

U.S. Expected To Take Olympic Team Title With Seconds And Third

SEVEN FIRSTS ARE HELD MAXIMUM OF AMERICAN ABILITY

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(AP)—The United States is again assured the team decision, on points, in the forthcoming Olympic track and field competition, but insofar as first places are concerned, representing the chief and only official awards recognized by the international games, your Uncle Sam expects to have his hands full from the outset.

Finland, Great Britain, Japan and Germany, with some scattered help from Italy, Poland and Czechoslovakia, will carry the main Olympic battle to the Americans, with the prospect they may upset some of the favored homebreds and contribute to a sensational series of performances.

Records to Fall
It will not be surprising to see Olympic records broken in 22 of the 23 track and field events and a new standard established in the remaining new event, the 50,000 meter walk. In practice or in national championship or tryout competition, they have all been surpassed by athletes assembled for the world championships here.

As many as a dozen world records also may tumble in this general attack on time, height and distance. The opening day's competitive prospects, this Sunday, furnish an idea of what the U. S. A. will be up against in meeting the challenges of the invading talent. Three finals are scheduled and of these only the high jump is conceded to America, with our three entries, led by George Saitz, outclassing all others.

The 10,000 meter run, first of the track events, will be a parade of the Finns. If Paavo Nurmi is reinstated and competes, along with his two young countrymen, Volmari Iso-Hollo and Lauri Viikari, their chief threat is the Polisher, Jan Kusocinski, who has a victory over Nurmi to his credit, but the Finns insist any one of their trio can shatter the world record, if necessary, to win. There isn't an American with a chance in this distance race.

Shotput Doubtful
The shotput, also to be decided on the first day, may be the first Olympic title lost by the United States, despite a strong defending entry, led by big Leo Sexton of New York, who has several times beaten the world record. The favorite now is Frantisek Rouda of Czechoslovakia who heaved the iron ball 53 feet 5 inches in practice yesterday, well beyond anything that either Sexton or Emil Hirschfeld of Germany has done. Hirschfeld holds the world mark of 52 feet 7 1/2 inches.

It's the same way right down the list of events covering the first eight days of Olympic competition in the big stadium where more than 100,000 can see the world's speediest, bravest and most agile athletes perform. Here's how the American coaches figure their prospects:

Sure winners—400 meters flat, pole vault and high jump.
Likely winners—100 and 200 meter dashes, discus, high hurdles.
Doubtful but with chance to win—800 and 1500 meter runs, 3000 meters steeplechase, shotput, broad jump, 400 and 1000 meter relays.

Weak—All distance races, including 5000 and 10,000 meters and marathon, 400-meter hurdles, hop, step and jump, hammer, javelin by comparison with Finns, decathlon and 50,000 meter walk.
Seven First With Luck
On this basis, the United States will be lucky to win seven first places, one less than was collected four years ago at Amsterdam. The Finns figure they are certain to capture at least six and if Ville Poriola continues to toss the hammer over 150 feet, as he did in practice yesterday, he may beat the Olympic champion, Pat O'Callaghan of Ireland.

By contrast with the last two Olympiads, the American sprint runners and hurdlers have come up to the games in top form, confident they will regain lost prestige. The national champion, Ralph Metcalfe, of Marquette, is regarded in all camps as the man to beat in both the 100 and 200 meter dashes, due to his unusual stamina as well as speed. His running mates are two seasoned campaigners, Eddie Tolan and George Simpson. They have high regard, however, for Percy Williams of Canada, the Olympic champion, as well as Arthur Jonathan of Germany.

The "best bet" to win, all factors considered are: Metcalfe in the 200 meters, Bill Carr, United States, in the 400 meters; Jack Keller, U. S., 110-meter hurdles; Lauri Lehtinen, Finland, 5000 meters; Bill Graber, U. S., pole vault; John Anderson, U. S., discus; Matti Jarvinen, Finland, javelin; and his brother, Akilles Jarvinen, decathlon. The Finns have three javelin tossers doing better than 200 feet.

THEY'LL DIVE FOR UNCLE SAM!

Here are three Los Angeles boys who will be in the high diving events at the Olympiad, having qualified at Pasadena recently. Left to right, they are Harold (Dutch) Smith, Frank Kurtz and Mickey Riley.

Nurmi, with the big "if" always attached, will be the choice in the classic marathon but you can't convince the Argentine delegation that their bright star, Juan Carlos Zabala, can be beaten. Zabala covered 22 miles in less than two hours in a workout this week and thinks he can cover the full marathon distance, 26 miles, 385 yards, in between 2:15 and 2:20 for a world record. But the boys will have to see it before they will believe Paavo can be trimmed.

Failed to reach his top form in the play at Wimbledon and against Germany in the interzone final last week-end.
Allison thus will play the same program as Cochet, two singles matches and one doubles, as he will pair with John Van Ryn against Cochet and Jacques Brugnon in the doubles play Saturday.
The draw assures a thrilling climax to the play on Sunday when Vines plays Cochet in the last match of the round. It is generally agreed Vines will beat Borotra tomorrow and Cochet will beat Allison.

REED WINS
PORTLAND, Ore., July 28.—(AP)—Robin Reed threw Bulldog Jackson out of three to win the main event of the weekly wrestling card here last night. Bo Campbell won his match from Doc Nelson by a fall in the fourth round after which Nelson was unable to return for the fifth.

SALEM BEATS CORVALLIS
SALEM, Ore., July 28.—(AP)—Salem Senators of the state league Wednesday defeated Corvallis Chicks a world record. Salem scored eight runs in the eighth.

Portland continued to set the pace in the Pacific Coast league today, climbing to a three game lead over the Hollywood Stars.

