

Stroke Takes UO Art Dean, E. F. Lawrence

EUGENE, Feb. 27 (AP)—E. F. Lawrence, dean of the school of architecture and allied arts at the University of Oregon since 1932, was stricken at the Faculty club on the University of Oregon campus and was rushed to the hospital but died before arrival there.

Dean Lawrence had been professor at the architectural school since 1914 and was in partnership with his son, Abbott Lawrence in the architectural firm of Lawrence and Lawrence at Portland.

Before coming to Oregon in 1914, he practiced architecture at Portland, Me., and at Boston, Mass. He was educated at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston.

Dean Lawrence was member of the Portland city planning commission of the Oregon State Teachers' association, the Association of College Schools of Architecture, the Pacific Coast League of Architects and the Portland Architects club.

He is survived by his widow, living at Portland, and by three sons, Abbott, Dennison and Amos M. Lawrence.

2500 Troops Stage Revolt in India Province

BOMBAY, Feb. 27 (AP)—A telephone report to Nagpur in central India said 2500 Indian troops had revolted today at Jabulpore, 550 miles northeast of Bombay, marching out of their barracks, and that revolvers and bayonets had been used in attempts to stop them.

The message to Nagpur, provincial capital 150 miles south of Jabulpore, said the troops paraded through the streets carrying Congress and Moslem league flags.

The situation was reported tense, with increasing numbers of men leaving their barracks.

The troops protested a court martial sentence on a captain who had served in the Japanese-sponsored Indian national army, the dispatch added.

Texas School Rejects Negro

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 27 (AP)—The University of Texas has refused to register Herman Marion Sweett, Houston negro, as a student in its law school and has asked Attorney General Grover Sellers for an opinion on whether a "person of negro ancestry, otherwise qualified for admission may be admitted as a student."

President Calls on Herbert Hoover, Leaders To Persuade Americans to Conserve Food

By Harvey L. Scandrett
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—President Truman enlisted the aid of Herbert Hoover and other leaders today in a drive to persuade Americans to eat less so that more food can go to the hungry populations of Europe and Asia.

He invited the former president, the outstanding food expert after World War I, to help map the campaign at a White House conference Friday. Mr. Truman announced Mr. Hoover's acceptance in telegrams inviting 12 other "public spirited citizens" to the meeting.

Mr. Hoover earlier gave support to the president's appeal for food saving to cope with famine abroad and expressed belief it was possible to meet the need by voluntary action.

"Our national self respect and our duties as human beings demand that we do all possible to stop the spread of famine," Mr. Truman's telegrams said.

"I have directed the agencies of government to do everything possible to this end. But government alone is not enough.

"We can not meet this situation without an aggressive voluntary program on the part of private citizens to reduce food consumption in this country."

The meeting will be under the auspices of Secretary of Commerce Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and Assistant Secretary of State Clayton, representing Secretary Byrnes, Charles G. Ross, White House press secretary, said that a cabinet subcommittee which has been studying the situation, recommended the voluntary campaign.

"In the first world war," Mr. Hoover said in a statement February 8, "we placed food consumption on a moral and Christian appeal and voluntary organization of the housewives, eating places and the food trade.

"We have now, in this war, had experience with compulsory rationing and an examination will show that consumption per capita was no greater and probably less under the voluntary system."

In the meantime a well-fed world in the future was forecast by Secretary Anderson.

"Agricultural and nutritional science have been developed to the point where it is now possible to banish hunger from the earth," the agriculture secretary said in testimony before the house appropriations committee, released today.

Duo Pianists Win Audience Acclaim at Local Concert

By Maxine Buren
Vera Appleton and Michael Field really won the audience's heart at the high school Wednesday night when they played a duo-piano concert. Leaving the hall, this reviewer was admonished repeatedly to "do well" by the players — as if her pleasure had not been as great as theirs.

The duo pianists displayed a charming mixture of naive and poised, and there was no question as to their talent and sympathetic musicianship.

