

WIDE RECOGNITION GIVEN UNIVERSITY RESEARCH ACTIVITY

National recognition, through Babson's Reports, has been accorded the research department of the University of Oregon school of business administration, and in the report for June 15 a large portion of the four page bulletin is devoted to the study made by the university experts on retail stores.

The university research went thoroughly into the causes of why customers leave stores without purchasing, and it found that in 83 per cent of 1483 cases the fault lay entirely with the salespeople, while only 37 per cent was ascribed to high prices, poor methods or inferior merchandise. The editor of the Babson report found this of utmost significance, and in commenting upon it said, "With steady improvement in quality and prices of goods, the retail store is becoming increasingly dependent upon its personnel for satisfactory profits. No store for any length of time maintains an advantage over its competitors in regard to goods or prices, but a personnel that is popular with the clientele will prove to be a valuable and constant asset."

Similarly, the carelessness or inefficiency of a salesperson often means that a customer will transfer his business to another store. We have previously pointed out to clients the responsibility of salespersons in transactions where goods are returned to the store. In both the cases of returned goods and of lost customers, the errors of salespeople are of considerable importance. They may range from indifference, which caused nine per cent of the losses, to overzealousness, which was responsible for six per cent of the withdrawals.

"One of the most important duties of the personnel department is to watch the extent to which the salespersons cause customers to withdraw. Since salespeople are the only members of a store who come in direct contact with the public, their working methods can be a valuable factor in the company's business. With this situation clearly understood, the personnel department is in a strategic position to advance the progress of a retail concern."

governmental debts owing the important creditor nations. The president said his course of action was "entirely consistent with the policy which we have hitherto pursued."

European Problems
We are not overlooking the discussion of the European problems, of which the payment of German reparations is one," he said. "It represents our willingness to make a contribution to the early restoration of world prosperity in which our own people have so deep an interest."

A moratorium on all debts would cost the United States about $245,000,000 during the year, and France in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. Germany's payments ordinarily would amount to about $425,000,000.

In studying his plan for economic recovery by helping distressed Germany, President Hoover sought detailed information, as to conditions in that country. Declining to rely upon available information, he went directly to President Von Hindenburg. The reply was considered confidential, but Secretary Stimson said its description of conditions "corresponds to that obtained from other official and private reports and which is publicly current."

Washington was pleased by the German attitude as explained by Foreign Minister Curtius because it contained a friendly expression toward France. Curtius said his country was anxious "to put a stop to the world economic crisis, and we want to cooperate with France toward that end in every possible manner."

As he awaits France's consideration, President Hoover has approved his plan from Owen D. Young, for whom the present reparations plan was named, Young said.

"The proposal to postpone all debt payments, even for a year, is not only the act of a wise creditor but the helpful word of a great democracy. Coming at a time when we all were beginning to doubt whether a democracy could act promptly, wisely and helpfully, it is most encouraging."

Portland Woman
Sues for $3200

Charging excessive speed and negligence, Mrs. L. A. Early of Portland Monday filed suit in circuit court against L. F. Klink for $3200 damages alleged to have been sustained in an automobile collision in Eugene April 3, 1930.

The damages asked were $2500 for bruises and nervous shock, $500 damage to the automobile and $200 lost through not having the use of the car for two months. The complaint was filed by Lord and Moulton of Portland, attorneys for Mrs. Early.

Mrs. Early's car and a truck operated by Klink came together at the intersection of Thirtieth street and Agate street, the complaint stated.

Well Judge, How About the Price Of Silk Hosiery?

The difference in price standing between spark plugs, balling wire, bath-tubs, service and lamp chimneys on one hand and wool and wheat on the other is seen by Judge L. H. McMahon of Salem as the monkeywrench in the nation's business machinery which has resulted in the present unemployment situation.

The Marion county circuit judge passed through Eugene Monday and discussed present conditions in his inimitable humorous manner.

"How are the business men going to come out of it?" he asked. "Wool and wheat are down 50 per cent—in fact, everything the farmer has is down, while the things he buys do not show a price decline."

