THERE is something divinely alluring about slir: white gown when the moon comes up and the orchestra finds a waitz. White knows how to be youthfully appealing at the same time that it looks sophisticated enough to know what the dance is about.

I took it upstairs with the other because I wanted to look over the pictures. The novel lay on the table beside me. At 1 o'clock I closed the "Wonder Book" my eyes. I had had the most tremendous kick I had known for weeks.

Nathaniel Hawthorne took some of the old Greek tales and turned them into the rattling best fairy tales imaginable. Now I began to see how it happened that heretofore when I couldn't remember the name of the beautiful winged horse, my children would condescendingly inform me that it was "Pegasus," and his rider "Bellerophon."

When I was hunting for the name of the garden that grew the famous golden apples of mythology to use one day in a figure of speech, a ten-year-old said scoffingly, "Huh, can't you remember that? Hesperides!"

And in this particular book they had learned things. And learned them so interestingly they can never forget. Yet, I began to think, there were other books, too. And today I went over the library dragging out everything I had ever given them.

I was surprised at the number of stories on mythology I found. I am not discounting books of I-I-entertainment, fairytales, or any proper thriller that gives them joy, but I do think it important always to include informative books of every variety.

Perhaps you are saying, "Of what use is dead and gone mythology anyway?" This! Every classic and book in the English language is packed with references to those old gods and goddesses and their adventures. And not only Greek and Roman ones either. Scandinavian and Teutonic mythology are the most interesting subjects in the world.

Three Will Give Informal Party On Friday

Honoring a group of out-of-town P. E. O. members and visitors, Mrs. C. W. Buckley, Mrs. S. M. Calkins, and Mrs. Harry G. Talbot are entertaining informally Friday afternoon at sewing and tea at the home of Mrs. Buckley.

The honor guests include Mrs. D. A. Moore, who is visiting from Hutchinson, Kan., with her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd A. Payne; Mrs. C. J. Schaefer and daughter who are here from Salt Lake City to visit with Mrs. Schaefer's sisters, Mrs. Ralph Osborn and Mrs. W. L. Seward; Mrs. Seward; Mrs. J. M. Randall, who is here from Seattle as guest of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas S. Wells; Mrs. Arthur Gray, who is here from the mid-west to visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. George I. Hurley; Mrs. Madge Calkins Hampton, who is here from Klamath Falls for the summer at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Calkins. Unaffiliated members of P. E. O. and members of Chapter AM are being invited to the party.

Westway Club Meets Wednesday

The monthly luncheon of the Westway club of the Women's Benefit association was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Harry S. Barlow and ten members and three guests attended. The visitors included Mrs. Homer, Mrs. Edith Rood and Mrs. Wade Palmer. Mrs. Claude Farrell of Casper, Wyoming, was received as a new member of the club.

At the business session following the luncheon, plans were made to change the date of meetings from the second and third Wednesdays to the second and fourth Tuesdays. The next meeting will be held August 23 at the county home of Mrs. Wade Palmer on rural route one. It will be a potluck affair. Cards were played late in the afternoon and prizes were won by Mrs. Lillian Wheeler and Mrs. Farrell.

Women's Golf Day Wednesday

Fifteen played in the special golf day event for women at the Country club Wednesday. A hickory handicap was played, Mrs. J. R. McKy winning first prize, Mrs. Todd Gardner, Mrs. Waldo J. Adams, and Mrs. Gene Shields winning second. Those playing were Mrs. McKy, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. White, Mrs. W. D. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Belden Babb, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Lynn S. McCready, Mrs. Edward R. Morris, Mrs. David B. Evans, Mrs. M. B. Dowd, Mrs. L. B. Sizgart, Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Donald Abel, with Mrs. John Bushman and sister, Miss Crissie Burlingame coming later for luncheon.

Next Wednesday the women will play to par, play to start at nine o'clock in the morning.

Plan Picnic

Chapter AM of P. E. O. Sisterhood is giving a picnic supper at Riverside park Thursday evening for members and families. Members of the group met during the afternoon, inviting the families in for the supper. Mrs. John Jay Rogers was chairman for the event.

