

EUGENE'S BUILDING VALUATION LIKELY TO EQUAL $800,000

Eugene's building total in this supposedly low year will run around $800,000, according to valuation figures at the office of R. W. Rundlett, city building inspector.

While this is not equal to several past years, it is regarded as an indication that this city has gone ahead in spite of depressive tendencies in business with substantial building and repair programs.

Several months during the year Eugene has ranked with the highest in Oregon and the northwest. So far this month, the building total is quite low, being around $12,000.

The valuation figure for the year to date actually stood at $796,332, according to unofficial figures taken from Mr. Rundlett's records filed with the city clerk.

Most of this year's valuation represents small permits issued in the Montgomery Ward building, being built by Stien Brothers, contractors, for Schaefer Brothers, is one of the large jobs late in the year. The building permit for the Eugene standup plant also boosted the November total.

To date, 537 permits of all types have been issued by the inspector.

EUGENE GAIN HIGHEST

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The monthly building survey of S. W. Straus and Co., received here today, said building permits issued in representative Oregon cities last month exceeded in valuation those issued in November, 1929, and in October of this year.

The figures were: November, 1930, $1,108,513; November, 1929, $1,089,413; October, 1930, $822,959.

The largest percentage of gain was in Eugene, the report said. Building permits issued there last month were valued at $132,391 as against $13,590 in the corresponding month last year.

Portland building permits last month were $602,960 as compared to $919,200 in November, 1929.

Kiwanians to Hold Christmas Meeting

The annual Christmas luncheon and program of the Eugene Kiwanis club will be held Monday noon at the Osburn hotel.

Each Kiwanian is asked to bring a 25-cent present suitable for a child. The gifts are to be sent to boys and girls who will not otherwise receive toys at Christmas.

Dr. Roy Leslie Smith, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, is to give the address for the meeting, his topic to be on Christmas. Special music and other entertainment have been provided for by E. B. Parke.

CLEANUP OF COUNTY ROADS SCHEDULED

A general cleanup of county roads in the central part of the county has been slated by the county court for Monday, according to M. J. Thompson, county traffic man who will be in charge of the cleanup crew.

The plan is to take a truck with four men and go over the principal county roads to pick up tin cans and other rubbish, it was stated. The plan will help in providing temporary employment for a few men and also serve to get the highways in "spick and span" order, Thompson said.

Y. W. C. A. Sponsors Many Activities

Two hundred and eighty-nine interviews were held with girls during the month of November, according to the report issued by Miss Dorothy Thomas, University of Oregon Y. W. C. A. secretary. The interviews were in regard to affairs of the Y, activities, employment, personal problems, and other miscellaneous purposes.

Eight different groups held meetings at the Y. W. C. A. each week of the month, the report continues. These were the cabinet, the executive group, the Frosh commission cabinet, the Frosh commission, the five o'clock vesper, the world fellowship committee, the industrial group, the interchurch committee, and the worship group. In addition there were a number of other committees and groups

SPEAR FISHING IS FOUND BY OFFICER

Several cases of fishing with spear or gaff-hook, an illegal practice, have been found in Lane county this season, according to Rodney Roach, deputy state game warden.

One of the most noticeable cases, he said, was the manner in which salmon have been taken on Sutor creek in western Lane county with spears. The stream is shallow at present and fish have become stranded, being washed up on banks or in extremely shallow riffles, where they are easy prey for spearmen.

Roach has been in western Lane
