CHINA-JAPAN ARMISTICE IS NOT COMPLETE

Friday Announcement Held Premature by League Officials

APPS MAKE PROPOSAL

Would Send Commission to Manchuria to Study Situation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS) The league of nations council met today at 4:30 p. m., today in a public session to attempt to unravel the tangle which resulted after Japanese and Chinese representatives failed to agree to a truce plan thought to have been concluded last night.

Tokio had reports from Mukden, Manchuria, that 30,000 Chinese troops were concentrating in the region of Chabow and authoritative circles here as this as one reason why the Japanese government considered a truce, and upon troop withdrawals, as unworkable.

It was understood that Dr. Alfred Chou, Chinese representative, who said the government would never consent to a truce unless Japanese evacuated Manchuria, was said to be ready to accept the council today and state his opinion as a means of effecting a settlement.

Reinforcement at Mukden A mixed brigade of Japanese reinforcements, including infantry, cavalry, artillery and machine gun units, as well as aircraft, arrived at Mukden today.

Maxim Litvinoff, soviet commissar for foreign affairs in a reply to a Japanese note to Russia on the Manchurian situation said his government was "concerned" lest Japanese military movements involve the interests of the soviet union and expressed satisfaction with Japan's declaration that Russia's interests would not suffer.

Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state and co-author of the League of Nations pact, at St. Louis today asked mobilization of public opinion as a means of effecting a settlement.

KILLER OF MANY MEN IS CAPTURED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—(AP)—A man who had been charged with the murder of a woman, was captured today by police officers in a rooming house in Los Angeles.

With the aid of a crude map drawn by the man, officers were directed to the body. A cursory examination indicated the body was that of a woman, a carpenter whom she had killed.

The body of the second victim, a woman, was found in a rooming house in Los Angeles, California, yesterday.

Detective Lieutenant Chester B. Smith, who led the search into the rooming house, said the body was found almost at the spot indicated by the map.

Smith said he believed the man had been crushed, much in the same manner as that of Walker, and that both men had been killed by blows on the head and by strangulation.

Lane Group Opposed To Fair Shows

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 21.—(Special)—Unanimous acceptance of the majority report of the fair committee by all those voting brought the discussion on the county chamber's stand on this matter to a close at a meeting of that body in Springfield Friday evening.

By accepting the majority report the county chamber recommends to the county fair board, which has indicated that it will be affected in a large degree by the chamber's decision, that the fair be made an agricultural and livestock exposition, that paid concessions and horse races be discontinued, and that admission to the fair be free.

Request by a delegation from Lobsenz valley that the chamber ask the county court for a preliminary survey to determine the feasibility of a road connecting Lobsenz valley with the Shulweg highway near Triana lake took the form of a motion and passed. The proposed road would shorten the distance to Eugene and bring increased trade into Eugene, its backers claimed.

E. I. Davis, assistant engineer and in charge of the Willamette canalization survey in the Springfield-Junction City section, was unable to speak on the project, as had been planned on account of an unexpected business trip to Salem.

FLORENCE BANDITS ELUDE BIG POSSE

Search Is Continued; Deal In Serious Condition In Hospital

Officers Saturday continued the hunt for two men wanted for the wounding of B. Kramer Deal, Florence barber, early Friday morning when Deal surprised the men attempting to rob the Dunham store at Florence.

Deal, wounded through the liver and the abdomen and wounds from blows on the head, is in the North Bend hospital where little hope is held for his recovery.

Deal is said to have been unconscious most of the time since the gun battle. Late Friday he regained consciousness long enough to say his assailants had been one tall man and one short man. Coos county officials were in readiness Saturday to question him should he be able to talk.

A large posse of state police and deputy sheriffs headed by Lieut. W. H. McLaughlin of the state police, was patrolling the coast region north and south of Florence and along the Siuslaw.

The officers are searching for one man of about five feet five inches and a dark complexion and the other, a man of about five feet six inches, light complexion, light brown hair, light nose, light felt hat and short dark coat. The descriptions were given by two transients who stated that the men had ridden into Cushman Friday morning on the passenger train and started to walk along the road to Florence.

