

FOREST HAS $9450 MORE FOR PROGRAM IN LANE COUNTY

The Cascade national forest has been allotted $9,450 for forest improvements in addition to the $24,000 for roads, Foster Steele, assistant supervisor, announced Wednesday.

The money will be spent on construction of telephone line, lookout houses, firemen's cabins, ranger's residence, fire storage building, purchase of a new fire truck and other improvements.

Mr. Steele said $5,000 of the new allotment will be spent at McKenzie Bridge, where a ranger's residence, bunkhouse, and a barn will be built and the water service improved.

New lookout houses will be built at He-He mountain, Sardine butte, Holland Meadows, Eagle's Rest, Pack Saddle mountain and Hemlock mountain.

Firemen's cabins will be built at the West Boundary and McKenzie Bridge ranger stations and the Scott Lake and Walker Creek guard stations.

A new 2 1/2-ton fire truck and other fire equipment will be purchased and stationed at Salmon Creek station.

The McKenzie telephone line between McKenzie Bridge and the Cascade summit will be rebuilt and placed along the McKenzie highway.

Construction on the projects will be started as soon as plans can be drawn and the materials taken to the work. Workmen will be taken from the lists of county relief agencies, Mr. Steele said.

WHEREAS, the taxpayers of Oregon have spent approximately eight million dollars ($8,000,000.00) to erect buildings to be used for higher educational purposes in the cities named above, and

WHEREAS, a large number of working men own their homes in the various cities where these schools of higher education are now located, a large per cent having settled in those communities for the purpose of giving their children the advantage of the schooling facilities there located, and

WHEREAS, that if this so-called Zorn-Macpherson bill should become a law, it would work an irreparable amount of damage and loss to the working people in these communities who would have no way of securing redress for their losses, and

WHEREAS, the real parties behind the bill have for reasons of their own withheld their identity and by doing so created a mystery which leaves the underlying reason for the consolidation much in doubt, and

WHEREAS, the labor movement should never be permitted to become an instrument in the hands of those whose purposes and interests are not clear and open to public inspection,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this convention go on record as unalterably opposed to this consolidation bill, and we instruct our president and secretary to forward copies of this resolution to every union in the state of Oregon, urging them to do their utmost to defeat this type of legislation.

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Pushing their business meetings at all speed in an attempt to be able to adjourn by Friday noon, as planned, the State Federation of Labor, in annual convention here, today undertook to clear a great volume of unfinished business and to dispose of an abundance of resolutions.

The only resolution that had been acted upon when the morning session convened today was the one opposing the Zorn-Macpherson school merger bill. This was opposed by an overwhelming vote late yesterday.

Several new resolutions were on hand when the meeting convened today. Included among them were the following:

Demanding that all state work done be paid for at union scales on a six-hour-day basis.

Favoring exemption from taxation of small homes and farms and substitution of higher corporate and private income taxes and higher inheritance taxes.

Supporting the referred bill for tax on oleomargarine; lending assistance of state federation to passage of state civil service law.

Demanding 75 cents an hour as minimum wage scale for all men handling mechanical tools on state bridge work.

Approving plans for construction of timber bridges on Oregon Coast highway with funds borrowed from government.

Local Firm Plans For City Directory

Plans for a new city directory to be ready about Nov. 1 have been made by the Korstad Direct Mail Service, a local firm located at 1142 Seventh avenue west. The project has the approval of the merchants' division of the chamber of commerce, the Junior chamber of commerce and the Business and Professional Women's club.

Work will begin on the directory about Oct. 1 and will include the names of those who come here for the school year. It is also planned to keep the list of names up-to-date and information will be available for merchants at the office of Korstad's Service. Local help will be employed.

Warren Korstad and his wife, Mrs. Julia Korstad, owners of the institution, have been residents of the city for many years and have been operating their establishment for about a year.

