High School Students Welcome Arrival of Annual Christmas Vacatio

PROGRAMS GIVEN IN OBSERVANCE OF YULETIDE SEASON

That big event that comes only four times in the life of a normal high school student has happened within the past few days or will happen by Tuesday night. That is—the beginning of Christmas vacation.

It is not only in the anticipation of many gifts that the pupils rejoice, but also for the first break in the schedule of studies that has been followed for about three months. And then after the holidays are over, they will go back with renewed vigor to study and work until the spring vacation.

In all schools, however large or small, programs, plays or other observances of the anniversary have been given. The pupils have worked hard at learning their parts and their productions are outstanding as one of the big events of the high school career.

And in the smaller schools, Christmas trees, on which gifts for all pupils have been put, have been put up. The gifts, many of them only trinkets, were given and received in a spirit of comradship that makes high school one of the happiest times of a lifetime.

EUGENE HIGH

Tryouts for the negative debating team will be held Monday afternoon. The affirmative team h asalready been chosen. It is composed of Theodore Pursley and James Blais.

The girls basketball team gave a banquet, Monday, Dec. 15 in honor of their coach, Miss Fannie Pierce.

Registration for the new semester was held in the roll rooms on Thursday morning, December 18.

Seventy-five Red Cross seals were distributed to each roll room to be sold by the students.

Ruth Griswold was hostess and Jessie Larimer poured at the weekly faculty tea given by the Girls' League on Thursday, Clella McFadden, Jeannette Driver and Ardath Mannagh assisted in service. Christmas decoration were used.

The mixed chorus held an impromptu party Monday night. Officers of the organization are: Lloyd Faust, president; Odna Chapman, vice-president; Esther Strong, secretary-treasurer. Miss Carolyn Woods, music instructor is advisor of the group.

The Alchemists club held a regular meeting Friday. Vernon Nelson and Arthur Porter held a debate in which they discussed the relative merits of copper and praseodymium.

The "E" club initiated 15 men Monday. Those who were initiated wo ntheir letters in football, tennis, or golf.

The French club gave a program Wednesday. The main feature of the program was the play "Le Cadeau de Noel D' Yvonne." Anna Rose Cottrell gave two readings.

CRESWELL HIGH

That the babies of the Albertina Kerr Nursery Home will receive a good supply of Christmas clothing, was made evident December 9, when the Girls' league met for their Christmas tea at the home of Mrs. Grace Kirkham, and Miss Mildred Wilkens as joint hostess. Twenty-five new print dresses and several other articles for the babies were received. After admiring each other's handiwork, the girls spent a busy half hour tearing paper for dresses, and Phyllis Weber the model, and Edith Marquart, her dress maker, received the prize for having made the best paper dress. The girls sang several songs accompanied by Miss Wilkens on the ukelele, after which a delicious tea was served from a table decorated with a tiny Christmas tree and red tapers.

Thursday morning a student body meeting was called and all of the teachers were asked to leave the room. It is too early to reveal the nature of the business in hand, but numerous hints indicate that the Christmas celebration this year is to be a bit different.

Those on the honor roll for the past six weeks are: Seniors, Alma Grousbeck, Robert Ludington, Ama Moras, Loyal Overton, Allyne Spencer and Jeananne Spencer; juniors, Harriet Moore; sophomores, Edna Briggs, Edith Moore, and Ruth Weber; freshmen, Marian Fuller and Marie Hubbell.

"Do you suppose we shall get the mumps?" has been a frequent question among th students since Eldon Young, a senior, has been a victim to that ailment. No symptoms of swollen jaws have been seen yet, and the anxiety is dying down.

After losing their first two conference games the Creswell boys are ready to give Mohawk a hard battle Friday night on the Creswell floor. The girls expect to continue their record started last Friday night when they defeated Coburg 28 to 18.

ELMIRA HIGH

Margaret Wilson has been absent from school the past two weeks. She is expected to return to school Monday.

All of the students are looking forward with great eagerness to the Christmas vacation, which will last for about two weeks.

Helen Hickman, Agnes Hayes and Leonard Clasner were visitors at school Tuesday.

The U. S. history class has just completed maps of the United States and Europe, which are to be put on exhibit at the annual in the spring.

The juniors were defeated in the "English Error" contest. The prize will be a party given in the honor of the seniors.

