"Holly" Says—

Just returned from California where I went to find out something about the jewelry market but I guess those folks in the big cities aren't any smarter than we are—they just seem that way.

Talked one firm out of a few "Threesomes" Remington Electric Razors. Oh, yes—hit the jackpot on sterling silver spangles (or bracelets if you wish) anyway they are beautiful and I bought them before the silver rise. (Sure you can have them at the old prices.)

Watch our ads carefully from now on—think I have something coming!
