additional legislation to extend the selective service act beyond May 16, the date of expiration under existing law."

"That is the only way we can get the men and bring back our veterans. There is no other way. Action along this line should not be postponed beyond March, in order to avoid uncertainty and disruption."

Other Expenses Set

The war and navy departments themselves are expected to spend $13,000,000,000. Detailed estimates will go to congress later.

An additional $3,000,000,000 will be spent by such agencies as the maritime commission, war shipping administration, OPA and UNRRA.

Regarding countries where our troops still are stationed, the president said:

Germany—Effective controls will be maintained until the people have regained the right to a place of "honor and respect." The allied control council has not been an "unqualified success" but has made encouraging progress.

Democratic China Sought

Japan—The United States will continue primary authority and responsibility for control until the people pick their own form of government by a freely expressed choice.

China—Our basic policy in the far east is "to encourage the development of a strong, independent, united and democratic China."

Korea—Sovereignty will be restored and a democratic government established by free will of the people as rapidly as practicable.

To congress, Mr. Truman made these recommendations for:

Hawaii, statehood.

Alaska, statehood when it is certain Alaskans want it.

Bergamo Waived Out

ST LOUIS, Jan. 21—(AP)—Augie Bergamo, third best hitting outfielder in the National league in 1945 among those playing at least 75 games, has been waived out of the major leagues. It was learned today. Bergamo, a member of the St. Louis Cardinals during 1944 and 1945, hit .316 in 94 games last season.

Cubs Release Hughes

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs today announced release on waiver of Shortstop Roy Hughes to the Philadelphia Phils, sending the 35-year-old veteran back to the club he was with in 1939. The move paved the way for Bob Sturgeon, recently discharged from the service, to take the shortstop berth with the Cubs.

AIRPORT BILL READ

An ordinance bill creating the office of airport manager and authorizing the city council to establish the salary was given first and second of three required readings before the council Monday night, without comment. A resolution calling for appointment of an airport commission of five persons not members of the council or employees of the city was referred to the council's airport committee.

City-Ownership Held Barrier to Annexation Plan

Property owners in Candelaria Heights and Buena Vista, south of Salem's city limits and west of the Pacific highway, are preparing a petition to come into the corporate limits of Salem, but need the signature of a representative of the city because Salem owns property there, the council was told Monday night. Action on the request was postponed for two weeks when Alderman A. H. Gille said he believed there might be some irregularity about it.

In the audience was a group of residents of a district south of Salem and east of the highway who have refused to consider pleas of the council's annexation committee that they bring their district into Salem. They grinned at the council's action, which is expected to delay presentation of a unanimous petition for their neighbors.

Vets Initiated By Legion Post

Sixteen veterans of world war II were initiated into American Legion Capitol post No. 9, last night. A degree team lead by J. H. Turnbull performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Ruth Byrne, 92, Dies at Home

Mrs. Ruth Ann Byrne, 92, of 1239 Broadway, died Monday afternoon at her residence.

She is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Ada Powers, Mrs. Elma R. McAllister, Mrs. Emily Scott; and a half brother, Edwin Huffman, all of Salem; three grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Funeral services will be announced later by Clough-Barrick funeral home.

Judge Upholds Vets In Housing Squabble

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 21—(AP)—Installation of 100 trailer houses for use by war veterans enrolled at the University of Oregon continued today after Circuit Judge G. F. Skipworth refused an injunction asked by Wilber Hyland and other property owners near Sladden park. Judge Skipworth said he agreed the crowding of the houses created an unsightly condition, but noted "Veterans have no place to lay their heads" and he would not cast them into the street.

Suds Have Visitor

SEATTLE, Jan. 21—(AP)—Hayden Walker of Boise, club owner in the Pioneer baseball league, was in Seattle today to confer with officials of the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast league. Rainier office workers said unofficially a working agreement was being discussed.

ATTEND EUGENE MEET

Douglas McKay, chairman of the Willamette Valley Project association, Carl Hogg and Clay Cochran attended a project flood control meeting Monday night in Eugene, where they represented the city of Salem and the chamber of commerce.

Willamette Valley Drainage Project Vital to Farmers, Engineer Tells Chamber

The comparatively recent addition of drainage to the Willamette valley project will mean much to valley agriculture, William M. MacGibbon, senior engineer with the U. S. army engineers, Portland district, told Salem Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Some time in the far distant future, 13,000,000 acres will be drained because this project was engineered, he declared, maintaining that within the memory of farmers now operating in the valley there has been a considerable change in the speed with which the water runs down from the hills.

Boundary Set For Proposed Fire District

Tentative boundaries for the new Red Hill fire district, south of Salem, were drawn up at a committee meeting last night. The area includes nine communities and parts of six others, of an assessed valuation of about $1,800,000. The committee asked that any people who wish to be included in or stay out of the district contact one of the committee before petitions are circulated later this week.

The committee which drew up the plan include: Reuben Nichol, James Adams, A. L. Lovick, Lewis Judson, and John Dasch. Communities listed include Salem Heights, Liberty, Rosedale, Sunnyside, Pringle, Roberts, Halls Ferry, Riverside, Prospect, and parts of Ankeny, Illabe, Battleground, Pleasant Point, Riekey, and the Salem school district.