The slip which was tacked on the bulletin board some time ago for the students to sign who wish to join the Forestry club bears 15 names. Not only boys but girls also are planning on joining the club.

At the last student body meeting Mr. Rhinesmith was authorized to purchase some new books for the library.

The Elmira high school is sending presents to the Children's home in Corvallis.

Lottie Inman, Effie Montgomery and Reva Bryant were absent from school the latter part of last week.

Ronald Trout, Aloha Duckworth and Carl Inman went to Eugene Tuesday evening.

Some of the high school students listened in on the Vonta broadcast Tuesday evening after school.

WALKER HIGH PLAYERS!

Eugene High Girls Assemble Tuesday

The monthly Girls' League assembly was held Tuesday. The first part of the program was devoted to business. Barbara Hansen, chairman of the Christmas bazaar, gave a full report on the affair. Dorothy Parks, chairman of the social committee and Christmas party, invited all the members of the league to attend the party. Eva Charlet, treasurer of the organization, told of the trip to Cottage Grove to tell the girls there of the E. H. S. organization. Lois Margaret Hunt, senior representative on the council, explained the new plan for awarding pins.

Mrs. Beatrice Beebe, English instructor, read "How Come Christmas" by Roark Bradford. The girls' sextet sang the "Cradle Song" by Alexander Macfadyen and "Two Flies" by J. A. Parks. The glee club sang "The Rose in the Bud" by Dorothy Forster. Margery Seobert, the girls' glee club accompanist, accompanied the glee club, and Miss Carolyn Woods, music instructor, accompanied the sextet.

Marion Davis, president of the organization, presided over the meeting.

McKENZIE HIGH

Friday evening held many events o finterest for the pupils of the McKenzie high school. Robert Marx, Helen Marx, and Lucile Millican motored to Eugene where they saw "Whimsy," the play given by the juniors of the Eugene high school. Leaburg high school gave a play on the same night entitled 'Cousin Gene." Anna McArthur entertained a few of the young folks at her home with a "taffy pull."

The senior class is giving a party or the rest of the school on the afternoon of Dec. 24. The girls have found the boys to be slackers in the getting of evergreens and other decorations, but the quality which the boys lacked was supplied by Anna McArthur and Emma Godard, and as a result two Christmas trees and a quantity of evergreens and Oregon grape have made their appearance in the assembly room.

Claude Campbell and Anna McArthur were chosen as student body delegates to the annual Journalism conference at the University of Oregon on January 9 and 10. Emma Godard was eligible to go as student body president, as she was at the conference last year.

Those taking the Bible examination Jan. 9, in either one or both Testaments are: Anna McArthur, Malcolm Hansen, Lloyd Kooser, Emma Godard, Violet Potter, and Beth Jennings.

Much interest was shown in the sophomore English class last Wednesday morning during a debate on the relative merits of Oregon and Washington as a place of residence. The argument was so convincing that for a few minutes it seemed that everyone would surely be moving to Washington soon. However, the "Oregon folks" rose to the occasion and finally came out victors. Lucile Millican and Zula Kickbusch, both Washington exponents, then challenged the class to a debate on the same question with the girls on the "Oregon side." Friday morning they came well prepared for battle and succeeded in completely "snowing under" the poor "Washingtonians."

After a study of ballads the freshman English class was to try its hand at writing a ballad last Thursday. One member of the class, Francis Wilburn, became so enthusiastic that he "handed in" five ballads to the teacher.

SANTA CLARA HIGH

The journalism class met Tuesday afternoon to decide upon the delegates to represent Santa Clara in the annual Press conference, January 9-10. According to the letter received recently from Bill Pittman, chairman of the Prep conference committee, two official delegates may represent the school at the conference, entertainment, and banquet on Saturday night. These two delegates will be Florence Thompson, student body officers division; and Ann Hart press conference division. Other students who will attend the conference are: Garnet Six, Lola Chittock, Howard Beeler, Jessie Thompson, Hamilton Griffin, Arthur Guthrie, Louise Griffin ,and Melba Palmer.

Clifford Winthers returned to school this week after several days absence because of the illness of his brother, Donald.

The plans made for the Christmas holidays were changed after a meeting of the teachers on Monday. At the wish of several teachers who had a long distance to go for the holidays, the opening date of vacation was changed from the twenty-fourth to the nineteenth.