"Take spark plugs, for instance, and balling wire. He pays the same for 'em, or more. But he has to take lower prices for his produce. That's the trouble."

POSTAL MEETING
STORY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

president of the second district, Josephine Stark, vice-president of the third district, D. S. Young of Dufur, vice-president of the fourth district, Mrs. Ethel Everon, secretary and treasurer, and J. B. Schaefer of Linton, who attended the national convention last year.

John T. Clapp, member of the national executive committee, gave the address of the forenoon, dwelling upon problems of the third and fourth class postmasters and exhorting all to work toward stamping out communism and bolshevism which, he declared, was trying hard to get a foothold in this country. He said it was much more noticeable in the east and middle west than on the Pacific coast and that the postmasters the country over could do much to counteract the influence of widespread propaganda by seeing that laws in their respective communities are so efficiently and honestly administered that communism and bolshevism will fail to obtain a foothold.

Besides Second Assistant Postmaster General Glover, vice-president M. Curry of the national association and Inspector Crane were on the program Monday afternoon for addresses.

Monday evening at 7 o'clock a banquet will be served with a program of music and readings and an address by E. C. Clement, postoffice inspector from Portland.

Election of officers will take place at Tuesday afternoon's session. The next meeting place will also be named at that time.

Those who had registered for the noon, including postmasters and other officials as well as a number of clerks are as follows:

Registration Given
J. M. Jones, Portland; S. H. Moore, Eugene; J. B. Schaefer, Linton; Harvey Gibson, Barton; Carrie V. Prescott, Winchester; V. J. Kiehl, Pratoria; D. S. Young, Dufur; Sophie M. Mitchell, Yachats; John C. Horn, Elmira; J. B. Kirk, The Dalles; P. F. Close, Silverton; T. W. Angus, Gardiner; Charles W. Perry, Richland; Nettie J. Neill, Marcola; C. C. Presser, Newport; George L. Eder, Yoncalla; R. E. Allen, Kirk; G. W. Gillam, Winchester; Ann L. Morand, Boring; Nancy F. Melvin, West Linn; Carrie M. Purser, Gladstone; Karl A. Brannell, Halset; Veda P. Brannell, Halset; Ethel M. Foster, Clackamas; H. H. Ritter, Nibley; Fred C. Holman, Hillsboro; Roy G. Curtis, Reedsport; W. H. Hays, Brownsville; Josephine T. Stark, Rutherford; E. Brauer, Jasper; G. A. Easterly, Clackamas; Olof Dahlin; Henry F. McReynolds; D. R. Dotson; Eva M. Stewart, Westfir; John A. McCall, Klamath Falls; Elmer F. Merritt, Merrill; C. E. Claine, Seattle; J. Clyde Martin, Grants Pass; W. R. Lyons, Oregon City; D. E. Yoran, Eugene; F. D. Wagner, Ashland; W. E. Everson, Waldport; Nellie P. Hatchwell, Shedd; Cora Eames and W. E. Eames, Warren; Myrtle R. Huddleston, Lonerock; T. S. Small, Hauser; O. A. Volverson, Monmouth; C. A. Ridder, Willamette; Aleck Galtier, Bandon; John T. Clapp, Beech Grove, Ind.; W. Warren, Medford; F. D. Garliner, Forest Grove; Mrs. C. W. Perry and C. S. Hendline, Roseburg; H. A. Cool, Drain; E. C. Clement, Mrs. C. Clement, Portland; Alma Allingham, Coburg; Ellen E. Reynolds, Stayton; Mrs. C. E. Lake and Mrs. Lake, St. Helens; Harold J. McGarry, Sacramento; R. M. Torbert, Albany; S. K. Adams, Saguinaw; W. A. Holmes and wife, W. J. Bird, Lacombe; G. C. Musker and Mrs. Musker, Claverdale; Mrs. Irl Grover and Edith Grover, Grande Ronde; Mrs. Ida Williams, Dexter; C. T. Ingalls, Corvallis; C. T. McDougal, Corvallis.

