Yeah Davey Was Great Lil Lover, Nurse Tells 'Em

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—(AP)—He was a great lover and a tippler of good Bourbon whisky, Myrtle Joan St. Pierre, attractive 30-year-old nurse testified concerning the character of David Hutton, husband of Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, whom she is suing for $200,000 for alleged breach of promise.

"When he first met me at a dinner party, he asked the hostess, 'Where did you keep this gorgeous creature all the time?'" Miss St. Pierre testified.

"He kept putting his hand over mine whenever I passed the bread, kept calling me a 'lovely girl' and he said: 'I'm not going to get very far from you now after I've just found you!'"

After the dinner party, Miss St. Pierre said he, Hutton and another couple went to her home where they had a few drinks of bourbon.

"When he saw my little bungalow he said: 'I'll move in any time you say.'" the nurse testified.

Miss St. Pierre was to continue her story of her alleged betrayal under promise of marriage when court sessions were resumed today.

Hutton, a choir singer at Angelus temple, of which his wife is the pastor, muttered "bunk" to his attorneys as Miss St. Pierre testified. Later he said:

"I'm not a bit worried about this trial. I'm worried about my poor little wife, lying out there in a sanitarium. She's all that matters.
