

PAVING WORK PROGRESSES FAST

WALTERVILLE, Aug. 11.—(Spe.)—Work on the top dressing of the McKenzie highway is progressing rapidly and the men are now starting in the Walterville district, having reached a point at a point a half and a half on Wednesday morning and stop at eight in the evening. Pilot cars take the traffic off the new road or by detours several minutes while cars arrive. George Momb with a crew of eight men are working on the road. Several men are working in this vicinity are working with their shovels and are stacking the dressing ready for the machine. Mrs. Ellen Vaughn is visiting this week with her son, Ed Vaughn and went into Springfield. She went down on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Vaughn and wife were on the McKenzie last Sunday and went into the hills for the weekend. The members of the Rebekah lodge were present for the lodge session. Mrs. A. K. Jennings, Mrs. W. W. Page, Mrs. O. L. Stacy, Mrs. C. C. Puley, Mrs. Lulu Rev. Mrs. Richard Hart, Mrs. Everett Weir, Mrs. Clarence Potter, Ted Magnus, Mrs. Emma Hager and daughter, June, who was expected to spend the week in Creswell, Eugene and Walterville, were detained at their homes in Ashland because of the very serious illness of Mrs. Hager's son, Harry Hansen. Mr. Hansen had an attack of appendicitis the first of the week and until he is able to be out again the visit will be postponed. Mr. Hansen lives in Medford. Twelve members of the local Neighborhood of Woodcraft motored to Springfield Wednesday evening where they visited the Springfield Neighbors. Thirteen were present from Coberg and 14 from Creswell besides over 50 of the members from the Springfield lodge. The neighboring lodge had been invited to visit the Springfield lodge that night. A fine program was rendered and afterwards the time was spent in games and visiting with refreshments served at a late hour. Those going in from here were Mr. and Mrs. Matt Emmerick, Mrs. Ed Scherling, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fountain, Ervin Fountain, Jesse Scherling, Anna McArthur, Gail Easton, Ned Morris, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Easton, Frank Emmerick was a guest at supper of the lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Wess Potter and sons of Eugene were at the Z. C. Potter home Wednesday evening. Several of the relatives living at Walterville motored to Springfield Wednesday afternoon to visit Elliot Potter who has been very ill the past few weeks with an infected finger and amputation of the finger. Mr. Potter is reported much better than at this time last week. He is still at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. J. Irvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore and son Francis of the Walterville power plant wear campers on the upper McKenzie the last of last week.

SCRUBWOMAN NOW AT PEACE, ALONE

GRAND ISLE, La., Aug. 12.—(AP.)—The scrub woman of the middle west who pointed the nose of her skirt down the Mississippi river and roved away from civilization, has cast her lot here with the descendants of the pirate Jean Lafitte—and she likes it.

Rauldi Lerchl has found the peace she sought. To the natives of French, Spanish, German and other extractions, she is the "mystery woman." When she arrived three months ago, they welcomed her with their frugal hospitality but she would have none of it.

"I want to be left alone," she said. And she has been left alone.

The U. S. coast guard station has added her to its guarding duties. She first anchored a stone's throw from where Jean Lafitte and his crew once moored the fleet that preyed upon Spanish galleons. The coast guard towed her into the sheltered waters of Bay Des Battes and anchored her craft, the "Wanderer," in the quiet waters back of this island. Here she has stayed in the Gulf of Mexico's hot sun and soft breezes which once she said she hoped would bring relief to a back bent from miles of floors scrubbed clean. That she has found the land of her dreams and is vouched for by John Ludwig, whose old store is the island's postoffice, and Captain Martin Anderson, head of the coast guard. Her skiff is secured to the life boat which New Orleans sympathizers gave her. A canvas cabin protects her from the rain. Therein she defies any breach of the privacy she demands. And the natives respect her wishes.
