TODAY'S RECIPES

BY SISTER MARY
HUNDREDS of home-makers daily face the problem of serving wholesome and palatable meals as economically as possible.
During the summer months, vegetables are plentiful and cheap. More than this, they are rich in vitamins and mineral content and are essential to health. They should be served daily in abundance. However, many men seem to have an innate and ingrained aversion to such plain, homely vegetables as carrots and spinach.
Did you ever try mixing a little meat with vegetables? This small amount of meat is appetizing and for this cause, if no other, meat is worth serving. But too much is not a good thing; so if just enough can be used in combination with vegetables to make them liked a happy medium is reached.
If half a pound of meat can be made to serve four people and at the same time furnish a wholesome and adequate diet, economy would prompt most of us to give the half-pound a fair trial.
A meat and vegetable hash is the simplest version of the combination dish. Chowders and timbales are also made and they are most attractive concoctions quite elaborate in effect. Veal and carrot timbales, ham and spinach timbales, lamb and pea timbales—these are worthy of a place on the company menu.

Double Wedding Is Held At Canby

At a double wedding held Sunday evening, June 20, at the Lutheran church in Canby, the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson were married, Rev. P. O. Brunland officiating.
Miss Ida Anderson became the bride of Cecil Frum, son of Mrs. Ella Frum of Junction City. Mr. Frum is a graduate of the University of Oregon and is well known in Eugene. Miss Alice Anderson became the bride of Harry Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Thompson of Silverton.
The brides both wore pink lace and net over tulle. Their bouquets were of white tulle. Their bouquets were of Cecil Brunner roses and white sweet peas.
The attendants consisted of a maid of honor and a bridesmaid for each bride. Miss Wilhelmina Schmidt was maid of honor and Miss Evadne Hurst was bridesmaid for Miss Ida Anderson. All four attendants were dressed in stiff chiffon in pastel shades. Brides were preceded in the procession by Miss Muriel Olson, a niece of the brides, as flower girl, and Stanley Lilly as ring bearer. Arthur Anderson was best man for Cecil Frum and Carl Thompson was best man for his brother, Harry Thompson.
The Lohengrin march was played by Miss Alvina Jacobson on the violin accompanied by her sister, Miss Ellen Jacobson on the piano. Avon Deane sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Because."
After the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors, only relatives and close friends attending. Mrs. Ella Frum of Junction City, and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Stuart of Springfield were among the guests present.
Mr. and Mrs. Frum left after the reception for a short wedding trip and will make their home after July 5 at Forest Grove, where Mr. Frum is employed.

Two Weddings Are Held Here On Tuesday

Tuesday's social news was featured by weddings of two Eugene girls, Miss Janet Thatcher, and Miss Jessie Winchell.
Miss Thatcher, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thatcher, was married to Vinton H. Hall of Lakeview in a charming garden wedding at the Thatcher home at three-thirty o'clock. Dr. Philip A. Parsons, dean of the university school of applied social science, officiating. Six university friends of the bride preceded the bride procession, standing three on either side of the garden walk as the procession gathered in the arbor for the service. The six were Misses Betty Allen, Madeleine Gilbert, Marion Sheldon, Katharine Manerud, Frances Johnston and Genevieve Smith.
Miss Elizabeth Thatcher was bridesmaid for her sister, Mrs. Thatcher gave her daughter in marriage. Robert K. Allen was best man for Mr. Hall. The bride wore eggshell chiffon and carried a bouquet of the yellow Joanne Hill roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Elizabeth Thatcher wore a green chiffon and her flowers were Tullaghan roses and lavender sweet peas.
Following the wedding, a reception was held in the garden. Small tables and shade umbrellas dotted the lawn. The bride's table was set beneath the willow tree in one corner, and was decorated with a large bouquet of pink sweet peas and ocean spray.
Among out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. Hall's mother, Mrs. Ernest Fetsch of Lakeview, and Mr. Fetsch. Mr. and Mrs. Hall have gone to Astoria Beach for a few days and will return to Eugene for a week.

Women Hold Strong Political Influence In Democrats' Meeting

By MAXINE DAVIS
(United Press Correspondent)
CHICAGO, June 20.—(U.P.)—The women leaders in the anti-Roosevelt camp powdered their noses, arrayed themselves like the ladies of the field and set out today to seek whom they might devour in the way of delegates.
These women are not the conspicuous ones. They don't get any bouquets. They don't make second speeches. They're never members of committees to escort the chairman to the platform. Those are the tidbits they give away to make the girls feel good.
They are, on the contrary, women with real power. Not bosses, as yet, but they're on their way. In fact one of the most interesting developments of this democratic convention is the fact that for the very first time in national conventions of either major party some women are emerging as practical politicians. They know their way about, can trade, and promise, and deliver with the decision and reliability of experienced men.
Foremost among them is Florence Farley of Kansas, vice-chairman of the national committee. Young, engaging, acute, she can take defeat on the chin. Sooner or later her opponents are sorry they were so glib. She has political acumen, the result of her years of experience, with men and women. Both come for advice.
There is Bernice Pyke, of Ohio, white-haired, with peach-blossom skin and soft pastel frocks. She spoke in behalf of Jonett Shouse yesterday, pyrotechnics of a type in which she seldom indulges. She knows her state, and from her years on the national committee, she knows the party. She's for the Buckeye state's favorite son, George White,
