"THIRD DEGREE" DEATH!

These four Nassau county, N. Y. police officers who took part in the questioning of Hyman Stark, suspected bandit, before he died of a fractured larynx, have been held on second degree murder charges. Left to right are Detective Harry Zander, Detective Leslie W. Pearsall, Lieut. Jesse Mayforth, and Detective Charles Wessler. Thirteen members of the force, under suspicion in connection with the prisoner's death, were charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice and seven were held on second-degree assault charges. Justice Meier Steinbrink described the case as "a shameful performance" and expressed the belief that Stark had died as a result of a beating he received at police headquarters.

city take the matter up again with the state highway commission.

Plans have been advanced several times for improving the appearance of the triangle, and last fall it was seeded down by the highway commission. Motorists did not give the grass a chance to grow, however, but continued to drive over and through the triangle.

It has been suggested that a curb be built around the triangle and shrubs and a lawn planted in it.
