Free Wheeling

If you were buying a bicycle today, you certainly wouldn't buy one without a coaster brake.

(I'm not even sure they make 'em without coaster brakes any more.)

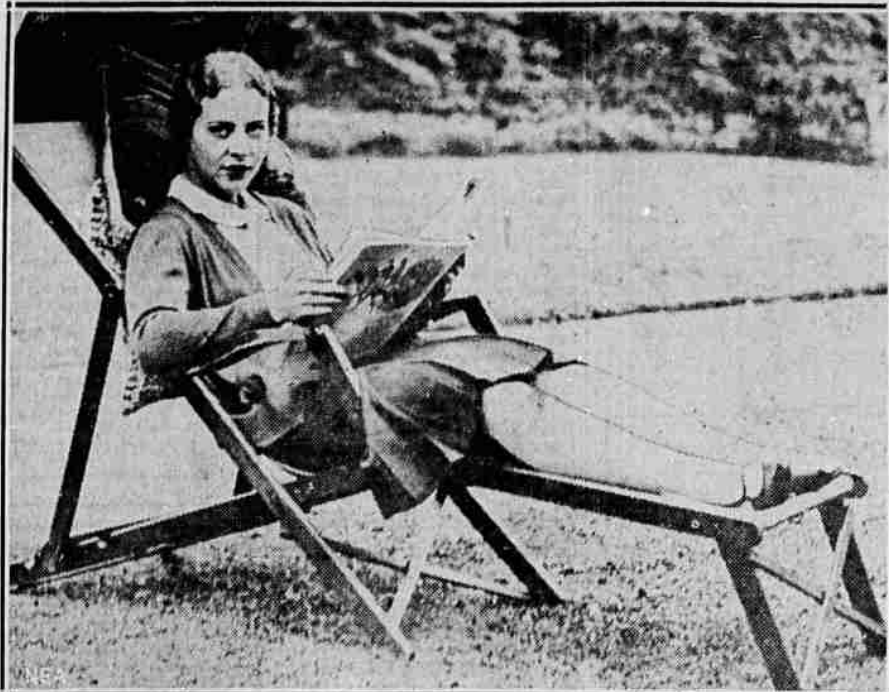

If you are buying a car today you ought to think twice—in fact, a half dozen times—before buying one without Free Wheeling.

(I'm not sure there'll be any without Free Wheeling in a year or two.)

Free Wheeling adds the same thrill and whizz to motoring that coaster brakes did to bicycling, and you might as well have the fun and the 15% to 20% saving of gas and oil it offers—now that you can get a real Free Wheeling Studebaker for $845—

COLLAPSED? NO, JUST RESTING!

Fraulein Gilly Aussem, above, the first German ever to win a tennis championship at Wimbledon, Eng., naturally was tired after her hard-fought victory. She rested in a North London garden and denied rumors that she had collapsed. "I'm tired," she said, "but in perfect condition otherwise."

HELEN MOODY IN THIRD FLIGHT PLAY

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Willis Moody yesterday launched her eastern singles tennis campaign with the same old skill. She played only 49 minutes to defeat two seasoned tournament players and gain the third round of the Essex Country club's invitation play which this year attracted 20 of the nation's 32 best players.

The former champion had an easy first round match with Mrs. Robert Morris, Boston, overwhelming her 6-0, 6-1, by forcing errors with a consistent attack to the back hand. Mrs. Moody's second match with Margaret Blake of Lenox, was more keenly contested than is indicated by the 6-3, 6-1 score.

The long absence from competition showed in Mrs. Moody's play. Her service was erratic at times and often she had trouble placing her first ball. Her back hand also was weak.

Mrs. L. A. Harper of Oakland, Cal., ranked first nationally as a result of Mrs. Moody's failure to complete last season, has been seeded second below Mrs. Moody. She advanced on victories over Polly Palfrey, Brookline, 6-0, 6-2, and Mrs. P. B. Hawks, Boston, 6-4, 6-2.

Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, defending champion and third seeded player, eliminated Helen Jones, Swampscott, 6-1, 6-2, and ouise Becker, Winchester, 6-1, 6-1. Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento, Cal., next on the seeded list, overcame Clara Greenspan, New York, 6-4, 6-1, and Lea Palfrey, 6-1, 6-0.

HIGHCLIMBER Looks 'em over

By TOM POTWIN

NEWS: A junior legion baseball game was played that did not result in a protest. So says a dispatch of the Associated Press from Salem.

It's getting to be an out of the ordinary occurrence—the playing of one of those American Legion contests without a fight or protest of some kind resulting. But here's the news item. See for yourself.