Outside Towns Get
Pageant Tickets

Ticket sale for the Freiburg Passion play will open at the community in Junction City, Corvallis and Albany Tuesday. Capt. James C. Koenke, chairman of the Legion committee in charge of the great religious pageant here, returned from the national camp Monday and made the final arrangements for opening the ticket offices.

Seats for all performances and at the full price range will be on hand from Tuesday to Friday evening at Hurley's drug store at Junction City; Bergman's drug store at Corvallis and Dawson's drug store at Albany. An attendant will be on hand to handle the tickets.

Son, Daughters Get
Slavens Property

Burrell U. Slavens of Leaburg, Mrs. Rose A. Wilson of Winchester, Idaho, and Mrs. Myrtle Best of Los Angeles, were bequeathed the estate of Margaret Slavens, whose will was admitted to probate Monday.

Mr. Slavens received the house at Leaburg known as the McNamara place, and the three shared equally in the rest of the property.

Margaret Slavens died October 23 at Leaburg.

The First National bank of Eugene was appointed executor of the will.

The largest producer of patent leather among nations is the United States.

WARD'S OPEN AT 8:00 A. M.

SPECIAL
New Shiprient of
SUMMER FROCKS

Regular $1.95
SPECIAL AT $1.29

The smartest women in town are wearing wash dresses. Wear these Frocks anywhere—on the street, traveling, motor-ing, or at home.

Styles to suit the most discriminating tastes—flares, pleats, circulars and flounces.

Patterns that are new, and outstandingly clever. Light and dark materials. Come early! Have first choice of these smart dresses.

Mezzanine Floor

MONTGOMERY WARD & Co.

1059-71 WILLAMETTE PHONE 3220 EUGENE, OREGON

"EUGENE'S FRIENDLIEST STORE"

LAWYER'S SECRET STRONG PHOTOPLAY

"The Lawyer's Secret," an excellently acted and thoroughly convincing drama running the entire gamut of human emotion, from love to hate, from security to dreadful fear, opened a three day run at the Fox McDonald theater here Sunday night.

Charles Rogers makes his initial appearance in a real dramatic role in "The Lawyer's Secret." For the first time on the screen, the engaging and much-engaged young juvenile has an opportunity to display the real acting talent which underlies his romantic popularity. He does a great job in a stirring manner.

Nor is the handsome Rogers portrayed as a mere romantic. He is shown as a real lawyer, a man of forceful action, of Clive Brook and Richard Arlen in the conflicting roles. Brook, as a perjured lawyer in whom love and duty and an appealing human desire fight for mastery, carries the motivating role of the drama. In love with Fay Wray, he is forced to conceal from her, as well as the world, his knowledge that Rogers, her brother, is really guilty of a crime for which Arlen is on trial for his life. Jean Arthur, as Arlen's wife, handles the role with her usual convincing ability.

EDUCATION BOARD
STORY

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

hookup with radio station KOAC at the state college. The board is awaiting a visit of officials of the federal radio commission.

May Close Normal
The board approved reports of the normal school presidents on ways and means of making instruction in normal schools entirely uniform.

There is a possibility that the board will close the La Grande normal in an emergency, as $175,000 could be saved in that way.

MORE FUNDS NEEDED
PORTLAND, June 22.—(AP)—More money must be available for additional buildings, equipment and salaries for the faculty before the normal schools of Oregon can meet the standardization requirements of the American association of teachers' colleges, the state board of education was told today. The board was meeting here today.

It was explained that the three schools at Monmouth, La Grande and Ashland, are well up in the line as far as general requirements demanded from an educational or instruction standard are considered, but are lacking in equipment, buildings and in some faculty personnel demands.

This shortage must be overcome, it was said, before these institutions can be admitted to membership in the association.

At a previous meeting of the board the presidents of the normal schools were directed to prepare a uniform course of study so far as curricular requirements of the basic subjects were concerned, and to report on what would be required for the schools to obtain membership in the American association.

President J. S. Landers of Monmouth said that while that school met nine of the 13 listed requirements, it failed in the matter of dormitory equipment, library building and books, and in regard to training school provisions for teacher training work. This lack could be met only by additional money, Landers said.

