PORTLAND BUTTER ADVANCE MYSTERY

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21.—(U.P.)—The mystery of the recent advance in the price of undergrade cube butter on the Portland produce exchange while top score was unchanged, continues to attract attention in the trade here. Reports of what caused the advance are varied but the one chiefly told is that at a formal meeting of a brokerage firm and a distributive body, it was agreed to advance the price on undergrades 1c in the hope of forcing some nearby creameries to advance their quotations to chain stores and other large buyers.

Market for eggs continues to gain strength but considerable of the late advance in some markets of the country is reported due to speculative interests forcing fresh eggs to an artificial height to grab greater profits on storage. Local co-ops named an advance of 1c for standards and mediums.

Quote keen demand is showing for hens in the live chicken trade with the greatest call for medium and heavyweight stuff. Prices are firm to higher. Lights are unchanged. Springer stuff is weak.

There is a very good and unfilled call for dressed young tom turkeys but old hens and old toms are inclined to show more or less dullness and even weakness. The country appears willing to sell.

There is a somewhat better feeling in the market for country killed calves, with more sales at the top. Hogs are steady and lambs are firm.

Very weak market is reported generally for potatoes both at the source and at jobbing points. Deschutes as well as Yakima stock is now being consigned on small advances for digging epenses.

There is practically no activity in the market for onions. Primary sales are limited with growers determined to force an advance while buyers are not freely offering previous prices. Consuming demand is now limited.

With eastern stock being widely advertised throughout the country with the exception of Portland, there remains a very quiet tone for unadvertised Oregon-Washington stock of cranberries. Portland is consuming most of the sales.

Half carload of green broccoli is being rolled unsold east in an effort to create a market for a burdensome surplus here.

Small oranges, mostly the 288's, are up 25c case.

Carload of Pasco lettuce, first of the season, is here and is quoted mostly $2.50 crate for iced stock.

Most of the local apple sales are around 40 to 50c box.

Imperial Valley grapefruit is due the last of the week.

Fancy quality local sprouts are moving fairly well $1 box.

Huckleberries are dragging at recent low prices.

Eggs—Pacific Poultry Producers' selling price: Fresh extras 29c; standards 27c; mediums 25c; pullets 19c.

Live poultry—net buying price: Heavy hens, colored, 4¼ lbs. up 18 to 20c; light 12c; broilers, under 1¼ lbs. 18 to 20c.

Grapefruit—California $4 to $5; Texas $4.50 to $4.75.

Cantaloupes—all eliminated.

Peaches—The Dalles 65 to 80c.

Potatoes — Deschutes $1.10 to $1.15; eastern Washington 50 to $1.15.

GRAIN PRICES

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(U.P.)—After being unsettled and lower through the morning, wheat came back with a rush on the board of trade today and closed around the highest figures of the day, May being nearly 2c above the lows. Early profit taking went into strong hands and offerings were right on the way up. The rally in stocks removed pressure and attention of the trade was called to the fact that Russian sales have been absent despite the recent sharp advance. Corn improved with wheat and oats trailed the major grains at a distance.

At the close wheat was ¼ to 3-4c higher, corn was 1-8 to 3-8c up and oats were unchanged to ⅛c higher. Provisions were uneven.

UTILITY PRICES IN UPWARD TENDENCY ON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Utility and industrial stocks took the bit in their teeth today, rallying aggressively in the face of a sharp slump by the Rails.

The upturn followed a forenoon decline which saw many carrier issues off $4 to $8, reflecting disappointment over the freight rate decision, and many pivotal issues in other groups down $2 to $3. Not all of the losses were regained, however, and the close was irregularly lower.

Although the advance enabled Rails to recover only partially Wall street regarded as significant the fact that selling had been of moderate volume and that strong support was forthcoming for a wide assortment of shares elsewhere in the market.

Control Slugs By Cleaning Up, Advice

The first and perhaps most important step in controlling next year's crop of garden slugs is to make their life miserable by cleaning up boards, sacks, brush, plant remnants and general debris in the vicinity of the garden patch, according to Miss Gertrude L. Skow, county home demonstration agent, who each year sponsors home gardening work in Lane county.

What is considered a clean-up is first to burn or clear the fence rows and other waste areas next to the garden. Then remove or plow under the crop residues, and finally clean the premises of the year's accumulation of trash, boards, burlap and other unsightly material.

What slugs are left next spring after such treatment may be controlled by a combination of repellants and poison baits. Bordeaux mixture 4-4-50 is sprayed on the plants, and chopped lettuce poisoned with calcium arsenate 16 to 1 makes an effective bait when scattered about the plants.

Lost Cattle Herd Enriches Texas Man

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(U.P.)—Remains of a lost herd of longhorn cattle, famous in the history of the Texas range, have been found by L. D. Bertillion of Mineola, Tex., and their horns have made him rich.

In 1812 Jacob Don Lonerr's entire herd of several thousand longhorns stampeded in a storm near Terlingua creek. They were never found.

That is, not until Bertillion trailed a nearby canyon to a cave opening and found a great heap of bones and horns. Bertillion has since sold more than $50,000 worth of horns, and is new negotiating for a sale to the Prince of Wales.

Former U. S. Agent Charges Frame-Up

HOUSTON, Tex.—(U.P.)—George H. Wilkins, formerly a special agent for the government here, will go on trial Oct. 22 before Federal Judge Kennerly on five counts charging him with accepting bribes and extortion.

Wilkins claims he was "framed."

"Back in 1926," explained Wilkins, "I got into a gun fight with a bunch of Galveston Italians, and they swore they'd get me. I believed them and took out for Mexico.

"When department of justice men arrested me in San Antinio Sept. 4, I couldn't realize what had happened. I'd never heard of the indictment against me. It wasn't brought until November, 1926, and I left before that."

Sox Appeal Banned In Austin Schools

AUSTIN, Tex.—(U.P.)—"Look at their eyes, not at their legs" was the advice of School Superintendent A. N. McCallum when teachers here gravely debated bare legs versus hose in the school room.

However warm an autumn sun shines in Waco, Tex., no little girl dares pass the school cloak room there without slipping on her hose. But in Austin there'll be no "soxappeal" made to parents. "We're living in the 20th century, not the 17th. It's a matter for parents to decide," McCallum ruled.

OIL STATISTICS

AUSTIN, Tex.—(U.P.)—Statistics on the East Texas oil field, recently shut down by martial law, have been compiled by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas showing that from Nov. 5, 1930, until shortly before the shut-down the field produced more than 45,500,000 barrels of oil. Seventeen trunk pipe lines totaling 1,845 miles have been built beside 45 short lines to loading rack where the oil is taken by tank cars. A possible two billion barrels for the field is cited.
