

GOD'S LEADERSHIP HELD ESSENTIAL

Pointing out the consequences of rejecting God's leadership in the affairs of life, Rev. Frank S. Heistel chose for his sermon subject "Scrapping the Old Car" at the morning service at the United Lutheran church Sunday. Rev. Heistel used the text: Luke 19:41, 44. "And when He came near, He beheld the city, and wept over it. . . . Because thou knowest not the time of thy visitation."

His sermon in part followed: "Perhaps this rather unusual subject for a serious sermon will bring forcibly to your mind, in the language of our text, the consequences of rejecting God's leadership in the affairs of life. The text tells that Jesus, late in his ministry, wept as he looked over the magnificent capital city of Jerusalem because it was destined for destruction, and its people slaughtered within its broken walls. I've called it, "Scrapping the Old Car" because we are rather familiar with the experience of seeing old cars whose rattling frames and sporting engines proclaim their near approach to the graveyard.

"Jerusalem, glorious when promoting the worship and religious life of the Hebrew people, lost its spiritual realities and in their places appeared lifeless formalism, promoted with fanatical zeal by its priesthood. Jesus had come to give new life and greatly enlarged meaning to its every form and to bestow on its inhabitants the great spiritual realities of which sacrifice and temple service were only symbols. The leaders closed their eyes against His message, refused the blessing He would bestow, drew away their spotted garments from His purity, and plotted for His death. What's the use for further patience? Jerusalem, under such spirit, could no longer be the center and the Hebrews no longer the chosen people thru which Christ could establish among men of all the world a spiritual kingdom. The old car was of no more use and the weeping Saviour sadly announced its doom.

"Thus is the way of life. God's world moves forward ever unimpeded by the blindness and follies of men. If this city, this nation, this denomination, this individual refuses His message, neglects His means of grace, and declines the leadership of the divine spirit in unfolding God's kingdom, any or all of them, like the old car in the vacant lot, will be set aside.

Oh man, Oh woman, the same all-knowing Christ sits at the border of your life and looks it over. Even as He had a purpose for Jerusalem and cast it off, so He has a plan for you to serve His kingdom. Your social graces, your polished manners, your intellectual culture and your accumulated wealth will not prevent a just appraisal of your life and your rejection if His purpose has not been served by you. The day your visitation is now at noon-time, but the evening will come. Shall Jesus weep at your fall?"

Oakway Tournament Competition Is Keen

Help in Canning Program Is Urged

Residents of Eugene and vicinity are urged by Mary Annin, executive secretary of the Lane county Red Cross, to make use of the county's portable cannery while it is stationed in Riverside park behind Skinner's butte this week and help push forward the county's relief program.

Persons who have raised beans and are willing to have them picked on a share basis by those enlisted for help with the Red Cross are asked to report to the Red Cross authorities. Many pickers are available to pick the beans for a share of the crop. The same plan is being applied to the picking of other vegetables and fruits.

Housewives who are canning for winter supply may have a dozen fruit jars from the Red Cross office for three full quart jars of fruit. This plan will encourage canning and also raises supplies for needy families.

The Red Cross is starting to make clothes coats ready for needy youngsters who will be in school this winter. Persons who have garments suitable for school wear are requested to leave them at the Red Cross office or notify the office and have them mailed for.

Grocers to Pick Officers Monday

Retail grocers will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the chamber of commerce to compare notes on the Sunday closing agreement which went into effect this week. Earl Baldwin, temporary president of the Eugene retail grocers association stated Monday that many grocers reported to him that they enjoyed their first day of rest in years. Many went on picnics, rusty fishing poles were brought out of the back room and many moth eaten lathing suits were patched up for service again. There was universal hope that customers would cooperate in buying their requirements on Saturdays so the Sunday closing could be maintained.

Principal business scheduled for the Monday evening meeting is the selection of permanent officers for the association. The picnic committee will also report, giving information as to the place selected for the picnic, the entertainment events, prizes and other details. All grocers have been notified to attend and assist in completing organization details.

Man and Wife Hurt In Car Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schantz of Springfield were severely injured when their car overturned on the McKenzie highway a short distance below the Sparks ranch at Blue River Sunday afternoon.

They were driving down the highway when the car struck some loose gravel and crashing into a high bank on a curve, turned over on its side. Passersby assisted the couple out of the wreck and took them to the Pacific Christian hospital in an ambulance. Dr. E. L. Zimmerman of Eugene, who was at the Boy Scout camp a few miles above there, was called and attended their injuries. Later they were brought to the Pacific Christian hospital in an ambulance. Both were badly cut and bruised on the head and shoulders but will recover, Dr. Zimmerman says.

CONGRESS DANCES UNIQUE FILM DRAMA

Something new and different, a charming new star in the person of Lillian Harvey of Vienna, and wholly delightful music mark the United Artists Production "Congress Dances," which was previewed Sunday night at the Colonial theater. The picture, which has broken attendance records in Berlin, Paris and London, will come to the Colonial for its opening Northwest showing four days starting Wednesday.

The picture tells the story of the Congress in Vienna back in the time of Napoleon, when the fate of this great general hung in the balance. It gives a new insight into history, has an absorbing romance, and a unique way of presentation.

The picture differs markedly from American productions, and is the type that will appeal to those who prefer the better things in the cinema. Well-rated four stars by Liberty and highly praised by critics, it will, as one critic says "honor the children." Those who like lots of violent action and "mellerdrammer" thrills will also probably be disappointed in it.

The cast includes, besides the attractive and talented Lillian Harvey, Conrad Veidt, one of Europe's greatest actors; Harry and Henry Garat and many others.

Elaborate preparations for added attractions with "Congress Dances" are being made by the Colonial, and the four days of this first run promise to be among the outstanding of the season.

Liberty Party Has Rally Here Sunday

Lane county members of the Liberty party recently organized in Oregon held a rally Sunday at Riverside park. A large crowd was present at the mass meeting and plans for an active campaign in the coming election were laid.

Eugene has one of the first "chapters" of the party in the state. Members and friends of the party here heard Dr. H. I. Cummings and Dr. S. T. Urling of Portland, Dr. Cummings is the chairman of the party in Oregon and is also a national committee man. W. J. Butler of Coos Bay, a candidate for congress on the party's ticket, spoke also.

The meeting started at 10 o'clock and lasted through the morning and afternoon. Picnic lunches were served.

ARMOR PATROL STILL MAINTAINED

Six armed national guardsmen were kept at the Eugene armory Monday by officers of the guard as a precautionary measure during reports of communistic activity through Oregon.

An officer said the guard would be taken off Tuesday. He stated that the guardsmen had expected communists might congregate Monday in an "anti-war" day and stage a demonstration. Nothing had happened late Monday afternoon.

Armories in other cities in Oregon have been protected by armed guards night and day since Saturday.

MISS LUCY NORTON SPEAKS TO KIWANIS

Miss Lucy Norton, professor of history at New York state normal, Oswego, New York, was the speaker for the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club Monday noon at the Osburn hotel. Miss Norton has traveled in Europe with the Sherwood Eddy seminar and spoke on her observations abroad with particular reference to Russia.

She spoke of the wonderful resources in Russia such as minerals and waterways and explained what the five year plan is attempting to do. She asserted that Americans living abroad are anxious that this country should recognize Russia as the United States can benefit greatly commercially by opening an outlet for the products we have which Russia can use.

J. O. Holt and Rev. Cecil F. Riester were selected as delegates to the Pacific northwest district convention to be held in Bellingham, Washington, August 21, 22 and 23. Alternates are Hal Houser and Claud R. Gray.
