

East, South Salem Fire Plans Made

Dividing Line Set for 2 Rural Departments; Other Districts Invited

FOUR CORNERS, Jan. 31—(Special)—The Four Corners Business Mens association held its monthly meeting Wednesday night and made plans to distribute petitions for the rural fire protection plan when ready. L. Judson from the South Salem fire protection group was at the meeting, and a dividing line for that and the Four Corners group was made. At a suggestion of the state fire marshal, it was decided to meet with the other groups interested in the fire protection plan, to settle on boundaries, so as to give complete coverage. This meeting will be held soon.

At the Wednesday meeting, Al LaBranche appointed chairmen for the various committees of the Four Corners Business Mens association for the year; membership, Ray Russell; entertainment, Hardie Phillips; Boy Scouts, H. Warn, sr.; fire district, Vic Withrow; publicity, L. J. Stewart; building, Fred Smith and Ed Tolbot, co-chairmen.