"Split Salaries" No Alibi For Congressional Grafters

By RAYMOND CLAPPER... (United Press Staff Correspondent) (Copyright, 1932, by United Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A law against salary splitting or subletting of jobs has been called up to confront congressmen who have been explaining to their constituents that although they listed wives, children, in-laws and absentees on the congressional payroll, the money actually went to others who were doing the work.

More than 100 congressmen revealed as employing relatives, many facing hard fights to retain their seats have protested that the family names were listed merely as a convenience and the salaries actually paid to working clerks.

Rep. McSwain, Dem., S. C., is being strongly criticized in his primary race for carrying on his payroll a young man who was attending the University of South Carolina. His answer was that while the young man was absent at school, his work here at Washington was done by others.

"Every voucher drawn in his name and endorsed over by him was expended in the hiring of other stenographers and typists to do the work that he would have done if he had been present," McSwain stated in an advertisement explaining his case. He said he was proud to have helped the young man get an education.

However, his political opponents are citing a law passed in 1901. It appears in the United States code annotated, title 2, as follows:

"Sec. 87: Division of salaries of employees of house of representatives: It shall not be lawful to appoint or employ in any position under the house of representatives more than one person at any one time, or to require or permit any such person to divide with another any portion of his salary or compensation while so employed.

"Sec. 87: Subletting of duties of employees of house of representatives forbidden: It shall not be lawful to require or permit any person in the employ of the house of representatives to sublet to another the discharge of any portion of the duties of the position to which he is appointed.

Rep. Nelson, Dem., Mo., in a political advertisement just before his primary defeat, declared the name of his father-in-law had been carried on the payroll but that every dollar so collected was "placed in the clerk's ship fund to be drawn upon to pay others."

Rep. Hall, Dem., Miss., in an open letter on the eve of his primary race, declared his son had "received the salary of $325 per month out of which he compensated other office help."

Rep. Turpin, Repn., Pa., who carries his wife on his payroll, explained that he often had to hire numerous assistants to mail out literature. Writing an open letter to newspapers in his district, he explained: "It was suggested to me by officials here in Washington that, because of the unusual amount of clerical work necessary from a district as large as mine, the assistant secretary's (salary) be drawn in the name of some member of my family (after which I might sub-divide it as required, this being legal)."

Numerous others are using similar excuses.

weight for milk, compared with a previous top of $1.15, while at Lincoln milk dealers agreed to pay $1.80, an increase of 40 cents.

More than 1000 agriculturists were camped along the main highways leading into Omaha, but there were reports that some of the picketers were in dispute as to the best method of enforcing the farmers' holiday.

Hog receipts at 21 concentration points and seven packing plants in the interior of Iowa and southern Minnesota were 12,300 yesterday, an increase of 2000 over the same day a week ago.

Although the strike appeared to weaken in some sections the possibility loomed that the strikers might add two vitally important sectors to their warfare. Wisconsin dairymen are to meet at Marshfield, Sept. 2 to decide whether they will join the strike, and Minnesota milk producers will gather at Farmington, Minn., Saturday to pass on the same question.

Tear gas came into use at Council Bluffs, Ia., last night when sheriff's deputies employed them to scatter a crowd of 1000 farm strikers and spectators, who were blocking a highway. Each truck enroute to market was given a deputy escort and no violence resulted.

Other developments were: At Cherokee, Ia.—Plymouth and Woodbury county farmers cooperated in enforcing a strict blockade of Cherokee.

Thurston county, Nebraska, farmers decided to picket all railroad stations and stockyards in their immediate vicinity.

A unit of the farmers' holiday association was formed at Windom, Minn., by 2000 farmers.

In Blackhawk county in northwest Iowa Sheriff H. T. Wagner refused to allow picketing. One farmer was hurt when a truck went through the picket lines.

One striker, William Norman, was arrested at Spencer, Ia., on a charge of obstructing a highway.