The Girls' Glee club has been practicing on a song for the community Christmas that will be given next Tuesday evening at the hall. Another number to be sung at the new grade school dedication, is being practiced.

The school board has purchased, in addition to the many supplies for the high school, an aneroid barometer for use in Mrs. Godard's science room. Great interest is shown in the use of the barometer in forecasting the local weather, and it is useful in understanding the experimeats of the barometer.

The Santa Clara girls played a practice game with the Baptist girls basketball team on the Baptist church gym floor Wednesday night. Coach Cooper is scheduling as many practice games for the girls and boys on other floors as possible to accustom them to the large floors before the tournament.

The high school program was rushed to be given Friday, after arrangements had been completed for a program on the Wednesday before Christmas. A tree was gotten and decorated by the committees in charge. The following program was arranged: Address, Mr. Cooper; reading, Beatrice Hinton; song, six high school girls; reading, Melba Palmer; song, six girls; reading, Creta Chambers.

WALKER HIGH

"The Felton Mystery" was solved to the satisfaction of a large audience Friday evening.

In the pantomime which followed, the audience apparently was handed a real treat when Elmer Pullen, a hunter, lost his shoes in getting away from a bear. But the real ear-piercing yells came when the bear stopped chasing him, sniffed the shoe and then tumbled over dead. We are sure John Hohman did not realize what he was doing when he skinned the bear and slipped into its hide, and tried to have some fun with his companion hunters, who were to return soon. Not only that, but he did not expect them to come from behind, nor to use a shotgun so accurately.

Lawrence Renne and Floyd Walkley also had parts in the pantomime, when they and a dog were digging a rabbit out of a rotten log. It seemed quite funny to the audience when they made a mis-lick at the rabbit and bit each other.

The biology class is going to turn their energies to a practical project this winter and early spring. Considerable complaint has been heard locally about the damages caused by crows and blackbirds. Just what do they eat at different times of the year? The birds will be caught in traps or shot and brought to school and the contents of their craws investigated. It will then be up to students to determine whether these birds eat beneficial or harmful insects, and seeds.

Mr. Rydell is out of school with the mumps and we certainly miss him at this critical time when we're trying to put on a play. He will be able to come back to school after the Christmas holidays.

COBURG HIGH

The English 1 students are writing autobiographies of their lives. Every Monday a chapter is written, using a single topic, such as "My first day at school." They have completed the first five chapters.

Mrs. Osbourne, the primary teacher, has been ill and has gone to Iowa for medical treatment. Mrs. Harold Hurd is teaching in her place.

The physiology class has been divided into groups of students to test the high school pupils' ears and eyes, and measure their height and weight.

Two high school students, Daisy Adams and Lorinda Stoneberg, have been absent the last few days because of the measles.

Edyth Neat, who has been sick, returned to school Monday morning.

Several of the Coburg boys stayed after the game between Coburg and the Eugene high school to see the game at 7:30 between Santa Clara and the Eugene high.

Wednesday afternoon the blue side is giving a party to the red side, that won in the magazine contest that was held in October. A decorating committee, a refreshment committee and entertainment committee were appointed in the meeting Tuesday morning.

The students of Coburg high wish to extend their appreciation for the contributions persons have given in payment for the mimeograph which was recently purchased.

George McKibben, a former high school student, visited at the high school Wednesday morning.

The boys and girls basketball teams have been doing nicely so far. Last week the boys won over the Creswell boys, 21 to 25, although the girls lost to the Creswell girls by a close margin. Tuesday afternoon the Eugene quintet, in a practice game, defeated the Coburg boys by a score of 27 to 15. Friday evening, at the local gym, three games were played with the St. Mary's hoop teams. Monday a practice game at the local gym will be played between the Coburg girls and the girls of Lindsay high school.

Student body tickets have been returned and are on hand at the school. The students get these tickets after they have paid their student body dues. They admit them to all student activities.

WINSOME PLAYER VAMPS BACHELORS

LEABURG HIGH — (Special) — Bachelor club! There is no Bachelor club!

And sure enough there was no Bachelor club after seven reformed bachelors had cast their "lamps" on the divine Gene.

"Cousin Gene," a three act comedy, was presented by the Leaburg high school Friday night. It was well worth the price of admission just to see Charles Ayers as the winsome girl cousin. And he was winsome, too! No wonder all the young bachelors proceeded to fall in love with him.