TODAY'S RECIPES By SISTER MARY

DESSERTS come and go but ice cream continues to hold its place. Frozen desserts of all varieties always are greeted with pleasure and they are so easy to make that it seems advisable to use them in warm weather.

There are several types of freezers on the market and they all have their good points. Crank freezers, vacuum freezers, electric freezers and automatic refrigerators make it possible to produce excellent frozen desserts to suit every taste.

The crank freezer, whether it is turned by hand or electricity, makes ice cream mixtures with a curd base do not have quite the same velvety smoothness prepared in the vacuum freezer but the convenience of the freezer that needs no cranking appeals to many women and makes up for any slight difference in the texture of the ice cream.

Slow, steady freezing rather than much and vigorous stirring gives ice cream its smooth texture to a large extent. It is often hurried freezing instead of stirring or not stirring that is responsible for a coarse granular ice cream.

The smaller the amount of salt used in freezing a mixture the more velvety the texture, too. This, of course, lengthens the time required for freezing.

In the case of parfaits and mixtures ordinarily are allowed to stand frozen, the electric refrigerator is a perfect substitute for the freezer. However, a smooth ice cream cannot be obtained unless the recipe is adapted to this method of freezing. The addition of a small amount of gelatine helps to prevent the formation of crystals and frequent stirrings of the mixture as it freezes breaks up the ice flakes. Since milk contains water which naturally crystallizes when it freezes, mixtures containing a large amount of milk are inclined to be icy. Mousse and parfaits which contain a large percentage of cream are of perfect texture, but they are more expensive to make and are too rich for many persons.

Tomorrow's Menu BREAKFAST: Sliced apricots, corn beef hash with breakfast radishes, bran muffins, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Shrimp and pea salad, toasted muffins, baked apple dumplings, milk, tea. DINNER: Black beans baked in cream, browned sweet potatoes, spinach in lemon sauce, cucumber salad, chocolate ice cream, with mint sauce, cookies, milk, coffee.

Portlanders Stop Here For Visit Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Lawrence and daughter, Miss Huguette Lawrence, have been visiting here this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Chapman. They have just returned from a trip to the Panama canal, South America, and New York. Miss Jane Miner, formerly of Eugene, accompanied the visitors and is visiting Miss Betty Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and Miss Lawrence leave Friday for their home in Portland, Honoring Mrs. Lawrence and Miss Lawrence, Mrs. Harold Chapman entertained informally at tea Wednesday afternoon.

Former Residents To Be Honored On Friday

Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Wilkinson of Ames, Iowa, formerly of Eugene, are visiting here for over the weekend. Dr. Wilkinson was formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church here.

Honoring the visitors, Prof. and Mrs. E. E. DeCou are giving an informal garden tea at their home Friday afternoon. All old-time friends of Dr. and Mrs. Wilkinson are invited to attend the affair. During their stay in Eugene, the visitors are guests at the DeCou home.

Scouts Camps

GIRL SCOUTS CAMP, CLEAWOX —"I once saw the rings of Saturn through a microscope" was one of the comments of the scouts when they looked over to the ocean Tuesday evening.

The sun set behind a fog bank and the gorgeous oranges and reds faded gradually into the blue of the starry night that gave the scouts an excellent opportunity to study the various constellations.

Three counsellors, Beaver, Egores, and Bob-o-Link walked up the beach about a mile and a half searching for shells, but their only find was a bracing wind. Sheltered by a huge log and a sand dune, the scouts built a long fire; then they sang camp songs and later roasted marshmallows.

As the scouts prepared to return it was discovered that the fog had blotted out all the stars, and the wind had blown sand into the tracks made an hour and a half before.

The flashlight parade reminded one of ancient torchlights as they wended their way through the fog. Once they crossed their own tracks, proving the theory that a person travels in a circle.

After an hour's wandering in the wrong and right directions, Cleawox lake was sighted just as the fog broke and let the moon shine through. The scouts crossed the lake, very thrilled and very tired from the experience of being lost in the sand dunes.