SALEM, Ore., July 21.—(AP)—Roy S. Keane, state chairman of Junior baseball for the American Legion, tonight stated that no protest of the East Side Commercial club team of Portland had been filed by The Dalles Legionnaires. It was reported from The Dalles after Sunday's game there, won by the Portland team 24 to 3, that a protest was imminent on the ground that Di Orlo and Richards of the East Side team were not registered properly.

These two boys are registered properly and the misunderstanding arose because of a clerical error in the Portland headquarters of the American Legion when the list of registered players was made up, Keane stated.

But the kids who play for Eugene, Medford, Salem, Oregon City and Hillsboro are learning plenty from this series beside baseball. They're learning how to appear eligible—and that's something. Conversation of these lads heard years from now as they are out in the cold, hard world: "Sorry, the specifications are eminently lived up to in this order, but it was filed two minutes late, and cannot be considered."

Oh, this! You say in applying for this job that you are 21 years old. Can you show birth certificates, school records or baptismal dates? Why I remember before I was president of the board held in Eugene playing ball in the American Legion junior team, I had to know to an hour how old I was.

The eligibility situation confronted by the Eugene team just now is this. Medford was told that Eugene would have to get her birth certificates and other data in by the time she played Medford. Eugene had only two days warning and some of the data wanted had to come all the way from Oklahoma. The boys were all of eligible age, only the records to prove it were not available in two days. When Eugene coaches told the coaches here to run around getting three or four sets of figures for each of 15 lads, you can see what a job it was.

So Medford protested the game because of the technicality. Records weren't there on time, and the fact that Eugene had a better team, all it would be to have been played, it would be O. K. The records were all in on that date. As a matter of fact all but two of the boys were accounted for the day of the Medford game. The two boys were Paul Smith, and Elmer Potts, catcher. Potts' records came in from Oklahoma.

Keane expects to be in Eugene Thursday to go into a fixy hubbly with Eugene coaches and legion officials. It is expected that Eugene's rating will be approved.

ATHLETICS AND CARDINALS ARE LIKELY WINNERS

By HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sport Writer)

Those signs of commitment you hear from St. Louis and Philadelphia probably are emitted by Gabby Street and Connie Mack, managerial rivals of the 1930 world series.

You needn't bet on it unless you feel so inclined but it looks suspiciously as though Street's Cardinals and Mack's Athletics, again will square off in the October classic. For the Cardinals today led the National league parade by six games, while the Athletics had a seven-game margin over their nearest American league rival.

Most of yesterday's action was concentrated in the American league, the A's setting the pace for the rest with a 12-7 triumph over the Chicago White Sox for their seventh victory in a row.

Hank McDonald started off for the champions but decided to call it a day after the first inning when the Detroit Tigers, 7-3 for their fifth straight win. The Senators won out by scoring six runs in the second inning on singles and a pair of Tiger errors. Fred Marchery granted 11 hits but tightened up in the pinches to win his ninth game against one defeat.

The Washington Senators kept step with the champions by beating the Detroit Tigers, 7-3 for their fifth straight win. The Senators won out by scoring six runs in the second inning on singles and a pair of Tiger errors. Fred Marchery granted 11 hits but tightened up in the pinches to win his ninth game against one defeat.

The New York Yankees made it three in a row over the St. Louis Browns as Lou Gehrig, slightly out-pitching Walter Stewart, drove in two runs with a double and single and scored one himself, to win 8-5. Clint Brown held the Boston Red Sox to four hits, two in the first inning and the Cleveland Indians smashed out 14 hits to win 9-2. Luke Sewell was the only Indian who failed to connect safely.

The Chicago Cubs beat Brooklyn 1-0, in the only National league game of the day. Danny Taylor's triple followed by Ralston Hemslery's single accounted for the sole tally of the contest in the seventh. William Watson, pitcher for the Cubs, only three hits but lost out when his teammates failed to solve Charley Root's delivery in the pinches. Root was touched for seven hits of which three went to American League pitcher, Walter Johnson, who retained second place, a half game ahead of the New York Giants and one game ahead of the Cubs.

Wilson Is Benched Again by Hornsby

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Another shift in the Chicago Cubs' outfield has benched Hack Wilson, major league home run leader last year, for the third time this season. Wilson's batting slump has caused Manager Rogers Hornsby to shift Kiki Cuyler to center field, and put Vincent Bartolo, Los Angeles rookie in right field, with Danny Taylor in left field.