Kelly Swafford cleverly played the part of Tony, the famous mixer of soda-water. He nefer vas drunk—hic. And he did manage to get off the stage!

The clima xwas reached when Gene and Ted were to be married tomorrow. But a telegram announcing the coming of Gene's sweetheart saved the day for him. Oh, how relieved he was to get rid of that bally wig, those tight shoes and to be himself once again.

The cast was:

Between the acts were given: "Listen Louie," a German dialogue by Bruce Curry and Richard Smith. Louie didn't know "noddings" and Jake knew twice so "mooch"; piano duet by Miss Thienes and Mrs. Boyer; solo, "Out Where the West Begins," by Wilfred Frazee, accompanied by Harold Frazee.

LORANE HIGH

Those in English II who are exempt from the spelling part of the semester examinations, for having at least a 94 spelling average, are: Eloise Addison, Harold Addison, Kenneth Addison, Luther Anderson, Lois Gowing, Lloyd King, Ruby King, Ira Lohrey, Jimmy Mitchell, Thomas Partney, Reatha Runk, Katherine Schneider and Gertrude Conrad.

Since there is no way of heating the laboratory, the junior science class is moving the "lab" equipment in to the vacant class room, which was previously used for parties and for a store room. The stage and chairs will be transferred into the former laboratory.

The members of the senior class have ordered their class rings announcements, cards, and diplomas.

The Lorane high boys defeated Lowell high in a fast game of basketball Friday night, Dec. 12, at Lorane. At the end of the first half, the score was 8 to 13 in favor of Lowell but in the end, Lorane came out victorious with a score of 25 to 21. Lorane'se high point player was Willard Seales; Lowell's was E. Lawson. The referee was Ray Murray. The Lorane girls played the Presbyterian church team from Cottage Grove and won 32 to 19.

The boy's basketball team practiced with the Cottage Grove high school team Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Robinson attended the banquet given for the principals and coaches of the "B" league at Lee-Duke's in Eugene last Saturday night.

The student body voted Tuesday that names be drawn for Christmas this year. No gift should exceed the 25 cent price limit. A Christmas tree will be put up in the assembly room next Wednesday for the enjoyment of the high school students. Just before school is dismissed Wednesday afternoon, the presents will be passed out.

Eight members of the Eng. III class, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, saw Jackie Coogan in "Tom Sawyer" at the McDonald theatre in Eugene Wednesday evening.

Those neither absent nor tardy during the second six weeks period were: Welby Schneider, Ira Lohrey, Thomas Partney, Perle Lynch, Glen Best, Victor Fellows, Lillian Schaffer, Glen Hayes, Willard Seales, and Car Dunn.

SPRINGFIELD HIGH

Spanish club had a dinner Thursday December 11. Most of the Spanish class was present and Mrs. McKinney was guest of honor. Chile con carne, Spanish chocolate cake, salad and coffee were served. During the meal they sang in Spanish—"Me Gustan Todas," "Romona," and "El Hemimo Nacional de Espana."

Report cards were given out Wednesday. The honor roll is as follows: freshmen, Evelyn Bacus, Beatrice Elmer, Betty Mersdorf, DeEtta Sandgathe, Elizabeth Vail; sophomores, Virginia Christie, Lelia Clark, Robert Elmer, Leola Gates, Melba Harris, Bertha Keenan, Lela Maxwell, Marjorie Prochnow, Florence Vail; juniors, Doris Chase, Beulah Richardson, Hazel Shelly, Lela Squires, George Thatcher, Eldon Ellison; seniors, Myrna Bartholomew, Dawn Church, June Clover, Dale Daniels, Franklin Elmer, Gilbert Ernsting, Dorothy Fisher, Mary Hadley, Ruth Lee, Irene Manley, Daisy Tomseth, Nellie Stuart, Jessie Reals, Marie States, Vernice Hawke, Mina Peterson.

The basketball squad consisting of Gilbert Ernsting, John Lynch, Lloyd Mattison, Bert Tomseth, Gordon Wright, Bruce Squires, Harold Stevenson and the coach went on a barnstorming trip this week-end. It will play Lebanon, Dallas, Monmouth and McMinnville. The squad will return Sunday. Julius Fulop has given the high school players the use of his auto.