The pair listed a program ranging from the pompous Liszt grand concert variations to the very rhythmic "Brazileira" by Milhaud, with a generous number of extras thrown in.

Even the more staid local musicians reveled in the bright rhythms and enjoyed especially the youthfulness and romance brought into the music by Appleton and Field.

Andante Masterpiece
Probably the masterpiece of the program was the andante and variations by Schumann which was unsurpassed in lovely melody and beauty of interpretation.

Another nice number was a "Tocatta" written for the two pianists by Anis Fuleihan.

I personally enjoyed the flamboyance of the "Grand Concert" variations by Liszt, though outvoted in favor of the more spirited offerings by those who know music better than I. "Flight of the Bumble Bee," written by Victor Babin from the Rimsky-Korsakoff composition was another of the fine numbers and was repeated by request. Their beautiful interpretation of "Blue Danube" was also drew loud applause and was partially repeated. Precision in timing was characteristic of their playing in both.

Encores Given
Encores were given after just the right amount of hesitancy, followed instantly by a pleased acceptance of the audience's appeals for more. The pianists were indeed charming and played in addition to their regular program "Minute Waltz" by Chopin, two preludes by Gershwin, "Jamaican Rhumba" by Benjamin, and "Sword Dance" by Khatchaturian.

One could laud the players through many paragraphs, but it is enough to say that they'll be listed among the topmost in enjoyment of programs brought by the Community Concert association through the years.

In reply, Mrs. Bess W. Truman wrote that she and her daughter, Margaret, deeply appreciated the church's congratulations and "are pleased to know of the approval of our action."

Company Given Permission to Issue Notes

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27 (AP)—The securities and exchange commission issued an order today permitting Standard Gas and Electric company to issue and sell $51,000,000 of unsecured promissory notes bearing interest of 2 1/2 per cent a year.

The company will use proceeds together with approximately $9,000,000 treasury cash to redeem $58,601,000 of 6 per cent notes and debentures not outstanding. The transaction is part of a proposed new recapitalization plan of Standard, replacing a plan which the SEC approved in November, 1944, and which was upheld last September by a circuit court of appeals.

The notes will be secured by pledge of all Standard's common stock holdings in Pacific Gas and Electric company, Oklahoma Gas and Electric company, the California Oregon Power company, Mountain States Power company, Wisconsin Public Service company, Louisville Gas and Electric company (Delaware), Louisville Gas and Electric company (Kentucky), and Philadelphia company.

Army to Use Pilotless B-17s On Atom Test

ROSWELL FIELD, N.M., Feb. 27 (AP)—The army air forces demonstrated today how to fly a four-engine bomber by remote control—and get it back to the ground all in one piece.

The B-17 used in today's demonstration was one of eight which will be used for instrument recordings at the Bikini atom bomb test, flying unmanned because they must be sent into or near the lethal radioactive bomb cloud. It is essential that the big bombers, most of which are veterans of combat, be brought back intact, with instruments undamaged.

Two planes, one control ship and the other a drone, were brought here today from Clovis field, N.M., for a demonstration before Brig. Gen. Roger Arney, commander of the army aviation section for joint army-navy task force, and Rear Admiral C. A. F. Sprague, commander of the naval aviation of the test, who came here from San Francisco to see the experiment. The navy also is using drone planes in the test.

Weed Killer Wins Approval

RENO, Nev., Feb. 27 (AP)—The western weed control conference for the first time today cautiously endorsed the potent new weed killer, 2, 4-D.

The conference, made up of weed experts from 11 western states, accepted the recommendations of its research committee which found 2, 4-D effective in combating morning glory and such common lawn nuisances as dandelions and plantain. Morning glory is the weed which strangles food crops throughout the west.

Portland was chosen for the meeting next year.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a youngster—Now her Backache is better—Many sufferers refuse nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 8 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 14 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
