No. 1 Turkeys Up Cent; Market Unable to Gain

WHEAT IS QUOTED DOWN THREE CENTS ON EUGENE MARKET

Turkeys were quoted a cent higher on No. 1 toms and hens here Saturday, listed at 27 cents buying price. Other grades remained unchanged. Portland was reporting turkeys up two cents Saturday.

Swift and company expected to close this week's pool Saturday and announced they would not be receiving again until about Dec. 1. Whether or not prices will be better then will be determined on how well this pool is cleaned up. Prices are looked to be a bit higher, however, on quality birds.

Wheat dropped three cents on both red and white here Saturday and is listed down to 62 cents on both, following similar declines on other wheat markets.

The forecast drop on heavy hens went into effect with them quoted down to 17 cents. Other poultry was unchanged.

The cent advance forecast on wholesale price of medium eggs also went into effect with them listed up to 27 cents.

All other wholesale and buying prices on eggs continued unchanged.

Cauliflower and cabbage are both due for a jump soon, according to reports Saturday. Cauliflower is much scarcer and nearing the end of the season for the best quality. Southern Oregon buyers have been in cleaning up on surplus cabbage, buying it in as high as five-ton lots and this will very likely have affect on local prices as cabbage gets more scarce.

Apples are very plentiful and scarcely ever as cheap as they are now, due to so much cheap stuff on the market. You can buy excellent apples for almost any price. They are quoted from 50 cents on up to $1 with the extra fancy pack bringing scarcely ever more than $1.50, although they are quoted in some lists up to $2.

Butter and butterfat were unchanged.

SOUTHERN OREGON BUTTERFAT ROW ON

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.—(U.P.)—Advance of 2 cents per pound was announced in the price to turkeys by the Pacific Co-operative Poultry Producers today. The price of 9 to 12 pounders was advanced to 32c for both hens and toms while 12 to 16 pounds were 31c and old toms were quoted at 30c.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.—(U.P.)—Another of those spectacular fights in the butterfat market is being waged, this time in southern regon. Invasion of the Oregon territory by a California co-operative concern which has a plant in northern section of that state, has forced creameries in southern Oregon to meet the advances. Local market has not been disturbed but quotations here are considered on an adequate basis generally.

Demand for fresh eggs is taking care of the daily offerings on the local market. Receipts during the week showed a fractional decrease but are still considerably below this same period a year ago.

Strong prices are being reflected in the market for live chickens. All weights are now in big request with extreme prices being freely offered by killers.

With the holiday approaching the usual spell of dullness is reflected in the market for country killed meats although trade in general is still considered steady.

Buying of potatoes at country points appear a trifle better in general. In spots fractional advances are being paid in the Deschutes as well as at Yakima but considerable stock is moving at old values.

There is a better feeling abroad for apples but the trade in general is not up to the average. Late spurt in call appears the result of the early approach of the holidays. Prices better in spots.

Demand for celery for shipment continues to gain volume and prices are reflecting more strength. Call is principally for halves which are selling freely up to $1.50 crate.

East Side Market

Lettuce continued the chief request during the Saturday trading on the East Side Farmers' wholesale market. Dalles stock sold again at $1.25@1.50 crate with some 5s at the lower price. Local stock mostly 75@85c crate.

Cabbage showed a better movement with the colder weather and this also stimulated the call for root vegetables although prices in general were without change.

Brussel sprouts showed a good movement and again generally fold $1 box for No. 1.

Potatoes moved steady at recent prices.

Demand for apples was also steady but without price changes.

RAIL SHARES GET EARLY RALLY, BUT LOSE IN TRADING

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The stock market made an unsuccesful effort to recover today from the setback of the previous session.

Rail shares led a fair rally during the first hour, but renewed pressure against U. S. Steel unsettled the list later, and gains of 1 to 2 points, which had been widely registered, were lost. The close found a mixed assortment of narrow gains and losses. There were fractional recoveries from the lowest in the last few minutes.

Trading was moderately active, the turnover for the two-hour session approximate 900,000 shares.

The market was helped for a time by the firm opening of the wheat market, and a more hopeful attitude toward the railway executives conference with the brotherhood heads. A temporary reaction in wheat, during the final hour of trading in shares, may have contributed to the fresh setback, as well as a less cheerful estimate of steel mill operations for the Youngstown area.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(U.P.)—Wheat hustled about in a wide 8c range on the board of trade today moving briskly from sharply higher to lower with quick strides but ending with a fair share of the advance held. A sharp opening bulge on bullish cables ran into profit taking and liquidation that dropped the market from 2c higher to 1c lower, stop loss orders being picked up. At the bottom new buying started a 2c rally and the fluctuations were continuous thereafter with the blackboard out of line with the actual trade more often than not. Short covering was a factor as the wheat market hit a new low for the week. Weakness in stocks and heavy snows in the winter wheat belt were depressing factors at times. Corn, oats and rye scurried about after that heedless of factors in their own pits.

At the close wheat was was 3-8 to 3-4c higher, corn was 1-8c lower to 5-8c higher, oats 3-4 to 7-8c higher and rye 1-8 to 7-8c higher. Provisions were firm.

Cash prices were wheat unchanged to 1c lower, corn 1 to 1c lower and oats unchanged to 1c lower.

Receipts were wheat 105 cars, corn 121 and oats 29 cars.

Zane Grey Story Opens at McDonald

Here is Zane Grey's greatest romance "Riders of the Purple Sage," beautifully brought to life by an all-star cast, in gorgeous settings, by means of some of the most magnificent photography the screen has ever known.

It opened Friday at the Fox McDonald.

George O'Brein, Marguerite Churchill and Noah Berry are featured, and each is perfectly cast. This by far is the best western romance in George O'Brien's career, and that he should do his best work was inevitable. His horsemanship, as usual, is irreproachable, and he gives a display of really excellent acting. Marguerite Churchill is most appealing, and Noah Beery at his sinister finest.

The love theme is unusually predominant for a Zane Grey work, but thrills and spectacle have not been subordinated. A stampede of maddened cattle, a thrilling race on horseback, breath-taking conflict between O'Brien and Noah Beery, a mountain avalanche and a spectacular fire by which a large ranch house is destroyed, all are interwoven into the action.

Creswell Getting Ready For Play

CRESWELL, Nov. 21—(Special)—Under the auspices of the auxiliary of the M. E. Aid of Creswell a cast of characters is busy putting on the finishing touches on a full evening's play, to be given in the W. O. W. hall Nov. 27. The play is entitled "Better Than Gold."

Three interesting love affairs run throughout the play and the numerous situations enacted between Grandma Josie and Preacher Tompkins are unusually comical. "Better Than Gold" is a folk play and absolutely true to life, gripping, seasoned with humor, and rich in stirring action, moments of surprise and thrilling climaxes.

Mrs. W. O. Spencer is directing the play. The following is the cast of characters:

Delia Dunbar, Mrs. Lee Land; Grandma Josie Jones, Mrs. J. W. Gatts; Mrs. Moses Dunbar, Mrs. F. W. Ogram; Preacher Tompkins, J. F. Smith; Matthew Boles, Wayne Land; Lucy Larkin, Mrs. S. D. Trefren; Wendell Chesterfield, S. D. Trefren; John Chesterfield, F. W. Ogram; Rev. Geo. Barfield, James Coleman.