Jay A. Smith, state fish patrol officer, Willis M. Jones, Florence school principal, stated that Deal's assailants were a tall man and a short one, although they could tell nothing else about their appearance.

STAFF OF CHAMBER DONATES TO FUND

All members of the Eugene chamber of commerce staff and the Oregon State Motor association here, in addition to making subscription to various welfare agencies and other similar institutions of the city, have made subscriptions to the Lane County Relief and Unemployment bureau on the same basis as city, county and other groups of public employees, stated President Russell of the chamber of commerce Saturday.

"The people in our office made their voluntary pledges and brought the matter to my attention as they indicated they wanted to do their share in the present emergency," Mr. Russell said. Those making subscriptions were: Dorothea O'Day, Lucile W. Calkins, Alice K. Lewis, L. H. Elspass and E. G. Harlan.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Following an asserted quarrel with her husband at a dance, Mrs. Joyce Douglas, 17, bride of three weeks, committed suicide early this morning by taking poison.

The girl-wife, since her marriage to the 22-year-old Douglas, had been living with him at the home of her father-in-law. The elder Douglas told coroner's deputies that his son was not at home when he was awakened by moaning in the girl's room. Finding her in agony from effects of the poison he summoned an ambulance. She died enroute to the hospital.

LANE COUNTY HAS SECONDARY ROADS HIGHEST

State Has 1903 Miles Says Report Compiled By Roy Klein

97 ROADS ARE LISTED

Designations Complete in All But Four Counties Of Oregon

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Secondary roads in Oregon as designated by the state highway commission and counties of the state comprise 1903 miles, a report released today from the state highway offices showed.

Roads enumerated in the report number 97, designations being completed for all but four counties. Choice of secondary roads is pending in Columbia and Tillamook until details in choice of the Portland to sea route are cleared up, State Engineer Roy Klein said. In Multnomah and Curry counties further study is required before final designations can be made. Additional mileage, however, is not expected to exceed 200 miles, Klein said.

Lane Has Largest Mileage of any recorded by the highway commission to date with 137.2 for three roads. Lake county has 105.7 miles for two highways and Malheur county, 151 miles with six roads listed.

Mileage of secondary roads is approximately one-third of the former total of 6,100 market roads. The secondary roads will receive approximately one-half of the amount of revenue formerly spent on market roads although definite figures cannot be given until the end of December when state tax commission reports are compiled.

"The most heavily traveled and principal market roads were designated on the secondary system," Klein said. "Those of the market roads not chosen for the secondary designation continue at their present status but will depend for funds only upon county levies."

"The state has apportioned $11,601,102.89 for the market road system between 1920 and 1930. To this was added $11,824,216.48 in county levies and $1,119,415.22 from other county funds, such as bond issues.

Big Sum Spent "The state spent $11,110,000 for 1931 on market roads. Chances are that no appreciable change will occur for the secondary apportionment on secondary roads. A more substantial type of construction will be maintained on the new secondary system as roads chosen were the most important of the market group."

Mileage and number of highways designated on the highway system department listing include: Three roads in Baker county total 57.42 miles, four in Benton, 28.47, three in Clackamas, 67.91, one in Clatsop, 37.50, three in Coos, 46.50, four in Crook, 79.90, two in Deschutes, 24.18, two in Gilliam, 40 miles, two in Grant, 41.26, two in Harney, 64, two in Hood River, 17.50, four in Jackson, 87.01, two in Jefferson, 40, two in Josephine, 43.90, three in Klamath, 78.50, two in Lincoln, 42.80, three in Linn, 53.75, Malheur, 96.89, Morrow county, three 72.82, Polk five 56.60, two Sherman, 41, Umatilla four 64.58, Wallowa one 35, two Wasco, 32.29, three Wheeler, 62.20, eight Yamhill, 53.35, Union four 86.51.

