MORE FALL APPLES COMING IN; ONION LIST SOME HIGHER

No changes were reported for any of the local markets Monday. All produce, including eggs, butter, butterfat, and poultry, remained the same as for the week-end, Monday's changes usually awaiting returns from Portland over the day.

Dry onions are a bit higher. A few local ones are coming in now. Oregon ones have been on the market for some time but more of the local ones are showing up now, quoted from $2.25 to $2.50 a hundred.

A little more pie pumpkin is quoted now as the season advances. It is listed at 2 and 2½ cents a pound, buying price.

Most of the fall apples coming in now are still pretty firm for salad or fresh eating but are fine for baking and cooking. Jonathans and Waxons are the best so far for eating. Kings are coming in more and a few Winter Bananas but both are a bit firm yet. Apples generally are quoted from 75 cents to $1 a box, buying price.

FINE PRODUCE SEEN ON PUBLIC MARKET

Monday found a fine lot of vegetables and fruits on display at the Producers' Public market but no changes in any prices reported. Some exceptionally fine flowers are on display at the market now, too.

More squash is coming in. Mrs. C. L. Bowlsby who lives on the River avenue had a squash measuring 31 inches long and weighing 40 pounds on the market Monday at stall 38. It is a banana squash. She has many more about this size in her patch.

Some of the best looking eggplant of the season was seen Monday at stalls 11 and 58.

More red sweet peppers are in at 15 cents a pound.

Stall 19 had some nice head lettuce in Monday. More of the leaf lettuce is seen. Stall 38 had it Monday.

Celery is improving all the time and a good display was in Monday, selling from 5 to 10 cents a bunch, some of it two bunches for 15 cents.

Grapes continue very plentiful throughout the market. All kinds are in now. Several of the stalls are selling the grape juice, too.

Cantaloupes and prunes still remain plentiful and unchanged in price.

Very little corn is coming in now.

Eggs were unchanged following the advance Saturday.

Following were the prices for the day at the market:

MARKET CLOSE IS SOMEWHAT LOWER; MANY GAINS SEEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The New York financial markets presented a formidable front to the tidal wave of unrest which swept across the Atlantic today.

Officials of the stock exchange were deaf to urgent appeals from both at home and abroad to close the market today. Their judgment was vindicated by an unexpectedly orderly session. The market surged up vigorously after opening slump of 1 to 7 points, showing gains of 1 to 9 in many issues at one time. A secondary reaction in the late trading canceled much of the advance and the list closed irregularly lower with several losses of 1 to 4 points. Sales were about 4,500,000 shares.

U. S. Steel finished the day with a gain of nearly 5 points.

BUTTER MARKETS CONTINUE STRONG

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 21.—(UP)—Premiums of ½@1c lb. are generally continued over the produce exchange price on the open butter market. Members of the exchange, while previously refusing to advance so-called official prices, have been paying the advance.

Indicating the true strength of the butter market and the current shortage of offerings is the fact that those on control of the produce exchange have recently forced an advance in the buying price of butterfat.

That late cuts in the card quotations of some of the F. O. B. buyers here have been too severe and will force a shortage in offerings; is suggested in late advices from country points. The fact that practically all the F. O. B. buyers quoted the same sharp loss, and at the same time, leads the country to believe the decline is manipulated.

For the week's opening there was practically no change in the price of country killed meats in general. Top veal and lambs are especially firm. Hogs appear about steady.

Price of lemons advanced to $11 case for top brands here. This is the highest price to date this season. California continues to talk extreme shortage. Oranges are steady to higher in spots.

Wormy apples are under the ban in Oregon and shippers of apples into this state without proper branding is bringing trouble to receivers here. Reports indicate that the worm damage is the most severe in history at eastern Oregon-Washington points.

There is a shortage of green corn on the local market and prices are again firmer to higher. Quality stock is unusually scarce and the best is selling 70@75c sack.

Tomato market is firmer and higher with more active call.

Onions are steady both here and in the country.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 21. —(UP)— A strong rally at midsession stopped the rapid decline of wheat today, but failed to recover all losses incurred during the forenoon. The action of the stock market, in which losses were followed by recoveries in the major stocks, was reflected on the board of trade. The recovery of wheat after new seasonal lows had been made, was in the fractions, and the major grain close with fractional losses. Corn followed wheat in sympathetic decline with higher losses, but oats closed up in the fractions.

At the close wheat was 3-8 to 3-4 lower; corn was 1-8 to 1 3-4 lower, and oats were 1-8 to 3-8c up. Provisions were unchanged to 3 points higher. Bellies showed losses of 15 to 25 points.