The Christmas program is as follows: reading, Faye Parsons; a drill; music by the violin quartet and the girls' sextette; song "Up on the House Top," Velda Bartholomew; and a Christmas play by the Dramatics club.

Interclass Girls' Basketball teams are being organized. A schedule will soon be arranged for the games.

Student body meeting was held Tuesday. Mr. Buell asked if the students wished to have a Christmas tree and dress as little children. It was decided that this would be done. Names were drawn and from now until Christmas all you here is "Whose you got?" "Trade you."

A wrestling mat is being constructed by several of the high school students. When this is finished, wrestling and tumbling will be given in the gym classes.

"33" Wins For Thurston Teams

The Thurton high school basketball teams defeated Dorena here Friday night after two fast and rough games. Score for the boys was 33 to 22 with Platt and Russell as high point men. On the Dorena team Vaughn and Collins were ahead. The score for the girl's game was 23 to 13, with Edmiston, Simmons, and Fox leading for Thurston and Isham and Smith for Dorena.

The Thurston teams will play Mohawk at Marcola Monday night. This game was scheduled for Jan. 2, but was set ahead because the other date is during vacation.

Flora Clement has been absent from school this week because her younger brother and sister have the measles. Emily, Leona, and Alfred Fox were absent Friday.

Vacation here will start with Christmas day and continue until the Monday immediately following New Years day. The high school will have a Christmas tree at the schoolhouse Wednesday afternoon. The students drew names and will get each other small presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baugh visited school one afternoon last week.

Hazel Simmons, Emily Fox, and Nathalie Edmiston motored to Springfield Wednesday to purchase some basketball equipment.

The Thurston alumni basketball team played the Blue River team at Thurston Thursday, winning by a score of 37 to 8.

Checkers has become a popular indoor pastime during noon hours. Perhaps the school will develop some champion checker players.

In a debate last Thursday, the junior science class discussed the advantages and disadvantages of living on a farm. Hazel Simmons was leader for the affirmative team, consisting of girl, and Oscar Clement led the opposing team of boys. The boys won by a three to two vote.

The basketball games played here between St. Mary's and Thurston high resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Thurston girls and a defeat for the boys.

UNIVERSITY HIGH

During Christmas vacation the U. H. S. basketball team will take a "barnstorming" trip into southern Oregon and northern California. They have scheduled four games. Ten men will make the trip.

The all-star volleyball team of University high school has been chosen. On the team is Catharine Mishler, Mary Shore Mishler, Jessie Core, Muluta Read, Betty Wilson, Thora Hult, Alice Hult, Maxine Quimby, and honorable mention, Dorothy Davis. This team has won every game on its schedule.

Dean H. D. Sheldon, of the University of Oregon, has asked the Girls' league to take charge of the sale of Christmas seals this year.

The newspaper, "Static," edited by the sophomore class came off the press for the first time, Wednesday noon. It is to be published regularly, at the nominal price of 5 cents a copy.

An assembly was held Friday morning at the Colonial theatre. Motion pictures were shown of the Hawaiian summer school cruise of the University of Oregon, accompanied with a talk by George Godfrey of the university publicity staff.

The interclass basketball tournament between the classes of U. H. S. had to be played over on account of a three way tie. Each class lost two games. They all have the same original schedule. The class winning will receive one point toward the activity cup.

Christmas greetings from John Steelquist, former U. H. S. student, now living in Brazil, were received by several members of the faculty.

The Glee club contributed four numbers to the Christmas sacred concert given at the Methodist church last Sunday evening. After the Christmas vacation the Glee club will begin work on an operetta.

All musical activities and gymnasium classes were suspended this past week as the cadet teachers were taking their examinations.

The University high school library has subscribed for two additional magazines, "Scribner's" and "The World Tomorrow."

CROW HIGH

Several of the students attended the dance at Mr. Smith's home Thursday evening.

Iris Fitch has been absent from school for several days.

Several of the students, including Frances Miller, Allie Miller, Ilo Freeman, Polly and Anna Rothauge visited in Eugene during the week.

A fine new woven wire fence around the school yard replaces the old board fence which had been standing since the school was first built.

The Crow high school basketball teams defeated the teams from Lorane high school Friday evening at Crow.

GROVE GIRLS ELECT ASSOCIATION HEADS

COTTAGE GROVE HIGH—(Special).—Girls of the Cottage Grove high school, who have for some time felt the need for a girls' league or similar organization, have recently formed the Associated Girl Students. They named Melba Cochran president.

