MAYOR LARGE STORY

Who'll Run in Third? Mayor Large announced Wednesday that he has considered no one for the council position yet. He said that he would be glad to receive suggestions. It appeared that labor would put forward a man. The third ward is the home of many railroad men, who have sought representation.

Members of the council, with the exception of Large, who was absent, met at 5 o'clock at the city hall. Before the meeting was called to order the council met behind locked doors. Wilder was called in and offered the building inspector post. He first refused. Later the council positively refused Wilder further consideration of Rundlett and asked that the mayor take the building job. Acceptance of the proposition made the resignation necessary.

FEDERAL BUDGET STORY

The general warrants have been reduced from $47,704.92 to $5,516.75, a net reduction of $42,188.17. "With your assistance and cooperation we have been able to be caused to be prepared well considered yearly budgets and have steadfastly maintained the budget amounts and in each year have effected a saving which has reflected itself in reduction of indebtedness."

"We have reduced the taxes in 1932 by $34,955.50. "With your aid we have effected a better organization of the police department. Our aviation field has graduated from an emergency landing field to an up-to-date airport."

"In relinquishing my office I have the very great satisfaction of knowing that I am succeeded by the officer who has been at the head of and has largely made possible the extrication of the city from its financial problems."

"At the time I was elected I received the hearty support of a large section of the electorate of the city, and in closing this statement I wish to say that since my election I have had the support of practically all the electorate and I would fall in a proper appreciation if I did not at this time express the satisfaction that this has given me. The manner in which the people of the city have generally supported me and my policies makes me wish to express my thanks to them and to say that their approval is what I have most earnestly sought throughout my administration."

HOME EC PROJECTS STARTED BY AGENT

Two new projects in home economies are being started this week by Gertrude L. Skow, county home demonstration agent.

Miss Skow and Zelta Rodenwald, specialist from O. S. C. were at Blachly Wednesday starting a course in schedule making for the home. They will visit Hebron Thursday.

Lucy Case, nutrition specialist, and Miss Skow will open a project in food purchasing Thursday at Creswell. The same project will start the next day in Cottage Grove.

The agents were at Pleasant Hill Tuesday conducting classes in planning meals and family eating habits. Mt. View has finished its project on these subjects.

Music Featured at Lions Club Meeting

A musical program featured the weekly luncheon and meeting of the Eugene Lions club Wednesday noon at the Eugene hotel. The University of Oregon Pacific Basin debaters, scheduled to speak, did not appear.

For the music, a mixed quartet, consisting of Dewey McAlpin, Charles Peole, Mrs. George Carmichael, and Mrs. W. H. Blowers, sang, accompanied by Miss Evelyn Newton at the piano. Club singing was also featured. Guests included Major Abbey of Klamath Falls who told of plans for the Lions convention in his city in July and invited all members of the Eugene club to attend; and C. A. Bartell, who operates hotels in Corvallis and Cottage Grove.

Twenty pieces of fire fighting equipment fought several hours against the blaze which razed the third, fourth and fifth floors of the old structure. The building houses several industrial companies.

MEIER REPORT STORY

RELATIVES MUST PAY
SALEM, Ore., Jan. 13.—(Special)—Instructions that the collection of pay for care of wards of the state hospitals for insane and feeble minded be pressed were issued today by the board of control.

Discussing the progress of collections to date, Governor Meier expressed himself as very much dissatisfied with the situation and declared that more pressure should be exerted on financially able relatives or guardians of the wards who under an act of the 1931 legislature are required to reimburse the state for cost of caring for these wards.

Commitments Drop
A noticeable decline in insane commitments during the past three months was reported by Dr. J. C. Evans, assistant superintendent of the state hospital at Salem. Dr. Evans attributed this decline to the law requiring relatives to pay cost of caring for these cases.

Up to September 30, according to Dr. Evans, commitments to the Salem institution had averaged 70 a month. Since that date the average has dropped to 60 a month. Dr. Evans believed the situation would work out satisfactorily.

"We have been cutting our population more closely than other states away," said the doctor. In sane commitments in Oregon total one to every 250 of population while the ratio for the nation as a whole is one insane person to every 270 of population."