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—After seven and a half seasons with the Chicago Cubs, Fred (Sheriff) Blake, right-hand pitcher, was on his way to join the Phillies today. Writers were asked on Blake yesterday and the Phillies claimed him at the usual price of $7500.

Sharkey-Walker Fight to Be Success; $85,000 In

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—With $85,000 in the till, weather fine and the athletes growing at each other, the fifteen-round duel of Jack Sharkey and Mickey Walker seems headed toward financial as well as artistic success.

Big Jack and Little Mickey meet Wednesday at Ebbets Field over the fifteen round championship route for the left wing heavyweight crown as opposed to the right wing which Max Schmeling rules. Schmeling, named champion by the New York athletic commissioner after he defeated Sharkey on a foul, has since been deposed by the solemn solemn and the Boston sailorman set up his place.

Jack on Edge

Sharkey seems to be razor-edge fit for his match with the retired king of the middleweights. He wound up training today at Pompton Lakes, N. J., slightly under 200 pounds in belt.

trium in body, his boxing skill sharply tuned, his hitting touch deft and sure. Sharkey has been training since March 19, the early work being devoted to preparation for a bout with Primo Carnera that was ruled out by the federal court.

At Orangeburg, N. Y., Walker wound up his training work in probably the best condition he has attained in recent years. He will weigh around 170 pounds, almost 30 less than Sharkey, but has the chest and shoulders of a heavyweight, sturdy, chunky legs, and he hits hard enough to bother any man.

Sharkey Favored

While what little betting there was featured Sharkey at 2 to 1—and most of the experts think it should be 50 to 1—the apparent loyalties of the match has failed to dampen the interest of the faithful. With continued fine weather, a gate between $150,000 and $200,000 is in prospect. The Hearst milk fund promoting the match with Jimmy Johnston has decreased there shall be no broadcast.

Days of "Balloon Golf" Ball Believed Numbered

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—The days of the "balloon" golf ball may be numbered, as many close observers believe, but it is due for quite a few more flights before anything is done about the protests that have piled up since its adoption this year by the United States Golf association.

Speculation was revived today by the publication of reports that the association was about ready to consign the oversized sphere to the scrap heap but the fact is that no official action has yet been taken, nor is any decision immediately in sight.

This much can be said on the authority of Herbert H. Ramsay, president of the U. S. G. A. and the dominating figure in its councils. As to what the future may hold, or what conclusions may be reached after more complete analysis of reports from all parts of the country, Mr. Ramsay is diplomatically silent.

The best guess right along has been that the balloon ball will continue to be official for the rest of the 1931 golf tournament season. It still holds good. At the same time, it will cause no great surprise if the powers-that-be in American golf decide to alter the golf ball specifications for 1932. Protests against the more fiery opponents have cooled off under the influence of more thorough tests. Others apparently feel convinced there is a happy medium, between the old and new balls, retaining the best features of each—namely, the new size and the old weight.

The new ball is 1.68 inches in diameter, 1.55 ounces in weight. The old ball weighed 1.62 ounces and measured 1.62 inches in diameter.

The chief objections to the balloon ball have been that it is difficult to control in the wind, especially for the average player, and that it is less reliable on the greens. Its most favorable feature is that it affords generally better "lies" through the fairways.

Britisher Wears His Monocle, But It Doesn't Help

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Desmond Jeans, English actor who deserted the stage for the prize ring, climbed into his first American boxing arena wearing a monocle last night, but wasn't wearing it when he was carried out.

Jack Phoenix of New York, in the seventh round, after Jeans had piled up a slight margin, knocked the Englishman out with a series of hard punches to the head.

COAST STANDINGS IN EXACT REVERSE

By The Associated Press

Most any guess how the second half of the Coast league season will end has a chance to be right.

At the end of the second week of play, three teams were hanging on to first place, two others were second and third respectively, and the remaining three were hunched in the cellar. But strangest of all, two of the teams tied for first now ended the first half way down the line and one of them was in the cellar by a wide margin.

San Francisco, Oakland and Seattle are hunched in the room on the top floor. Oakland completed the first half of the season in the cellar. Seattle was two flights higher and the Seals were third.

Hollywood had dropped its two series in the second half and exchanged a long lease on the top floor for one on the third, while Portland was San Francisco's first half right below the Stars has dropped to the cellar with the Missions and Sacramento.

Los Angeles has weathered the first two weeks of second half play in second place.

The scramble for better accommodations in the resort of standings begins again tonight with Sacramento playing at San Francisco, the Missions at Seattle, Oakland at Los Angeles and Hollywood at Portland.
