The Portland Beavers cast off Ray Keating because the veteran pitcher had not been able to hurl winning ball. Keating, with his unconditional release, was immediately signed up by Seattle. Friday night, Keating chucked a shutout victory over the Hollywood Shluis who had just taken two of three from the Beavers earlier in the week. While the Friday night showing is no criterion of future performance, it is not an uncommon thing for the castoffs to make their former managers rue what comes to be seen undue haste.

A band of heavy stick artists will be here Sunday from Coquille to sample the pitching wares of one Joe Lillard, sensational gridiron star of the University of Oregon, and one of the fastest hurlers to appear in Eugene. Joe is to pitch for the Eugene Townies Sunday against the Coquille Loggers of the Lane county fairgrounds.

ENGLISH GOLFERS MISS WEST MATCH

CHICAGO, June 13.—(AP)—Tournament officials of the Western Golf association today abandoned hope for the entries of British Ryder cup team members in the western open at Dayton, Ohio, next week.

The Britons sailed later than they anticipated and don't expect to arrive in time for the big western show. Most of the prominent golfers in America have been entered although Johnny Farrell and Walter Hagen are doubtful starters. Among those who have entered are Tommy Armour, newly crowned British open champion and former western open titleholder; Gene Sarazen, defending champion; George Von Elm, Salt Lake City; Ed Dudley, Concordville, Pa.; Morrie Dutra, Long Beach, Cal.; Olin Dutra, Los Angeles; Charles "Chick" Evans, Chicago; Abe Aspinosa, Chicago; Charles Lacey, Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y.; and Bob McDonald, Chicago.

Champion Wrestler

Henry Jones, Provo, Utah, grappler, pitted his years of mat experience against the on's lightning of Walter Achiu's youthful speed and power, and whipwristlocked his way back to the world's junior middleweight wrestling championship. A near-crowd that his adversary and watching for an opening. Both took plenty of punishment which was recorded on the faces of the frenzied mob, and Jones got his opening after 16 minutes of whirlwind fighting. The opening proved disastrous however, for when he whipped Achiu three times through the air and thought he had him, the Chinaman came out of it to break Jones "wide open" with a Sommerberg and lay him on the mat with a simple body slam.

Champion Wrestler

Henry Jones has the junior middleweight. He took it from Walter Achiu with his whip wristlock, if what the fans tell us is true. This time, Henry's trip all the way from Provo, Utah, and his strawberry farm, was not in vain. Henry has made the trip before and gone home without the belt.

Champion Wrestler

Jones took an extra ten minutes before returning for the final fall. He came back into the ring still not quite recovered from the brutal hitting he had received, his white skin contrasting with the rugged tan of the champion. They started fast, each bearing in with the hope of taking the other unawares, and came together in the center of the ring like a railroad collision. Jim Lawson, radio announcer, had to talk with both hands during the ensuing 12 minutes, which ended in a blaze of glory for the challenger when he broke through a barrage of Sommerbergs to whip the champion into submission. Jones was presented the diamond-studded belt.

Champion Wrestler

In the 45-minute special event, Art O'Reilly, University of Oregon terror, defeated Everett Newton, Oregon City, two out of three falls. Newton took the first in 13 minutes with a double toe hold and face being hit. He took the second in 15 minutes with a Boston crab, and the deciding fall in four minutes with a body scissors. Newton was injured at the conclusion of the second fall.