SALEM, June 22.—(AP)—Book-keeping departments of the higher institutions of learning in Oregon will be concentrated at Salem under the state board of higher education after July 1, it was announced to the board of control today. A request for more space for the department on the third floor of the capital building was requested to make room for these activities.

No action was taken by the board on the matter. Governor Julius L. Meier asking the secretary to ascertain if the request for more space was authorized by the higher educational board. William Eirik, secretary of the state board, announced he would visit the various institutions of the state, in company with Dr. E. E. Lindsay, secretary of the higher education board, and ascertain what room would be necessary for the book-keeping departments.

COMPANY TO RETURN
SPRINGFIELD, June 22.—(Special).—Members of Headquarters company, first battalion, 1624 infantry of the coast guard, announced their return from the annual summer encampment at Fort Clatsop Tuesday. Two officers, Lt. Tom Swarts and Lt. Walter Gossler, and 16 men, attended camp this year.

A cat belonging to F. L. Bradley of Weston, Tex., mothered two of her own kittens, three squirrels and a rabbit.

WIDE RECOGNITION GIVEN UNIVERSITY RESEARCH ACTIVITY

National recognition, through Babson's Reports, has been accorded the research department of the University of Oregon school of business administration, and in the report for June 15 a large portion of the four page bulletin is devoted to the study made by the university experts on retail stores.

The university research went thoroughly into the causes of why customers leave stores without purchasing, and it found that in 83 per cent of 1483 cases the fault lay entirely with the salespeople, while only 37 per cent was ascribed to high prices, poor methods or inferior merchandise. The editor of the Babson report found this of utmost significance, and in commenting upon it said, "With steady improvement in quality and prices of goods, the retail store is becoming increasingly dependent upon its personnel for satisfactory profits. No store for any length of time maintains an advantage over its competitors in regard to goods or prices, but a personnel that is popular with the clientele will prove to be a valuable and constant asset."

Similarly, the carelessness or inefficiency of a salesperson often means that a customer will transfer his business to another store. We have previously pointed out to clients the responsibility of salespersons in transactions where goods are returned to the store. In both the cases of returned goods and of lost customers, the errors of salespeople are of considerable importance. They may range from indifference, which caused nine per cent of the losses, to overzealousness, which was responsible for six per cent of the withdrawals.

"One of the most important duties of the personnel department is to watch the extent to which the salespersons cause customers to withdraw. Since salespeople are the only members of a store who come in direct contact with the public, their working methods can be a valuable factor in the company's business. With this situation clearly understood, the personnel department is in a strategic position to advance the progress of a retail concern."

governmental debts owing the important creditor nations. The president said his course of action was "entirely consistent with the policy which we have hitherto pursued."

European Problems
We are not overlooking the discussion of the European problems, of which the payment of German reparations is one," he said. "It represents our willingness to make a contribution to the early restoration of world prosperity in which our own people have so deep an interest."

A moratorium on all debts would cost the United States about $245,000,000 during the year, and France in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. Germany's payments ordinarily would amount to about $425,000,000.

In studying his plan for economic recovery by helping distressed Germany, President Hoover sought detailed information, as to conditions in that country. Declining to rely upon available information, he went directly to President Von Hindenburg. The reply was considered confidential, but Secretary Stimson said its description of conditions "corresponds to that obtained from other official and private reports and which is publicly current."

Washington was pleased by the German attitude as explained by Foreign Minister Curtius because it contained a friendly expression toward France. Curtius said his country was anxious "to put a stop to the world economic crisis, and we want to cooperate with France toward that end in every possible manner."

As he awaits France's consideration, President Hoover has approved his plan from Owen D. Young, for whom the present reparations plan was named, Young said.

"The proposal to postpone all debt payments, even for a year, is not only the act of a wise creditor but the helpful word of a great democracy. Coming at a time when we all were beginning to doubt whether a democracy could act promptly, wisely and helpfully, it is most encouraging."

Portland Woman
Sues for $3200

Charging excessive speed and negligence, Mrs. L. A. Early of Portland Monday filed suit in circuit court against L. F. Klink for $3200 damages alleged to have been sustained in an automobile collision in Eugene April 3, 1930.