Committee Asks Lumber Terminal For Valley Mills

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 21—(AP)—A port development survey committee today recommended state legislatures of Washington, Oregon and Idaho adopt tax and transportation legislation on a similar basis to encourage growth of the Columbia river ports and proposed inland waterways.

The committee also asked establishment of a central lumber terminal to serve Willamette valley mills.

The 18-page report will be presented the 100 members of Mayor Riley's committee January 29.

Limit on Debt Hinders Cities, Speakers Say

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 21—(AP)—Finance officers of Oregon cities and sub-divisions suggested today a revision of the state's 6 per cent constitutional debt limitation is necessary for communities to meet municipal situations.

Growth of smaller Oregon cities during the war and predicted growth of others require ability to adjust schools and municipal services quickly, speakers declared at today's sessions of the League of Oregon Cities and Oregon Finance Officers association.

Gov. Earl Snell declared states and sub-divisions must write a "declaration of independence in the administration of our own affairs." In meeting new demands for services, parks, highways and other civil facilities, local autonomy must be preserved, he said, along with "the capitalistic, competitive free enterprise system."

MacArthur Seizes Erring Jap Plants

TOKYO, Jan. 21—(AP)—Japanese efforts to engineer an undercover recovery of war production machinery to peacetime profit making were halted today by General MacArthur, who seized nearly 400 war plants and ordered the government to cease removal of equipment from their premises.

The seized plants included 265 aircraft and parts factories listed by the allied reparations commission as "first priority material" for removal to other nations. MacArthur ordered cancellation of all previously-issued permits for re-conversion of individual factories, except those "immediately and absolutely essential to the civil economy."

TREAT INJURED PERSONS

Esther Kirkchner, 795 S. 19th St., was treated yesterday by the first aid car after she fell at her home. She was carrying a bottle which broke, cutting her hand and requiring stitches to close the wound. Karrol Schiro, 2, of 1368 Fir St., was treated for bruises after she caught her right hand in a wringer. L. Feskens, Salem, was treated for a cut received when she was butchering rabbits.

City Council Committees Consider Road Changes, Waterfront Developments

Proposed waterfront property development came before Salem city council Monday night in a variety of forms, but no action was taken.

The ways and means committee asked council members to "think over" a $25-a-month lease for a 100-foot stretch of riverbank north of Court street. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Feller, would-be lessees, want to put in sand and gravel bunkers there, Alderman David O'Hara said.

Willard Taylor, who leases moorage and property at the foot of Chemeketa street for the Salem boathouse, asked the council to consider paying half the costs for revetment and concrete steps he would like to put in to replace lighter construction partially destroyed by the December floods. He asked that his request be referred to committee so that the committee might with him seek authority from the army engineers for the work.

Asks Moorage Increase

C. E. Stoller of the Willamette Towing company asked that the 100 foot moorage south of the weather gauge, now leased for towboats' use be increased to 300 feet. Usually large log movements on the river make it necessary to tie up as many as 14 boats there and the space is not sufficient, he declared.

Both Taylor's and Stoller's requests went to the real property committee.

To committees also went a petition for the opening of McCallip road in the neighborhood of Lewis and Howard streets, a request from Macleay grange that the City Sanitary Service be required to cover its trucks when running outside the city so that broken glass and other waste would not be scattered on the highway, a complaint from a Front street resident that the gas company had refused to pipe gas into his residence to serve a hot plate but had demanded that he buy a gas range and water heater, a petition for a street light at 25th and Mill streets, and a petition for improvement of Olive street between 17th street and the east line of Roeske's addition.

Bids on a new grader, opened before the council, were referred to the street committee.

By resolution, the council instructed the street department to paint parallel parking markings on the north side of State street and the south side of Court street, and the west side of 12th between Court and State streets.

West Salem and rural bus lines were given loading zones at the State-Commercial intersection.

Twelve thousand dollars worth of city improvement bonds, $F, were called for payment March 1.

A resolution for vacation of a portion of Turner road at the Rosebraugh plant went to the street committee after Alderman Lloyd Rigdon had called attention to the fact that although it was introduced in the name of that committee it had never been up before it for consideration.

Refer "Setback" Bill

An ordinance bill establishing 10-foot building setback lines "on Capitol street and Fairgrounds road" was referred back to its sponsor to have the description changed. Capitol street ceased to exist before it reaches Fairgrounds road, where its extension is "Portland road."

A new curfew bill embodying changes approved by the council two weeks ago (lowering age limit to 16 years, advancing curfew hours on Friday and Saturday nights to midnight) was given first and second readings, as was a measure providing for the Keith Brown industrial properties zone change in north Salem.

MRS. DAUGHTRY HOME

Mrs. Doe Daughtry, 1490 Lee St., was home from Salem Deaconess hospital Monday.

Investigation on Dennis Will Be Ended Thursday

Gov. Earl Snell was in Portland Monday conferring with Edwin D. Hicks, attorney for Andrew Dennis, who is seeking to have his death sentence commuted to life imprisonment. He is slated to die in the gas chamber Friday for the slaying of his mother-in-law, Anna Belle McNamee, in a Portland apartment house, in January, 1944.

Governor Snell indicated he would complete investigation of the case early Thursday.

AL ADOLPHSON ILL

Al Adolphson, former owner of the Klasic photo shop, is seriously ill in Salem Deaconess hospital. He was taken to the hospital Saturday night after he collapsed while dancing.