Football Star Gives Blood To Aid Friend, Dies

ST. EDWARDS, Neb., Nov. 21.—(AP)—A St. Edward high school football player lay gravely ill today, unaware of the death of his teammate who sacrificed a pint of blood for him.

Both athletes were injured in action on the football field, Allen Waks, 16, fullback, did not respond to treatment at an Omaha hospital and physicians decided a blood transfusion was necessary. William Weed, 18, end, eagerly volunteered his blood for his comrade, and the offer was accepted.

Back on the field, Weed attempted to break up an end run in a game with the Osceola high school team yesterday. He was brought down heavily, a mass of young bodies covering him. When the St. Edward team lined up for the next play, Weed's post was vacant. He lay helplessly. Removed to a hospital here, he died within a few hours while doctors worked over him.

Plans Complete For Relief Fund Drive In County

Amounts Subscribed by Public Employees to Exceed Totals Estimated; Checks In Payment of Pledges Received

Plans for the start of the funds campaign for the Lane county relief and unemployment bureau on Monday were virtually complete Saturday. Division chiefs were making final arrangements for assistants in the three-day canvass and distributing supplies.

Reports from the preliminary gifts committee are coming in with many donors having increased their donations over those of last year. George P. Hitchcock reported.

The signing of pledges by university, county, city and water board employees was nearing an end Saturday with indications that the total amount subscribed by the public employees would exceed amounts estimated under the plan for giving one day's pay a month for five months. A number of the employees are said to have increased their subscriptions by amounts which more than offset the few cases of employees whose own requirements prevent giving the regular rate.

Checks in payment of pledges have accompanied a number of cards turned in. The plan of giving each month on the part of the employees groups will provide the bureau with a steady income through the winter with the contributions from the general public swelling the total as payments are made, Mr. Hitchcock said.

Most of the earlier contributions find the donors taking advantage of the privilege to indicate the purpose for which their gift shall be used. Unemployment relief work would seem to be getting the largest share, although figures have not been compiled. The division between the Red Cross and the station army and the St. Vincent de Paul society varies on individual pledges with indications that the totals may be fairly even.

BRITISH TARIFFS COUNTERED BY U. S.

Importations from England To Face Heavier Duties

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Immediate imposition of counter-valued duties to make those of the United States charges on importations from Great Britain equal the duties charged on certain articles by the British will be ordered by the government.

Under the tariff laws, the counter-valued duties go into effect automatically whenever the American duties on certain articles are less than charged by a foreign government on the same article.

Treasury and department of commerce experts were preparing a list of articles on which the duties would be increased.

Assistant Secretary Lowman of the treasury disclosed the plan this morning.

The British anti-dumping tariff measure, which becomes effective on Wednesday, allows duties of 50 per cent based on value upon a long list of articles imported from the United States.

In this list are metal furniture, cutlery, agricultural implements, wireless sets, typewriters, woolen manufactures, stockings and hose of silk and artificial silk, metal clothing, gloves, British duties are less than charged by a foreign government on the same article.

Customs collections under the tariff law are administered by the treasury and are under the direction of Lowman.

He said today every effort was being made to hasten the preparation of the list of articles upon which the duties will be increased to equal the British duties. He expected that it would be ready and the increases in force by the time that the new British duties will go into effect.

IMPROPER PROFITS DENIED BY BOARD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—No improper profits were made, said a lengthy defense of the operations was filed by Chairman Stone in answer to an attack by Governor Murray of Oklahoma. Murray charges one firm made $999,000 by the arrangement. The Oklahoma governor announced he would not appear before the senate agricultural committee next week in its investigation of the farm board.

The defending statement originated with the grain stabilization corporation which handled the deals. It explained that at the time of the transactions American prices had stabilized 15 to 30 cents above world markets, closing world flour markets to American millers. These were then allowed to purchase the wheat for cash at current domestic prices with an agreement to return an equal amount of the cheaper new crop, receiving a refund on the original purchase price.

WOMAN DIES KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Missing since Tuesday, the body of Mrs. Phil Barry was discovered in a meadow near her ranch house Friday. She had frozen to death in snow drifts.

