IMPROVEMENTS IN FLORENCE PLANNED

FLORENCE, June 6.—(Special).—Florence's city dads are looking to the appearance of this city for the number of people who will become residents with the opening of the highways which will converge here within the next year.

On top of improving or modernizing the looks of the city, providing for more safety in traffic, which has already increased here, is another thing that has received the city's official consideration. The former Portales residence, which has deteriorated so that the floor is almost gone, and has consequently lured many transients, is due for razing and the owner will be notified to remove it. The celebrated beam, towering in the town, which is the old mill tank, is another thing in line for being doomed, as the owners of this, the council is proposing, will receive notice, to remove it. A third item along the improvement line was the decision to order present town sidewalks leading to the new high school improved and additional sidewalks constructed. As for installing safety lights at the corners of the city the specially fast drivers were taken under consideration, and the suggestion was proffered that stop signs be set up at important traffic points. A more important action was taken however, in instructing the city marshal to halt those extra fast drivers before the law.