The Beavers won their second straight game from the Missions last night. Connecting with Briggs' offerings for 10 hits, they won 6 to 3. Meanwhile, Hollywood was dropping a slugfest to Seattle, 9 to 7. Yde slipped in the third inning to let the Indians drive in six runs and assume a lead that the Stars were unable to overcome.

Los Angeles drove in seven runs in the eighth to repulse Oakland, 8 to 1. Baecht and Thomas battled on even terms until the eighth when Thomas surrendered the mound to Joiner.

Four San Francisco hurlers failed to head off the hard hitting Sacramento Solons and the Seals lost, 9 to 5. It was Sacramento's second straight win over the Seals.

Only a few items of unfinished business remained for the coast college group to attend to, after two meetings yesterday which resulted in the adoption of the 1933 football program, reinstatement of two trial players of Oregon and Oregon State, and a definite stand on athletes participating in motion pictures.

The chief business as yet untended to was the reading of the report of Jonathan Butler, conference investigator. Faculty representatives refused to say whether this would take place today or be held over until the next mid-winter sessions. At any event Butler's findings, reported to be "interesting" will not be made public.

The reinstated athletes were John Biance, star Oregon State quarter-back, and Ted Giesecke, backfield player of Oregon. They were barred from competition for competing in soccer games last winter, but the faculty representatives declared that the violation of the conference code was only technical.

Athletes were given the permission to work in motion pictures only at the regular extra salary rates, but they were prohibited from allowing their names or pictures to be used in commercial advertising.

Other highlights of the meetings of the faculty and graduate managers were:

Permission was granted for broad-casting of football games for the 1932 season.

Reduced fees for football officials 20 per cent.

Granted news cameramen full privileges on the football field during games.

The council and rules committee of the N. C. A. A. meets at 2 p. m. today, with Col. John Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner the chief speaker. More than 100 delegates will gather for the convention, which has for its main topic informal discussion of radio broadcasting as concerning college athletics. A second session takes place tomorrow.

The match will be another of the open air affairs, with the admission remaining at the 40 cent summer rate.

EUGENE JUNIORS TO MEET 'POP' IN BENEFIT TUESDAY

Eugene's American Legion Juniors, quarter-finalists in the state championship baseball race, will play the Postoffice Pharmacy club of Portland, runners up to Lincoln in the Rose City Junior race, Tuesday afternoon at Reinhart field. The game will be called at five o'clock.

It will be Eugene's last chance to see the local club in action, and the turnout will decide whether or not the Juniors will be able to make the trip to Portland to play for the state title.

The Juniors, after their trip over the mountains to Klamath Falls, are on the short end of the financial scale, and it is up to local fans to insure their trip to the finals at Portland by coming out in force Tuesday afternoon. A nominal admission fee will be charged.

Coach Ray Murray has developed a powerful combination, as evidenced by the 21 safe blows they marked up in the last game with Klamath Falls, and a bang up game is in prospect. The Pharmacy club was tossed out by Lincoln 2 out of 3 games for the Portland title, and will probably be the strongest outfit the Juniors have faced this season.

Miller, ace chucker, will start for the Portlanders, and will be opposed by either Mercer or Guthrie for Eugene. Michaels, who flashed into the limelight with a win over Klamath Falls, will also take a turn on the mound.

The rest of the Legion lineup will be the same as usual, with the exception of Dick Wright, regular catcher, who sustained a broken finger at Klamath Falls, and a bang up game is in prospect. German Boxers Awarded Draw CHICAGO, July 28.—(AP)—Big blond Heinrich Kohlhaas, bred in Munster, occupied a place among Germany's fistie heroes today.

The Teuton Olympic boxing team lost four of the first seven matches against midwest amateurs fighting for Chicago in Soldiers Field last night. Then in the heavyweight class, last to be decided, Kohlhaas overwhelmed Duffy Dvorch, a sailor from the Great Lakes naval training station, and gained a draw for his country over the evening's route.

His victory kept Germany's slate in international matches clear of defeat. The Germans left today for Los Angeles to compete in the Olympics.

The invaders won the first three matches on points with Werner Spanagel, Hans Ziegler, and Josef Selekofker of Munich.

Henry Rothler, Molins, Ill. light-weight; Tony Sutton, Nichols, La. middleweight, and Adolph Waiter of Green Bay, Wis. light heavyweight, then outpointed their rivals. The home team took the edge when John Phagan, Chicago negro welter-weight, knocked out Eric Campe, a Berlin policeman, in the first round of their bout.

Interest has been steadily mounting among local wrestling fans as to the outcome of the match Friday night at the fair grounds, between Cyclone Mackey, the Galveston, Tex. sensation, and Eugene's own George "Wildcat" Pete. While Mackey has been highly hounded and a good many fans are counting on him to take the Wildcat, there is a good deal of Pete money in sight, and the boys will probably enter the ring even out.

Herb Owen, promoter, was out of town late Thursday, lining up the special event. As yet, no announcement has been made concerning it, but Owen has promised that it will match the main bout in thrills and fast wrestling. The special event boys will be announced in Friday's Register-Guard.

A record crowd for the summer months is anticipated, particularly in view of the interest shown in the Pete-Hill match last week. Hill "went over" in a big way, and most of his followers will be out to check up on the promoter's promise that the Mackey match will outclass the Hill tussle.

GIESECKE, BIANCONE ARE REINSTATED BY CONFERENCE RULING

PASADENA, Cal., July 28.—(AP)—Faculty representatives of the Pacific Coast Conference in final session here today moved over to make room for the opening meeting of the National Intercollegiate Athletic association.
