

OREGON LOGGERS ON TWICE WEDNESDAY FOR FAREWELL PARTY

Everything is all set for a great night at the Colonial Wednesday night. The seven members of this famous group of entertainers promise the best show of their career as a group will carry this unique organization to all parts of the country.

The loggers will be presented twice during the evening, due to popular demand. They will make their first appearance at 7:30 and their second at 9:15. Instead of but once as previously announced.

The feature picture that will be presented is "Dancers in the Dark," an irrepressible, grinning Jack. The picture is a comedy that entered around life in night life—a type of entertainment in contrast to that offered by the loggers, outdoor Oregon Loggers.

Cliff Chase comedy, "Tobacco and a news reel completes the evening, which is expected to be one of the outstanding shows of the year.

Call It Dancin'? They Shake A Foot Down In Arkansas

By RICHARD JOHNSTON

That isn't the way they do it, down in Arkansas. No, sir, you bet. They shake a foot down there.

The gentleman in the overalls was speaking. It was at Eugene street, dancing the other night. He was a portly man, and his red face beamed in the hot summer night. Blue eyes twinkled from below a battered black hat, as he swayed to the moanings of the dance band. As the couples shuffled past, whirling and walking in the celebrated rat race, he continued his comments.

"Call that dancin'? Not much. Huh? Da you, Slim? Say, you've never seen 'em shake it up down in that ole Mississippi country. It's a great country, Slim. They pick up their feet down there, and when they bring 'em down, you can hear 'em. Yeah, you bet.

"How's the soles on your shoes, Slim? Good and solid? Need 'em rubbed down a bit? That's the way to do it. Wear out your soles in no time out there. You don't dance that way where I come from. No, sir. Down in Arkansas, they shake them feet. Say, I've seen 'em dance till they shook the peas out of the bottle on the kitchen range. Sure, you bet. That's the way they dance down there.

"Say, if they started to dance this way down there, they'd send 'em out to cultivate the Gopher peas, you bet. Right out in the patch, and let 'em shuffle it up. Yeah, That's what they'd do. You bet.

"When you have an earthquake out here, it's no internal disturbance. No sir. They're just beginning to shake it up down in Arkansas. That's all it is, Yeah. They move their feet down there. And when they bring them down the

SCOUTS ARE BUSY WITH MERIT WORK

CAMP LUCKY-BOY, Blue River, Aug. 10.—The projected advancement work of Scouts at Camp Lucky Boy is being finished more rapidly than was expected and most of the boys are doing additional work.

Due to the greater amount of personal attention the leaders are able to give to Scouts in their test work, more is being done this period than either of the other two. Those completing tests in the last few days are: Alfred Tingle, carpentry and zoology; Jerry Ranz, carpentry and forestry; Fergus Wood, reptile study and zoology; Carl Merryman, marksmanship; Bill Adams, cooking and life saving; Bob Booth, farm home; Howard Cameron, handicraft; Don MacLaren, pathfinding and forestry; David French, forestry; Roald Hanson, farm layout; Junior Romane, leathercraft; Rex Faust, zoology; James Edwards, farm layout; Junior Runk, farm layout; and Donald Thornton, first class tests.

The weather today was a little rainy, but this did not affect the camp program in the least. The advancement classes went ahead with their usual work. The handicraft lodge, being under the large trees, was not reached by the rain and so work in this department went along very well.

The council fire which was planned for last evening had to be called off as every one adjourned to the dining hall where a very interesting program was held. Several short tales were told and some of the cabins presented stunts. A tumbling act was put on by the camp leaders. Variety was given to the program by singing and phonograph music.

President Welcomes Loan Board Members

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—President Hoover today welcomed the five members of the new home loan discount bank board and expressed hope for their success in stimulating home construction.

"God bless you and good luck," said the president with a bow and a smile as he left the five men on the south lawn of the executive mansion after posing with them for photographs.

Franklin Fort, chairman of the board, and their visit to the White House merely was to report to Mr. Hoover they had "gotten on the job and were ready to begin work."

One Smoker tells Another

IT is perfectly natural for smokers to talk to each other about what they smoke and why they smoke a certain brand. Tastes differ, and therefore different people smoke different kinds of cigarettes. Those who smoke CHESTERFIELDS seem to take more pride in telling other smokers — "that CHESTERFIELDS are milder; that there is no harshness — no bitterness." They also tell them — "that CHESTERFIELDS taste better; that they have a pleasing aroma." . . . CHESTERFIELDS are clicking with millions.