The damages asked were $2500 for bruises and nervous shock, $500 damage to the automobile and $200 lost through not having the use of the car for two months. The complaint was filed by Lord and Moulton of Portland, attorneys for Mrs. Early.

Mrs. Early's car and a truck operated by Klink came together at the intersection of Thirtieth street and Agate street, the complaint stated.

WIDE RECOGNITION GIVEN UNIVERSITY RESEARCH ACTIVITY

National recognition, through Babson's Reports, has been accorded the research department of the University of Oregon school of business administration, and in the report for June 15 a large portion of the four page bulletin is devoted to the study made by the university experts on retail stores.

The university research went thoroughly into the causes of why customers leave stores without purchasing, and it found that in 83 per cent of 1483 cases the fault lay entirely with the salespeople, while only 37 per cent was ascribed to high prices, poor methods or inferior merchandise. The editor of the Babson report found this of utmost significance, and in commenting upon it said, "With steady improvement in quality and prices of goods, the retail store is becoming increasingly dependent upon its personnel for satisfactory profits. No store for any length of time maintains an advantage over its competitors in regard to goods or prices, but a personnel that is popular with the clientele will prove to be a valuable and constant asset."

Similarly, the carelessness or inefficiency of a salesperson often means that a customer will transfer his business to another store. We have previously pointed out to clients the responsibility of salespersons in transactions where goods are returned to the store. In both the cases of returned goods and of lost customers, the errors of salespeople are of considerable importance. They may range from indifference, which caused nine per cent of the losses, to overzealousness, which was responsible for six per cent of the withdrawals.

"One of the most important duties of the personnel department is to watch the extent to which the salespersons cause customers to withdraw. Since salespeople are the only members of a store who come in direct contact with the public, their working methods can be a valuable factor in the company's business. With this situation clearly understood, the personnel department is in a strategic position to advance the progress of a retail concern."

governmental debts owing the important creditor nations. The president said his course of action was "entirely consistent with the policy which we have hitherto pursued."

European Problems
We are not overlooking the discussion of the European problems, of which the payment of German reparations is one," he said. "It represents our willingness to make a contribution to the early restoration of world prosperity in which our own people have so deep an interest."

A moratorium on all debts would cost the United States about $245,000,000 during the year, and France in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. Germany's payments ordinarily would amount to about $425,000,000.

In studying his plan for economic recovery by helping distressed Germany, President Hoover sought detailed information, as to conditions in that country. Declining to rely upon available information, he went directly to President Von Hindenburg. The reply was considered confidential, but Secretary Stimson said its description of conditions "corresponds to that obtained from other official and private reports and which is publicly current."

Washington was pleased by the German attitude as explained by Foreign Minister Curtius because it contained a friendly expression toward France. Curtius said his country was anxious "to put a stop to the world economic crisis, and we want to cooperate with France toward that end in every possible manner."

As he awaits France's consideration, President Hoover has approved his plan from Owen D. Young, for whom the present reparations plan was named, Young said.

"The proposal to postpone all debt payments, even for a year, is not only the act of a wise creditor but the helpful word of a great democracy. Coming at a time when we all were beginning to doubt whether a democracy could act promptly, wisely and helpfully, it is most encouraging."

Portland Woman
Sues for $3200

Charging excessive speed and negligence, Mrs. L. A. Early of Portland Monday filed suit in circuit court against L. F. Klink for $3200 damages alleged to have been sustained in an automobile collision in Eugene April 3, 1930.

The damages asked were $2500 for bruises and nervous shock, $500 damage to the automobile and $200 lost through not having the use of the car for two months. The complaint was filed by Lord and Moulton of Portland, attorneys for Mrs. Early.

Mrs. Early's car and a truck operated by Klink came together at the intersection of Thirtieth street and Agate street, the complaint stated.

Ralph & Stanley PRICE CUTTERS

STORE NO. 1—Miner Building, Eugene
STORE NO. 3—960 Charnelton St., Eugene
STORE NO. 4—500 Main Street, Springfield

Prices the Same at All Three Stores

Say!