Mrs. Barry, wife of a prominent sheep grower 28 miles north of Lakeview, apparently had left the house, lightly clad, to look after some livestock and become caught in the drifts before she could return.

Barry returned to his home Tuesday after having been out on the range for two days in search of strays. He joined her in the drifts when he found his wife was not home, as he believed she had gone to Lakeview.

ASHLAND KILLERS STILL AT LARGE

MEDFORD, Ore., Nov. 21.—(AP)—The search for the slayers of Victor Knott, Ashland policeman, today developed into what Sheriff Ralph Jennings of Jackson county said was a "stare out or freeze out situation."

Knott was shot to death Wednesday night by gunmen he surprised near a warehouse. The killers escaped in an automobile registered to Albert W. Reed of Denver. Reed and two acquaintances, Lee Jackson and Paul McCade, both in Denver, are sought.

Leaders of the man-hunters said today they are positive the killers are lurking in the vicinity of the town of Rogue River, seeking a chance to steal an automobile and obtain food.

Sheriff Jennings said he has authoritative information the men slept in the Rogue River school house on Thursday night and returned there last night but found an entertainment was being held. The janitor chased two men away from the building and they fled into brushy country along the river near the old Grants Pass road. An all-night search with bloodhounds was futile. As only two men were seen Sheriff Jennings considered the possibility the third member of the gang was wounded in the exchange of shots in which Knott was killed.

Women's Dress Shocks Gandhi

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi went to a reception last night at the home of Lady Astor. Today he disclosed that the gowns of the women guests caused him to lower his eyes in shame.

"Even in tropical India where the temperatures often reach 100 degrees, women never would dream of appearing on the streets half dressed as they do in London," he said.

"Western women are mad with their own vanity. They worship the god of fashion. It is a privilege for them to allow beauty doctors to mar the faces God has given them, to pluck their eyebrows and distort their features."

Englestad was not used in the recent scoreless tie game with the University of Oregon, and has been used but little all season.

HARVARD LOSES TO YALE BY 3-0 SCORE

HARVARD STADIUM, Cambridge, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Albie Booth's field goal from the 52-yard line gave Yale a 3-0 victory over Harvard in their football clash today.

Booth's dropkick in the last three minutes of play enabled Yale to beat Harvard and end a three-year losing streak. A crowd of 57,000 saw the Ed's win.

Booth missed a dropkick from the 14-yard line, ending Yale's only scoring chance in the first half. The Yale captain was well bottled with scrimmage. Harvard lost its first scoring opportunity when Wood's short pass to Crickard was grounded short of the Yale goal line after the Crimson had advanced to the 3-yard mark at the outset of the game.

Yale recovered the ball on downs three times when Harvard threatened.

IN MANCHURIA!

Pu-yi is reputed to be in Mukden, capital of the Manchu dynasty in Manchuria centuries ago, where plots are reported to restore him to power over Manchuria. Litvinoff has lodged a protest with Japanese authorities against further Jap occupation of points on the Chinese Eastern railroad.

Boy May Get Prison Parole

SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The kindly mission of Father E. J. Flauggan to take 12-year-old Herbert Nicoll from prison to the Overlook farm for boys in Omaha today had caught the sympathy and enthusiasm of thousands of people in the United States.

Seattle greeted the 45-year-old priest with open arms. A reception and dinner that followed his arrival were packed with persons eager to hear the story of the rehabilitation of about 3000 boys in the non-sectarian home in Omaha directed by Father Flauggan.

Father Flauggan probably will leave for Walla Walla prison today to chat with the 12-year-old slayer of Sheriff John Wornell of Astoria, Wash., during an attempted robbery last summer. The lad is under life sentence.

The priest will then see Governor Hartley in Olympia. He has the pledge of 20,000 members of Rainier Noble post of the American Legion and auxiliary for support in securing the parole of the boy. Governor Hartley indicated earlier in the week that he would not grant a parole to the boy. He said he would be relieved in his duty if he transferred his responsibility to another state.
