Who Wants to Put On Flax Festival For Mt. Angel

MT. ANGEL, Feb. 27—(Special) While all favored resuming the annual flax festival, none wished the job of putting on the celebration. It was suggested that the firemen take charge and receive any profits except a nominal amount for the Businessmen's club. A committee to investigate and make a report at the next meeting of the club which met Monday at the hotel.

The latest local co-op association, the Marion County Dairy-men's association, was represented at the businessmen's meeting Monday noon and asked for the moral support of that body. George Kruse, president of the association, explained its purpose and told of the success of the practice of artificial insemination in other localities.

He introduced Ben Newell, assistant county agent, who stated that the association had a man lined up to take care of the insemination and that work would begin by March 8, although still short of the 1000 cow goal. He said the association called for a $10 membership and a $5 certificate for each cow signed, this amount to go into a revolving investment. In addition, he stated, there was a charge of $7 for each cow to be bred. Farmers were asked to contact any of the officers, Kruse, Art Schwab or Dos Simmons.

Newell said this method had raised the production of the dairy herd in known cases to the extent of increasing the butterfat yield of one cow 40 pounds in one generation.

Peter Gores reported the Red Cross drive would begin March 1 and that the Mt. Angel quota was $1475 of which $900 was assigned to Mt. Angel proper and the rest to the surrounding school districts.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Ollie Mapes and The Streamlined House

The other day a construction firm set up an exhibit in the courthouse square. They built a new "house of the future"—and invited folks to see it.

Drew quite a crowd—with the women sighing over the shiny kitchen, and the men admiring the heating units and insulation.

All except Ollie Mapes. He looks around a spell and goes home. When I get there, he's sitting before his old dutch fireplace, with his feet on the screen, and a melon glass of beer in hand.

"You know," quotes Ollie, "it takes a heap of living to make a home."

Looking around, I see what Ollie means. A room crowded with memories of a life well spent—and the friendly habits of a happy home, from a blazing old-fashioned fire, to a mellow glass of beer with friends. From where I sit, those things do more to make a home than modern streamlined gadgets.