No action was taken, but federal authorities at Omaha kept under consideration the question of prosecuting for any act which could be classed as restraint of trade, and police officers there were organizing, in preparation for swift punishment for any violence committed.

In climbing down, he caught his foot, fell eight feet and injured his back.

ILLINOIS MINE STORY

"Strike" leaders declared would swell to 2,000 vehicles carrying 25,000 men.

1,000 Deputies Armed
Meanwhile in Benton, county seat of Franklin county, Sheriff Browning Robinson marshalled approximately 1,000 special deputies. He detailed several hundred armed men as an advance guard to proceed to the Jefferson-Franklin county line.

"No strikers are coming into Franklin county," Sheriff Robinson told his men. "You keep them out."

The men stood, grim, their rifles, shotguns and revolvers loaded, waiting orders.

In mines in the county they guarded several thousand miners hoisted coal under the $5 a day wage protested by the invaders.

Guard Officers Arrive
Adj. Gen. Carlos Black arrived with four officers of the Illinois national guard and called sheriffs and state's attorneys from Franklin and Williamson counties to a conference at Benton.

It was reported Governor Louis L. Emmerson had dispatched the officers as observers.

Thousands of wives, mothers, sisters and children of the invading picket caravan lined the streets of Staunton cheering as the men started.

Marching orders were given by Arthur Hughes, strike leader.

"If you have to fight, men," he said, "use your fists."

Hughes said none of his force had weapons and that a "peaceful march" was hoped for.

FAUST SELECTIONS TO FEATURE CONCERT

Featuring a group of selections from the opera "Faust," and the "Poet and Peasant" overture by Suppe, this week's concert by the Odd Fellows band at the city park Friday evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock, will mark the high spot in the summer's program of band concerts, according to those in charge of the event.

The baritone solos in the overture will be played by Lloyd Dinshaw with Bill Boyle playing the cello obligato. Other soloists to be featured in the concert are J. R. Keefe, tuba; Violet Nelson, saxophone; and Boyle, cornet. Frank M. Spicer is director of the band.

The selections from "Faust" are among the most difficult pieces included in band arrangements and call for closeness of phrasing and accurate timing throughout, Spicer declares. Selections will include "Kernesse," the familiar "Waltz," and the "Song of the Calf of God," by Mephistopheles. Faust's most important solo, "All Hall Thon Dwellings," from the second act, will be given and the prison scene from act five with the trio Marguerite, Faust and Mephistopheles will climax the presentation. The trio parts will be taken by Boyle, cornet; Denalow, clarinet; and John Steh, French horn.

The complete program will be announced Thursday.

Old Gold CIGARETTES
NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD

THE VERDICT OF SCIENCE
This is to certify that in 75 repeated tests made of four leading cigarette brands... measuring the heat content of each cigarette by the Calorimeter method... it was shown that OLD GOLD is from 112 to 156 B. T. U.'s COOLER than the other brands. Careful measurement of the heat of the smoke further confirmed the fact that the smoke of OLD GOLD is definitely cooler.

Signed: NEW YORK TESTING LABORATORIES
G. Brinton Jack, Jr., Director

NO MATTER how high you climb, or how far you go... you can't lose the cigarette ads. Each brand never stops trailing you in its pleasant effort to win you over.

For our part, we say: "If you thoroughly enjoy the brand you're smoking, STICK TO IT. All modern cigarettes are good."

On the other hand, if you truly want to know the cigarette of finest inherent quality, let's dismiss the usual cigarette claims... and look for the actual evidence!

Here's the impartial testimony of Science: In 75 laboratory cigarette tests, checked and verified by scientists of two leading universities, OLD GOLD was found to be the coolest and throat-easiest cigarette.

OLD GOLD won these tests because it is made of the PUREST and choicest tobacco... free of all hot-burning artificial flavorings. That's the "why" of "not a cough in a carload." That's the why of O. G.'s greater taste appeal, and throat-ease.