Sunday several Eugene parents drove toward the coast, their cars loaded with camp baggage and eager Girl Scouts. The second week of Camp Cleawox is in session.

Today the bugle blew at nine-thirty o'clock for the first new classes. Each of the twenty-three girls enrolled in the class of her choice, and according to her scout rank.

The nature study class is conducted by Elaine Williams. The following girls are to be in her class for this week: Mildred Packard, Betty Sether, Geraldine Tripp, for nature badge; Jean Doris Griffith for second class.

Calendar

Thursday 5 p. m.—Initiation for Pi Lambda Theta at Gerlinger hall; followed by banquet at Howard's dining room.

8 p. m.—Recital of Hugh Miller and George Bishop, school of music.

nature study, and Sally Ray for tree study. Margery Thayer and Elizabeth Jones are teaching pioneering. The pioneers have planned an overnight hike in fulfillment of one of the requirements for the pioneer merit badge. Those enrolled are Margaret Ray, Ruth Meyers, Phoebe Breymann, Jean McLaren, Dorothy Burgess, and Ruth Younger.

The whole camp goes swimming, and the following special classes are being conducted: Intermediate, Leota McCracken, Dorothy Jane Dinsmore, Geraldine Tripp, Alice Nelson, Seclora Bond, Betty Sether, Ruth Younger, advanced, Dorothy Burgess, Jean McLaren, Jean Martin, Ruth Meyers, Louise Pursley, Maxine Horton, Edna Carlsen, Ruth Endicott, Phoebe Breymann, June Mills, Jean Taylor, Rhoda Armstrong, Mildred Packard.

At evening campfire the girls give plays, skits, and pantomime. Grace Burnett directs these, plus the program for the evening and conducts the general camp singing; sometimes she sings a solo, too. These girls are her actresses: Seclora Bond, Alice Nelson, Ruth Endicott, Edna Carlsen, Jean McLaren, and Rhoda Armstrong.

There is a mapping class, to make a map of the camp and some of the country around it. Ruth Martin is the teacher. Ruth Endicott, Jean McLaren, Rhoda Armstrong, Jean Taylor, and Edna Carlsen are in the class.

PRESERVING DELPHINIUM The Delphinium will keep through the winter if wood ashes are placed around it.

Alumnae Sponsor Picnic Event Wednesday

Fifteen attended the picnic supper given for Eugene Alpha Xi Delta alumnae Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lester Hufstader. The supper table was set beneath the trees in the yard. Two out-of-town alumnae were present: Mrs. Philip Pitman (Vivian Harper), Burns, Ore., who is visiting Miss Charlotte Winnard, and Mrs. William Troy (Ethelva Elkins), Portland, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Elkins.

The Eugene members attending were Miss Virginia Keeney, Mrs. Thomas S. Wells, Miss Edna Spenker, Mrs. Ted Mayes, Mrs. Albert Hansen, Mrs. Phil Nordling, Miss Lenora Castford, Miss Kathryn Blood, Miss Charlotte Winnard, Miss Lucy Norton, Miss Elise Schroeder, Mrs. George Reynolds, and Mrs. Hufstader.

Mrs. E. G. Boehnke entertained at a party Thursday afternoon to honor three children on the occasion of their birthdays. The honor guests were her son, Henry Lee, who was four years old Thursday; Jane Boehnke, a niece from Portland, who celebrated her birthday last Saturday; and Bobbie Nasholin, whose birthday was Tuesday of this week.

A group of twenty-four was invited. Mrs. B. J. Nasholin assisted the hostess.

Star Club Planning For Supper

The Star club of Blue River chapter, Order of Eastern Star will meet for a covered dish dinner Friday evening at six-thirty o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. B. Swango, one and one-half miles north of Coburg on the Brownsville road at the Wildrose Stock farm.

The dinner is for members of the club and their families and those attending are to bring a covered dish or salad and a few sandwiches. The committee in charge will furnish ice cream, cake and coffee. Mrs. Wayne Holbertson is chairman for the affair.
