Sunday sorties: Fistic fans who went home disgruntled because their 46-21 victory over Silverton leferee Packy McFarland stopped the Duane Hoag-Freddie Steele last week, the district 11 basketquabble at the armory Wednesday when it was apparent all Steele ball squabble for a playing ticket vas doing was covering himself well with both hands in a corner, to the state tournament enters night be put at ease upon learning the following: In the midst of round two at Mt. Angel college

Hoag's two-fisted attack upon Steele in that corner, Hoag's boss Tex Salkeld was heard to scream, "Stop it, Packy, stop it!" McFarland stopped it, for he, not unlike Tex, had previously learned of Jack Von's death and was being doubly sure that the tragedy wouldn't repeat itself on the rapidly wilting Canadian fighter. Steele was whipped and McFarland did the right thing. Had he not stopped it when he did-well, you heard no beefs from the Steele corner, did you? Although steeped in tragedy, the Wednesday card did have its laughs. Particularly when Yappata-yapping Jimmie Garrison, who has talked his way into a lotta things since coming to the village, got himself

the right hand Erickson: From 'Reverend' to Grid Coach

From university registrar and director of admissions to football ler also smashed out his second coach and director of athletics is considerable of a hop in a man's life, but new WU Coach Walt Erickson admits the most marked change and Floyd Bevens combined to in his status lies in the fact that he will now be called "reverend" no longer. As registrar at the Methodist institution, Walt received mail many times labeled "Reverend Walter E. Erickson." And now that he's football coach, the addressees will automatically drop the misnomer. Any relationship between the two is usually a misprint at

Speaking of Erickson, a number of questions have bobbed up concerning the methods with which he intends assaulting end zones in the Northwest conference next fall. So in answer to the one query asked mostly, i.e., "What type of football system will you use?". here's Walt's own words:

"We will use a double-wing and a triple-wing back. The doublewing is a variation of Pop Warner's formation A. The triple-wing differs in that the fullback will be placed at various distances from either the right or left wingback. Both formations will start from a full team shift with the exception of the center, who will be in position over the ball. Experience has shown that speed, power, deception and passing opportunities can be had through these formations. Players have enjoyed playing this type of ball and spectators like to watch it. It has many of the same features of the T formation, particularly deception. Another question, "Do you stress the passing game or do you use it only as an occasional threat?", is also answered: "Passing is an imporant offensive weapon and we will use it to the fullest extent."

WI's Have First Two Games on the Road

Perhaps no one has asked Walt point blank: "How do you think you'll make out?", but if what we've gathered from those who faced his Camas, Wash, elevens a few years ago can be taken as criterion, Erickson & Co. will do okeh. That is, if Walt and his company have anything with which to work. Those who faced the Erickson teams at Camas report they were well coached, full of fire and very hard

What more need be said?

The Willamettes, according to the present conference slate, have two road games next fall before they debut here at home. The Bearcats inaugurate the Erickson regime September 28 at Pacific U and then go to Vansouver, B.C., for an October 5 meeting with U of British Columbia. Linfield is the first Salem opponent for the 'Cats October 11. College of Idaho and College of Puget Sound come to town on ensuing weekends and then three solid weeks are open before Willamette goes to Walla Walla to play Whitman,

Those three open dates will likely be filled with such names as Portland U, San Jose State and another prewar pigskin foe. Portland and San Jose are definite, San Jose in California.

Hogan Extends

Golfing Lead

At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 23 AP)- Playing the third round with painstaking care, Ben Hogan, the little pro from Hershey, Pa., met all challenges today to post a four-under par 68 and increase his lead in the Pensacola open golf tournament to three strokes.

He led by two strokes yesterday. Hogan's total of 203 gave him an edge of three strokes over Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles and four over Freddie Haas, jr., of New Orleans. Mangrum, playing in the final threesome of the day with Haas and Hogan, matched the leader stroke for stroke and each finished with 35-33--68. Haas had a 34-36--70, two under par.

N. C., who was tied for second with Haas yesterday, had an uneventful round of three birdies, giving him a one-under 71 and fourth place at 208.

Dutch Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., posted a 69 for sixth place tie with Joe Brown of Des Moines, a 210. Brown had a 68.

Prep Basketball Roundup:

More Oregon high schools were nearer berths in the state basketball tournament next month after Friday night games across the state. A hard-fought battle against Toledo gave Lebanon a 41-39 victory, clinching it for at least a tie in district 7. Statistics still give Corvallis, which beat Sweet Home, 51-41a chance but the Spartans would have to score two more victories and see Lebanon upset by Sweet Home March 1 to get a final tie. Both Roosevelt and Commerce of Portland, battling for the city's second tourney berth, won Friday to remain in a tie behind Washington. Washington is "in." In Central Oregon play, 2 finals.

Prineville took a tight hold on district 3 laurels by beating Redmond, 43-33, but the tourney entrant will emerge from a tournament between Prineville, Bend, Redmond and Lakeview March 8-9.

West Linn knocked over Hillsboro, 39-29. Friday but it didn't harm the Hillsboro district standing. The loss did give Mc-Minnville the TYV league title, however, McMinnville marched on with a 36-31 win over Newberg.