Other officers are Harriet Wiseman, vice-president; Dorothy Stewart, secretary; and Katherine Young, treasurer. The girls will participate as a body in practically all student functions and will sponsor affairs of their own.

COTTAGE GROVE HIGH

A girls' assembly conducted by Melba Cochran, was held Friday morning to discuss the advisability of organizing a girls' league or similar organization in Cottage Grove high school. Some of the officers of the Eugene Girls' league, Marian Davis, president, Helen Harrison, Eva Shaw and Lea Wilson, were present and explained the Eugene league. The Eugene high school girls' advisor, Miss Lamb, introduced the girls.

Miss Jewel Mackinzie, girls' athletic instructor in Cottage Grove, presented Wilberta Wilson with a large letter for having earned 1000 points in sports.

The Cottage Grove teachers' association met Monday evening at the Colonial cafe for a social hour. Herman Lafky was chosen to represent the high school teachers at the state teachers' association meeting to be held in Portland December 29, 30 and 31. Miss Margaret Deck was chosen to represent the grade teachers. Superintendent D. A. Emerson and Mrs. Fay Isom are to represent the county at the state association meeting.

The latter part of the meeting was for the high school teachers. Miss Violet Mills, Miss Merl Bowen and Miss Werdna Isbell reported on types of individual instruction used in different high schools.

The freshmen took a new project in the citizenship contest at their class meeting Wednesday morning. They will put a new score board in the gymnasium and keep the score of all basketball games.

The juniors also took the new project of collecting tinfoil for the Shriners hospital in Portland. The hospital will sell it to help provide for crippled children in the hospital.

WENDLING HIGH

Juanita Hightshew of Mabel, a freshman at the high school, was absent from school Monday.

Dorris Morrow of Fischer's mill, returned to school Monday after being confined in her home two weeks with the measles.

The new suits that were ordered for the boys' basketball team arrived this week and were given out by Coach Gettman. The suits have black trunks and orange jerseys with black lettering. One girls' suit was ordered and was given to Violet Cole, a senior of Marcola.

Mohawk students in Eugene Saturday were Hilma Healy and Esther Cowling of Marcola and Lucille Clearwater of Fischer's mill.

Elizabeth Matteson of Wendling is at present unable to attend school because of illness.

Esther Cowling and Hilma Healy went to Springfield Wednesday evening after school on business for the school newspaper. They are having the paper printed in Springfield now.

The girls' basketball team are putting their numbers on their suits this week. They have not had numbers so far and they will prove a great convenience.

DORENA HIGH

Monday night boys and girls basketball teams played at the Cottage Grove gym. The boys played the junior high team and los twith a score of 9 to 3. The girls played the Presbyterian church team and were defeated 18 to 3.

The boys of the basketball team received new basketball suits. The suits proved to be highly satisfactory.

An entertainment was held at the Farmers' Union hall Saturday night by the high school. It included two farce comedies. One was "Uncle Dick's Mistake." The mistake was in proposing to the wrong woman. The plot portrayed how Sammy, the "terrible kid," got Uncle Dick into the mistake and how Uncle Dick got out make an interesting and laughable comedy.

The other one, "Love at First Sound," was a farce comedy telling the story of Gregory Sandys hurt slightly in an automobile accident and wearing bandaged eyes. Hearing, but not seeing, he falls in love with his nurse at first sound, even the name of Phoebe Ann Green. Humorous complications ensued when Madeline(to whom he was about to propose when the car turned over) enters and renews her efforts to land the Sandys' wealth.

Wendling School Gives Entertainment

WENDLING, Dec. 20.—(Special).—The big Christmas entertainment put on by the grade school in the Wendling Community house took place Friday evening before a large audience. The program was presented by the children of the different grades. The numbers were as follows:

"Welcoming Bells," first grade; "Bouncing Rubber Ball," Letha Rogers; "Brave Little Candle," Bobbie Lynch; "When Pop Played Santa Claus," Esther Weidenkeller; "Christmas Candles," first grade; "Christmas Bouquet," second and third grades; "Ye Old Time Merrie Christmas," fourth and fifth grades; "A Wonderful Christmas," Verner Lawton; "Why," Muriel Dillion; "Ting a Ling a Ling," third grade; "Santa's Whiskers," Linda Lansdon.