I have never seen anything like it before. Business was never better in those "good old times." So now we are going to celebrate.

Three Days---Till Thursday Evening

Rice Krispies— Kellogg's, 2 packages	15c	Postum Cereal— Package	15c
Macaroni or Spaghetti— 3 pounds	10c	Wonder Foam Washing Powder—Large pkg.	19c
Margarine— Holiday, pound	9c	Toilet Soap—Fine Arts, 10c kinds, 3 bars	10c
Purex— Pint bottle	7c	Salad Aid— A Durkee Famous Dressing, pint bottle	14c
Quart bottle	13c

Hill's Red Can Coffee Pound	37c	Schilling's Coffee Pound	29c
-----------------------------------	-----	--------------------------------	-----

Certo— Bottle	21c	Soda Crackers— 3 pound box	27c
Beck's Fruit Pectin— 12 ounce bottle	17½c	Royal Baking Powder— 12 ounce can	37c
Cider Vinegar— Gallon	19c	Schilling's Baking Powder— 12 ounce can	33c
Franco-American Baked Beans, No. 1 can	5c	Ripe Olives— No. 1 tall can	10c
Hershey's Cocoa— ½ pound tin	8c	Grape Fruit— Carroon, No. 2 can	12½c
Bread and Butter Pickles— Jar	15c	Zee Toilet Paper— 8 rolls and Turkish Towel for	40c
		Oysters—5 oz. can	10c

Betty's Pride Coffee—
Pound 27c

FREE—10c size Peet's Granulated Soap with every pound.

Jar Caps— Ball Mason, Kerr Mason, Economy; dozen	23c	White King Granulated Soap—Large	32c
Jar Lids— Kerr Regular Mason, dozen	12½c	P. & G. Naptha Soap— 10 bars	29c
Kerr Wide Mouth, dozen	17½c	Starch—Calumet Corn or Gloss, 2 packages	15c
Jar Rubbers—Heavy Double-lip Red, 6 dozen	25c	Tuna Flakes— No. ½ can	12½c

Full Cream Cheese Pound	13c	Golden Bell Hard Wheat Flour 49-lb. sack	89c
-------------------------------	-----	--	-----

Salad Oil— Bulk, gallon	90c	Crisco— 1 pound can	25c
Pure Lard or Shortening— 8 pound pail	95c	3 pound can	67c
Wesson Oil—Quart can	45c	6 pound can	$1.30
		9 pound can	$1.92

Corn—Golden or White, No. 2 can Tomatoes—Standard, No. 2½ can
Green Beans—Betty's Pride, No. 2 can Peas—Utah, No. 2 can
Beets—Betty's Pride, Diced, No. 2 can Sauer Kraut—Betty's Pride, No. 2½ can Pumpkin—Betty's Pride, No. 2½ can

10c

Canned Milk

Pet — Borden's — Carnation — Alpine — Morning — Federal — Oregon

Tall— 4 cans	25c
Small— 8 cans	25c

PET— Case— 48 tall or 96 small	$2.95	ALL OTHER KINDS— Case— 48 tall or 96 small	$3.00
--------------------------------------	--------	--	--------

Knight's Dill Pickles— Quart jar	19c
-------------------------------------	-----	--	--

Free Delivery within Eugene City Limits on Orders of $2.00 or More

RHEUMATISM NEURITIS

Arthritis, Sciatica, Lumbago, Cramps, Swelling of Limbs and Joints, all respond to

CASEY'S COMPOUND

It has a tonic effect on the entire system, aids in dissolving the uric acid, helps in cases of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, cramps, swelling of limbs and joints, all respond to Casey's Compound.

Portland, Or., Dec. 1, 1929.

I have suffered over a period of two years with a very stubborn case of rheumatism. At times my leg would let me down and I was unable to walk. My back and joints were aching and I was unable to sleep. I was told by friends to try Casey's Compound. I did and my health has improved and my rheumatism has disappeared. I can now walk and sleep comfortably. I feel it did the work.

Stevenson's 4 Stores